

Health About Gone

Many thousands of women suffering from womanly trouble, have been benefited by the use of Cardui, the woman's tonic, according to letters we receive, and to one from R. Z. V. Spell, of Hayne, N. C. "I could not stand on my feet, and just suffered terribly," she says. "As my suffering was so great, and he had tried other remedies, Dr. ... had us get Cardui. . . I began improving, and it cured me. I know, and my doctor knows, what Cardui did for me, for my nerves and health were about gone."

TAKE CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

She writes further: "I can do my work, I feel . . . owe it to Cardui, for I was in a dreadful condition." If you are nervous, run down and weak, or suffer from headache, backache, etc., every month, try Cardui. Thousands of women praise this medicine for the good it has done them, and many physicians who have used Cardui successfully with their women patients, for years, endorse this medicine. Think what it means to be in splendid health, like Mrs. Spell. Give Cardui a trial.

Franklin's Spring Street Home in Philadelphia

Within a few blocks of the Friends' Burying Ground in which lies the body of Benjamin Franklin, whose picture adorns the 1918 issue of War Savings Stamps, is a quaint three-story brick dwelling, one of the places where the inventor-philosopher lived while in Philadelphia. The house is in Spring Street, in the center of Colonial life in the Quaker City. It is in excellent state of preservation. The 129th anniversary of Franklin's death will be commemorated April 17. Franklin's thrifty sayings did much to stimulate among the American people the habits of wise buying, sane saving, secure investment and avoidance of waste.

on to say: "There probably are many farmers good financially and morally who permit their buildings to remain unpainted, but as a rule the most substantial people who live in the country keep their buildings well painted."

An Iowa bank, through its vice president, states that it would make a difference of at least 25 per cent. in favor of the farm with painted buildings. Another Iowa concern says that it would make a difference of at least 20 per cent.

All this being true, it is perfectly evident that it is a good business proposition to keep the farm buildings well painted. They not only look better and are more pleasing to the owner, but the farm would sell to better advantage, the loan value of the property would be greatly increased and the buildings themselves would last much longer and need less repair.—The American Agriculturist.

EFFECT OF COLOR UPON THE DURABILITY OF PAINT.

Property owners who may have under consideration the painting of dwellings and other structures should remember that more durable results are obtained when tinted paints are used. Permanent coloring materials which have been ground by machine into a high grade white paint base have the effect of preventing "chalking" and "checking," two defects which are often observed when white paints are used.

THE TWO GREAT POLITICAL PARTIES HAVE EVEN BREAK FOR LOANS.

Washington, D. C.—Thomas R. Marshall, vice president of the United States, who spent the night at the Selwyn hotel, said there is no doubt that the Germans will sign the peace treaty and the United States senate will ratify it with the league of nations agreement included. He also declared the democratic party has an "even break" with the republican party for a victory in 1920. He expressed himself of the opinion that the immigration laws of this country should and must be "reamped" and remain tight "for a great many years." Under the present laws too many men have been admitted and have sworn allegiance to the United States who have been German secret service men he said, and who, in all probability are still in the pay of German reactionaries who are seeking to create trouble among certain elements of our population.

effective throughout the entire world on July 15. The purpose of this provision is to prevent confusion among the more than twenty belligerent nations, which might fix different dates in their various ratifications. According to the present plan each nation will ratify the treaty according to its own laws, but will unite in a common date which will become a universal day of peace.

Conferees between the railroad administration and the department of commerce's industrial board will be resumed as soon as Judge Robey is authorized to organize one regiment of infantry and two companies of coast artillery, Ohio two regiments of infantry and Oregon one battalion of infantry and four companies of coast artillery.

Failure of the allied powers to invite Mexico to participate in the conference at Paris has aroused President Carranza to bitter resentment, which has been enhanced by the incorporation of recognition of the Monroe doctrine in the covenant of the league of nations without consultation with Mexico, can foreign office disavowing adherence to the Monroe doctrine and announcing the withdrawal of the Mexican representative in France.

The general opinion in Washington circles is that the making of peace will be somewhat delayed by the Italian incident.

