STOMACH TROUBLE

Mr. Marion Holcomb, of Nancy, Ky., says: "For quite a long while I suffered with stomach trouble. I would have pains and a heavy feeling after my meals, a most disagreeable taste in my mouth. If I ate anything with butter, oil or grease, I would spit it up. I began to have regular sick headache. I had used pills and tablets, but after a course of these, I would be constipated. It just seemed to tear my stomach all up. I found they were no good at all for my trouble. I heard

Pigeon training has become an in-eresting as well as valuable activity in the new army of the United States Pigeon lofts are maintained at many of the army camps and aviation fields throughout the country. Each loft is numbered fust as every air squadron and every regiment of infantry, cavalry and artillery is numbered. The birds are taken over by the govern-ment before they are old enough for raw recruits; are fed and conditioned to make them strong, and then are given a course of training just as are

When the training of these young pigeons is completed they go over-seas, the same as the soldiers. The birds play their part on the battle line, are killed and wounded, and some are taken prisoner, but like the horses and dogs with which they serve in the great war, they are never decorated, never cited for bravery in action and never appear in the reports of casual-

Two of the flying centers where pigeons are specially trained are Kelly and Carruthers fields in Texas. Not fewer than 75 pigeons are sent overmonths old and are trained by ts over a period of six to eight reeks before they are considered fit for duty. The lofts are mobile, cor responding to those in use in France, and when the training of the birds is finished at Kelly field they are ready to go directly to the trenches.

The first period of advanced training of these pigeons comes with flock toss-ing, after they have learned to return to their lofts when liberated at dis tances of from two to twenty miles from the field. That is, they are set free in groups to prevent their being confused and consequently separated and lost. As soon as they have been liberated several times in this manner and have found their way home again they are taken out and tossed indi vidually. Each pigeon has a number and by bell devices at the entrance of the coop, their arrivals and the time of their flights are kept on record. As soon as a bird shows unfailing ability to return home quickly he is ready for service overseas. A white flag is the signal most commonly used for training these messen ger birds. They soon learn that when this white flag is raised over their lofts they are to stay away for exercise, and when the flag comes down they may return for their food. On some fields, when the birds stray a considerable distance from their loft, they are called back by the rattling of a tin pan To help the pigeons recognize their cotes the latter are painted in yellow and white stripes. No matter where a pigeon from Carruthers field is taken thereafter or in what direction, it will not alight on any building except its own loft, which means, of course, that own loft, which means, of course, that wherever the pigeons go, the loft from which they were trained goes with them. It is only recently that the use of pigeons as messengers has been attempted from airplanes. The birds when used for this purpose are carried in baskets in the fuselage and great care must be exercised in releasing them to prevent the propeller blades. them to prevent the propeller blades from striking them. "In order that the Sunday school may do its most effective work it is imperative that its officers and teachers thoroughly understand the situa-tion. It is as imperative that they be trained as it is that the officers of our armies should be trained. The teachers must understand the idealism for they may be best able to rebuild a world. They must know how to teach the children most effectively how to live in these war times.

"The thirty denominations compos ing the Sunday school council of the United States and Canada have invited all others to co-operate with them in a great teacher training drive to be conducted during the months of September and October. They invite you to participate in this great effort. and invite the people of North Caro lina to take part in this important work, and do hereby set apart Sun-day, the 29th day of September, 1918, as Teacher Training Day.

Miss Lena Strayhorn, 18, lied at 2 o'clock this morning from a bullet wound in her forehead caused by a bullet fired from a .32 caliber pistol in the hands of Wesley Vick-ers, a 14-year-old boy. Miss Brunella reer is suffering from severe injuries that resulted when she was run down by a bicycle, and Walter Umstead and Miss Lucille Umstead are recovering from injuries suffered when a horse they were driving became frightened and ran away. Joseph Manning, an utomobile traveling salesman, and Robert Morton, a local chauffeur, are ooth suffering from injuries received in the same accident which caused the death of Mr. Mangum.

The automobile accident occurred early in the morning. The automobile n which the three men were riding passed Patrolman Joe Shipp on the Holloway street beat, going at a rapid rate of speed. A few second later, the officer heard a crash and saw the ma chine turn turtle. Mangum's skull was rushed. With Manning and Morton t was found upon examination that is injuries were not serious, although Manning is confined to the hospital.
