THE HALTER.

A little poem written many years ago contained these lines:
"No thief 'er felt the halter draw
With a good opinion of the law."
These lines portray the sentiment expressed by a German paper on the signing of the Peace Treaty on last Saturday. The paper said:
"The German people reject the treaty which its delegates are signing today, and it does not believe for a single moment that it will endure. Despite the fact that it is written on parchment, it remains a scrap of paper, because it is a mockery of all the laws of reason and morals and the most disgraceful exhibit in the museum of civilization."

BIG FLYING FEAT.

Another big event in flying across the Atlantic started yesterday morning at 1:43 when the big British dirigible R-34 started from East Fortune, Scotland, for America. It is proposed to land on Long Island. The R-34 is the largest lighter-than-air machine in the world, measuring 634 feet from nose to stern. The crew consists of 23 men. Late reports say it is flying about 42 miles an hour and is expected, barring any mishaps, to arrive at the Roosevelt field, L. I., about noon tomorrow.

Knox and Lodge, Republican Senators, have raised much noise about the Peace Treaty and have done lots of talking in opposition to it. Mr. Hays, Republican National Chairman, has been hanging around Washington in an effort to straighten out the tangle and keep the Peace Treaty from being made a party issue. Knox and Lodge may have gone too far to stop it. It is not believed the people will endorse the aforesaid Senators.

Internal Revenue collections in North Carolina for the year ending June 30th, from all sources, aggregated around $100,000,000. Of this amount $27,706,935.65 was collected in the Eastern District, an increase of $7,332,869.43 over the preceding year and a gain of over 40 percent. In the Western District the collection was about seventy millions, of which something over $40,000,000 was paid by the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company of Winston-Salem.

Education—No Other Issue.

Edward K. Graham, in Education and Citizenship.
Educationally the decade that follows the war will be, I believe, the richest and most fruitful in the nation's history. Here in the South, and in North Carolina especially, we need to keep heretofore foremost in our public policy the determination not to slacken but rather to quicken our educational activities. England and France under war burdens incomparably greater than ours have doubled their educational budgets. It is clearly the inevitable policy of wisdom.

If North Carolina needs and wants greatly to extend and deepen its educational activities, there is no issue of poverty involved. North Carolina is sufficiently prosperous. It is spending money for what it wants.
A Christian may as well say that the church is too poor to be honest as for a citizen of North Carolina to say that the State is too poor to educate, and to the limit of its desire.

There is no other issue in North Carolina public policy today but this fundamental issue of education. The permanent names in North Carolina statesmanship are those of men who put not words alone but their lives behind the great steps in our educational progress. This is plainly because the fundamentals of democracy have all of their vital roots in education. Equality of opportunity is there and there alone.

We suppose that sooner or later as an offset to the pill with a lick in it, somebody will invent a kick with a spill in it.

Summer School Activities and Other Items.

Cor. of The Gleaner.
Chapel Hill, N. C., July 1.—The University of North Carolina Summer School held its formal opening on Friday night, at which time the summer students were welcomed to the town and University by representatives of the various organizations. The attendance this year has been most gratifying to the authorities, 800 students being enrolled on the opening night. Registration continues through Monday, and the total is sure to reach 1,000 this summer.

Rev. W. D. Moss welcomed the students on behalf of the churches of the town, while acting Dean A. H. Patterson extended the greetings of the University. He explained how the summer work had become an integral part of the work of the University and was now so recognized. Miss Elsie B. Heller extended a welcome on behalf of the Y. W. C. A.

Professor Edwin Mims of the English Department of Vanderbilt University, delivered three lectures to the summer students during the week-end. Thursday night he discussed "Culture and Sacrifice in the Life of a Teacher." Friday night he took as his subject "Visions and Illusions," and his last lecture on Saturday was on "The Art of Thinking." All these lectures were well attended and aroused much enthusiasm. Dr. Mims was formerly professor of English in the University of North Carolina.

The first Teachers' Institute began last week and will continue through this week at the Summer School. A large number of teachers are enrolled for this, and many special lectures and courses have been provided. Dr. E. W. Enright, the recently elected Professor of Rural Education in the University, has charge of this institute. Dr. Stephen S. Colvin of New York, is one of the chief lecturers before the institute attendees. Another teachers' institute will be held later in the summer.

