The River. When the Colorado burst its banks and flooded the Imperial Valley of California. By EDNAH AIKEN. SYNOPSIS. CHAPTER I—K. C. Rickard, an engineer of the Overland Pacific, is called to the office of President Marshall in Tucson, Ariz.

EUREKA Spring Water FROM EUREKA SPRING, Graham, N. C. A valuable mineral spring has been discovered by W. H. Ausley in his place in Graham. It was noticed that it brought health to the users of the water.

CHAPTER II—Marshall tells Rickard the Overland Pacific has got to step in to save the Imperial Valley and sends him to the break. Rickard declines because he does not want to supplant Hardin, but is won over by the river.

His eyes glued to the lurching station-house, Babcock took a brown-paper-rolled cigarette from the proffered box. "Look," he cried. "There, she'll go. See that—"

with valley men. The meeting of the ranchers and the several water companies had been called for that afternoon. The summons signed by Faraday himself. Nothing else had been talked of for a fortnight.

group unseen. There was a murmur of delay. Then Babcock's reluctant toddler carried him onto the stage. De la Vega followed Babcock. There was a hush of curiosity.

EARNEST ATTEMPTS TO FIND SOLUTION. PROBABLY ABORTIVE EFFORTS TO FIND SUITABLE PORT TO REPLACE THAT OF FIUME. BAY OF BUCCARI SUGGESTED.

Paris.—Earnest attempts are being made in various quarters to find a solution for the Adriatic problem which would give the Jugo-Slavs a port which could serve the main railway line into Croatia and at the same time leave Fiume to Italy.

True faith with you who he adores. With each a cross to mark his bed. And poppies blowing overhead. Where once his own life blood ran red.

The poppies' blooms now mark in red your resting place, ye gallant dead. In Flanders fields. And as they wave above each cross-marks, Allied graves.