AMERICA'S IMMORTALS

Most striking instances of heroism in action in the Distinguished Service Cross has been awarded

GRANNIS I. SYVERSON,
Private, Company C, Sixth Machine Gun Battalion, U. S. M. C.

Private Syverson was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in action near St. Etienne, France, October 3, 1918. When our advance infantry was forced to withdraw, Private Syverson's machine gun crew refused to withdraw, but calmly set up their machine gun. The machine gun was a bursting hand grenade, which also injured two members of the squad. Despite these injuries they immediately reset the gun and opened fire on the advancing Germans when twenty feet distant, causing the Germans to break and retreat in disorder. Private Syverson's home address is 1203 Sullivan street, Seattle, Wash.

HENRY W. PHILBLAD,
Corporal, 78th Co., 6th Regiment, U. S. M. C.

Corporal Philblad (deceased) was decorated for conspicuous gallantry in action at Blanc Mont, France, October 3, 1918. Corporal Philblad advanced alone on two machine gun nests, which he captured, killing several of the crew with his pistol. Two hours later he was brought up with him a platoon of reinforcements, and led them through the bombardment area. Knowing that the town of Marcheville was in the hands of the enemy, he unhesitatingly assumed the command of a patrol, and led it in a counter-attack against the town, recapturing it, and after being wounded retained control and integrity in action with the enemy northeast of Binardville, in the Forest d'Argonne, France, October 2, 1918. Although cut off for five days from the remainder of his division, Major Whittlesey maintained his position which he had reached under orders received for an advance and held together his command, consisting originally of 463 officers and men of the

JOHN G. LATHAM,
Sergeant, M. G. Co., 107th Infantry.

Sergeant Latham was decorated for conspicuous gallantry in action near La Catelet, France, September 29, 1918. Becoming separated from their platoon by a smoke barrage, Sergeant Latham, Sergeant Alan L. Eggers and Corporal F. O'Brien took cover in a shell hole while the enemy's lines, upon hearing a call for help from an American tank, which had become disabled thirty yards from them, these three soldiers left their shelter and started toward the tank under heavy fire from German machine guns and trench mortars. In crossing the swampy area, Corp. O'Brien was mortally wounded, but his companions, undeterred, proceeded to the tank, rescued a wounded officer and assisted two wounded soldiers to cover in the sap of a nearby trench. Sergeant Latham and Sergeant Eggers then returned to the tank in the face of the violent fire, but when the tank was disabled by a hotchkiss machine gun and took to the rear, keeping off the enemy all day by effective use of the gun, and later bringing it, with the wounded men, back to our lines, under cover of darkness. His home address is Knotts View, Windermere, Westmoreland, England.

CHARLES W. WHITTLESEY,
Major, 308th Infantry.

Major Whittlesey, the hero of the "go to hell" refusal to surrender, and decorated for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action with the enemy northeast of Binardville, in the Forest d'Argonne, France, October 2, 1918. Although cut off for five days from the remainder of his division, Major Whittlesey maintained his position which he had reached under orders received for an advance and held together his command, consisting originally of 463 officers and men of the

JUST IN TIME

Some Graham People May Wait Till It's Too Late.

Don't wait till too late. Be sure to be in time. Just in time with kidney pills. Means curing the aches, the dizziness, the urinary disorders. That so often come with kidney troubles.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for this very purpose.

Here is Graham testimony of their worth.

Mrs. W. T. Esell, N. Maple Street, Paris, France, writes: "I was in pain in the small of my back, and I suffered all the time. I was so nervous and had such headaches I could hardly endure the misery. One of our family had used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results and told me to try them. I took this remedy and the pains and all other troubles disappeared."

THE QUINCY MANSION, QUINCY, MASS., BUILT IN 1685.

America's classic example of a clapboard building preserved for over two hundred years by careful and frequent painting. It has secret panels, chimney staircase and hiding places, said to have been used by smugglers. Later the home of great statesmen and of the famous belle, Dorothy Quincy.

ANIELLO SPAMANATO,
Private, Company L, 357th Infantry.

