MORE PAY FOR COUNTY OFFICERS.

What is paid a county officer by way of compensation for services is a matter of public concern, for the public foots the bill, which comes either from fees charged and allow ed by law for certain services of from the taxes paid by the people a large. As to fees the person for whom the service is rendered pays them, except in a few instances where they are paid from the gener But all fees and ions, under the salary sys tem which now obtains, are paid over to the County, and in turn the County allows and pays the officer the salary fixed by law for the office.

If there should be no change in the amount of work required of the officer, there would not ordinarily be any very special roason for changing his compensation; but conditions are steadily changing. Each year the work required of the officer increases-that is the writer's experience for a period of twenty

It is noticed that in other progres sive counties where the work has greatly increased, as it has done in Alamance, provision is made for additional compensation for the officer performing the work, that is, compensation is allowed in proportion to the service rendered.

Alamance county has a goodly number of big businesses - factories banks, mercantile concerns and so In the various departments they pay well for efficient and skilled The county's business is also a big business that requires efficient men to head the several depart ments, but they are not paid for their services in proportion to the compensation received by the effi cient and skilled men employed in the other big businesses of the

In the past few years, in addition to the larger duties required of the county officer, the cost of living has is not expected that living expenses world will not be a decent place will remain as high as they are now, but it is confidently believed, and the belief is based on experience, that living will be high for ten years to live in until Lady Nicotine also takes the gate with J Barleycorn.

I hope the control of the air by the United States which Senator chamberlain advocates will, if it remains and that the young now will be come to the property of the part of to come and that the young now will be old before living is again as cheap as before the world-war.

Simple justice demands better pay the county officer.

BY ROBERT W. MADRY. Chapel Hill, Feb. 18-Student sentiment reached a high level at the University of North Carolina on Friday night when as the result of a fully attended mass meeting of the student body and a campus canvass which followed immediately afterwards $20,000 was subscribed to the Graham Menyacian fund. Memorial fund. Many canvassers have not yet reported and the total student subscription is expected to reach the high water mark of $25,000. One and one-half parts of 16 per ent acid phosphate and one part of cottonseed meal, using about 250 to 300 pounds of the mixture per acre. When this mixture is used there will probably be required an application of nitrate of soda at the rate of 75 to 190 pounds per acre about the first of July. When adding all the fertiizers at planting on average land and using dried blood as the source of ammonia, mix two parts of 16 per cent acid phosphate with one part of dried blood and of the mixture use 250 to 300 pounds per acre. Nitrate of soda, if cheaper more available on the farm, may be substituted for the blood.

Use a mixture containing about per cent available phosphoric acid and 1 to 2 per cent ammonia For land that has been manured or on which leguminous crops have been grown and plowed in in subsequent years, so that the and contains considerable organic natter, the percentage of nitrogenous materials in the above nixtures might be reduced from one-third to one-half for the coru and cotton. For the peas and the nitrogen carrier might be left out entirely, using 200 to 300 pounds per acre of 16 per cent phospheric acid.
