MYSTERY SHIP WAS GREATEST U-BOAT SINKER

Tramp, With Hidden Guns, Deadly to Subs.

CREWS HAD TO WORK HARD

Men Had to Be Actors as Well as Sailors to Get Their Prey—Business Was to Lure German Submarine From Depths to Position Where It Could Be Destroyed by Guns Concocted on Mystery Ship.

The "Q" boat, Britain's great "Hush Hush," or mystery ship, that was responsible for the sinking of more German submarines than any other device ever attempted, has just made a demure appearance in the London docks.

London's "Q" boat is one of the actual band of blood brothers which rolled and reeled around the storm seas, wallowing fendishly down the waves, looking, asking and praying for trouble of the first water; trouble with a shining horror of a tin-fish as the beginning and the end of it.

First, the mystery commander talked about his early days when the mystery service was in its infancy, two or three years ago, and of hopes deferred and disappointments. One day, aunting in the Irish sea, he saw a fat old tramp torpedoed without the submarine appearing, and soon afterward he saw a three-masted coaster go down—but still no luck.

Gets His Big Idea. "If I could get a little ship like that," he thought, "I might get my stride all right."

"It was near the Lizard in an awful southwest gale when I got to know that a sub was near by, a torpedo passing right under the engine room, too deep to touch the ship."

The next incident was of the French coast near the Channel Islands, when he heard that a submarine was about and saw two French air-planes dropping bombs.

In this special service, it must be noted that the first of all to be torpedoed, and the officers and men take their chances of death and wounds before they can break their silence or strike a blow.

Show Good Acting. The wounded were put in safe places in the 'tween decks and the "abandon ship" party ordered into the boat. This is a curious act in the tragedy-comedy of the mystery ship.

Wood Produces Quick Heat and is Cheaper Than Coal. Farmers who own woodlands and people in cities, towns and villages who can purchase wood from nearby farms can help this winter—as last winter—to relieve the demand for coal and the strain on railway capacity by burning wood in place of coal.

ing. I wanted to be quite sure, but at any moment he might go down. He didn't. We hoisted the colors and let go when he was 350 yards away in a position, so that we could get both guns on him almost immediately.

Crew Saw the Show. The "abandon ship" party, then returned. The wounded, who had been hurriedly bandaged, got further attention, and everything possible was done to save the ship.

The drive started on February 10, in every city and town in the country of education and appeal among express employees simultaneously with a widespread effort to secure the cooperation of the shipping public along the same lines.

Menhallow the collier was setting down. Two travelers had come up, having heard the firing, and the wounded were transferred. The commander carried on till they got in sight of land, with the ship rapidly filling. Ten miles off land the ship was awash to the bridge; the commander and his first officer remained on board till five minutes before she sank.

ANARCHISM NOW IN A CRITICAL STAGE

IMPERIALISM OR NIHILISM IS IMPRESSION GIVEN OUT BY MANY REFUGEES.

TROTSKY WORKS FOR ORDER

Chief Characteristic Tired Feeling, Tired of Killing, Tired of Fighting and Tired of Wandering.

Warsaw.—That bolshevism is in its critical stage, either turning to imperialism, with perhaps Leon Trotsky, minister of war and marine, as the new emperor, or slipping back to the idea of nihilism, with a sort of orderly disorder, is the impression given by many refugees of all nationalities who have arrived here from Russia.

The correspondent has talked to a number of these people as to what might happen in Russia if there is no outside interference. One of them was a bolshevik soldier who deserted while his contingent was engaged in ransacking the country west of Minsk.

"Our chief characteristic," he said, "is, that we are tired—tired of fighting, tired of killing, tired of fighting and tired of wandering from pillar to post. There is no doubt that Leon Trotsky is attempting to obtain order and to whip the troops into shape. He is known to be terribly ambitious, and possibly he is dreaming of becoming czar, knowing that bolshevism has failed."

MEMORIAL SERVICES HELD FOR THEODORE ROOSEVELT. Washington.—In solemn services within the house chamber the nation's leaders and representatives of foreign governments paid tribute to the memory of Theodore Roosevelt. Members of congress, supreme court justices, members of the cabinet, army and navy officers, and diplomats of many nations heard Senator Lodge of Massachusetts praise Roosevelt as a statesman and as a man.

Crowded galleries and the throng of men and women who could not gain admittance testified to the personal feeling for the man whose death shocked the world. It was this to which Senator Lodge, a close friend of the man he eulogized, referred when he spoke these words in the stillness of the house chamber: "A tower is fallen, a star is set! Alas! Alas! for Celia."

"The words of lamentation from the old Moorish ballad, which in boyhood we used to recite, must, I think, have risen to many lips when the world was told that Theodore Roosevelt had fallen in France, according to the phrase the thought was instant and everywhere."

TO PURCHASE PROPERTY FOR NATIONAL CEMETERY. Boston.—Acting upon instructions from the war department General Pershing has been in communication the past month with Marshal Etain for the purpose of purchasing property for a national cemetery for the American dead in France, according to Secretary Baker. "The war department will scrupulously respect such requests," he said.

CASH FOR GOOD ROADS IN NOW FAIRLY A CERTAINTY.