Private Spamanato was decorated for conspicuous gallantry in action near Montfaucon, France, October 25, 1918. Private Spamanato was on patrol with three other soldiers when they were fired upon by a hostile machine gun fifty yards in advance of the line. After several hand grenades had been thrown at the machine gun nest, one of the crew was seen crawling away. Private Spamanato killed this man with his rifle and then rushed the nest alone, capturing the gun and the three surviving members of the crew, two others having been killed by the grenades. Private Spamanato's wife lives in Semille province, Caserta, Italy.

HENRY S. BOGAN,
Sergeant, 78th Co., Sixth Regiment, U. S. M. C.

For extraordinary heroism in action near Blanc Mont, France, October 3, 1918, Sergeant Bogan was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for taking men for this duty. His home is with his mother, Mrs. Sallie Bogan, Franklin, Ky.

JOHN H. PRUITT,
Corporal, 78th Company, 6th Regiment, U. S. M. C.

Corp. Pruitt, whose home was with his mother, Mrs. Belle Pruitt, Ray, Ariz., was decorated for conspicuous gallantry in action with the enemy at Blanc Mont Ridge, France, October 3, 1918. Corp. Pruitt, single-handed, attacked two machine guns, capturing them and killing two of the enemy. He then captured forty prisoners in a dugout near by. This gallant soldier was killed soon afterward by shell fire while he was mopping the enemy.

JAMES EARNEST KARNES,
Sergeant, Company D, 117th Infantry.

Sergeant Karnes, whose home is with his mother, Mrs. Emily Karnes, 2501 North Broadway, Knoxville, Tenn., was decorated for extraordinary heroism in action near Estrees, France, October 8, 1918. During an advance, Sergeant Karnes' company was held up by a machine gun, which was enfilading the lines. Accompanied by another member of his company, he advanced against this position and succeeded in reducing the nest by killing three and capturing seven of the enemy and their gun.

FREDERICK M. LINTON,
First Lieutenant, 104th Infantry.

Conspicuous gallantry in action near Marcheville, France, September 25 and 26, won the Distinguished Service Cross for Lieutenant Linton. He volunteered and carried a message from his line to the rear at a time when a heavy barrage and terrific machine gun fire of the enemy had made escape almost impossible. When returning to his detachment he had a platoon of reinforcements, and led them through the bombardment area. Knowing that the town of Marcheville was in the hands of the enemy, he unhesitatingly assumed the command of a patrol, and led it in a counter-attack against the town, recapturing it, and after being wounded retained control and integrity in action with the enemy northeast of Binardville, in the Forest d'Argonne, France, October 2, 1918. Although cut off for five days from the remainder of his division, Major Whittlesey maintained his position which he had reached under orders received for an advance and held together his command, consisting originally of 463 officers and men of the

WILLIS P. SNYDER,
Private, Company D, 150th M. G. B.

Private Snyder won the Distinguished Service Cross for conspicuous gallantry in action near Helma, France, July 15, 1918. After all the other members of his detachment had become casualties while defending a position in front of an infantry company, Private Snyder continued to operate a machine gun alone against an attacking party of Prussian Guards, and succeeded in driving them off. He then returned to our lines, attempting to carry back his wounded comrade with him, until he was himself wounded. Private Snyder's home is with his mother, Mrs. Kate Snyder, 1237 Cotton street, Reading, Pa.

WILLIAM SAWELSON,
Sergeant, Company M, 312th Infantry.

Sergeant Sawelson, whose home was at Harrison, N. J., was killed while seeking to aid a wounded comrade at Gram-Pre, France, October 26, 1918. He was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. Hearing a wounded man in shell hole some distance away calling for water, Sergeant Sawelson, upon his own initiative, left shelter and crawled through heavy machine gun fire to where the man lay, giving him what water he had in his

MISSOURI MULE ALWAYS THERE.

The Missouri mule was in the war long before the Missouri soldier entered it. The declaration of war was made for him in 1914, two years and a half before Pershing and the thousands of other Missourians got their orders to wheel into line. He had made a brilliant record there before their appearance. But, according to the London advices, he seems to have felt the impulse of Missouri behind him at the last, for it is written: "The mule shared in the big British advance on the western front this fall and proved his grit and worth by keeping right up with the rapidly advancing artillery." That is a Missouri characteristic.