There is a large registration this summer in courses for college credit and many are pursuing graduate studies. The campus is filled with much the same activity as during the winter terms. Many special entertainment features will be provided during the six weeks. The fourth of July celebration this year will not be on so large a scale as last year, but appropriate exercises will be held during the day under the direction of Professor A. Vermont. The morning will be devoted to simple religious exercises in celebration of peace, while some well known speaker will be secured for the evening. Patriotic music and singing will be a part of the day's exercises.

Later in the term Professor Fred H. Koch will present a group of folk plays written by his students in dramatic composition, and he also plans to give Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" later in the summer. Professor Gustav Hagerdorn is busy now with the summer school chorus, which will later give Gaul's "Holy City," together with other selected choruses. Many special lecturers are to appear here from time to time.

President H. W. Chase and Professors Hickerson, Doggett, Mustard and Lear, of the Engineering department, have during the past week been attending the convention in Baltimore of the "Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education."

Alumnae Alumni Association of N. C. State College.

At an enthusiastic meeting the Alumnae County North Carolina State College Alumni Association was formed in Burlington at the City Hall on Friday evening. Mr. Baxton White of Raleigh, alumni secretary of the college, was present and assisted in the organization. The Alumnae County Association is the twentieth of its kind to be established.

In lieu of a constitution and set of by-laws, the following resolution was adopted:
Whereas, A determined effort is now being made by the General Alumni Association of the N. C. State College to arouse the interest and support for the college of the alumni wherever located, with the end to the establishment of local associations in every county in North Carolina and wherever else a sufficient number of N. C. State men can be found, and
Whereas, There are at the present time residing in this county 28 former students of the college without a local association, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, former students of N. C. State College here present, do jointly resolve ourselves into The Alumnae County N. C. State Alumni Association, with the following provisions:
First, That the officers of this Association shall be a president, a vice-president, and a secretary-treasurer, these three officers to hold office for one year and to constitute the Executive Committee of the Association.
Second, That any former student of the college, regardless of the length of time of his stay at the college, be eligible to membership in this Association, conditioned upon his giving his name and address to the secretary-treasurer; and Third, That the date of the annual meeting of this Association shall be held on the night of October 1st, or as near thereto as possible, this date to be known as "N. C. State College Day."

Dr. Jesse P. Spoon was elected president of the local group, Mr. William F. Dailey was made vice-president and Mr. Paul E. Morrow, secretary-treasurer.

It is already being planned to have a big occasion on October 3rd, which is the anniversary of the founding of the college, and the annual meeting date of the local associations. The nature of this meeting will be largely social and remembrances of college days and associates will be renewed at that time, but the election of officers for the ensuing year will also take place. A full attendance is expected and assured.

One of the aims of the new organization is to boost the State College, and the other principal object is the promotion of social good fellowship among its members.

The present members of the Alumnae County State College Alumni Association are:

- Henry R. Cates, Swepsonville.
- W. I. Holt, Burlington.
- Cecil C. Cooke, Graham.

MAKES RAPID HEADWAY

Add This Fact to Your Store of Knowledge.
Kidney disease often advances so rapidly that many a person is firmly in its grasp before aware of its progress. Prompt attention should be given the slightest symptom of kidney disorder. If there is a dull pain in the back, headache, dizzy spells or a tired, worn-out feeling, or if the kidneys are offensive, irregular and attended with pain, secure a good kidney remedy at once.
Thousands recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the statement below.
R. I. Lahey, 915 Davis St., Burlington, says:
"I was pretty bad off with pain across the small of my back and could hardly bend over. The kidney secretions passed irregularly. I was in bad shape. I tried all kinds of remedies but nothing did me any good until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They relieved my back, regulated my kidneys and did me good in every way."

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Says nothing like plain Argo-Phosphate to get the flesh and muscle and increase strength, vim, vigor and nerve force.

Physicians claim there is nothing that will increase weight, strength and endurance like organic phosphate commonly known by druggists as argo-phosphate. It is inexpensive and is sold by all leading druggists everywhere under a guarantee to give satisfaction or money refunded. Weakness and thinness are usually due to starved nervous conditions.

Our bodies need more phosphates than are contained in the foods we eat.

If you wish a more rounded figure and plump, well-developed arms, neck and bust in place of hollows you should simply take plain argo-phosphate as it builds up and restores run-down nervous conditions by phosphating the system. It transforms the appearance and an increase in weight is often times quickly produced.

The increase in weight also aids in improving the general health. Sleeplessness, nervousness, lack of energy and ambition quickly disappear.

Pale cheeks are changed to rosy ones and dull eyes become bright.
Miss Lena Brown of Atlanta, Ga., who only weighed 90 pounds reports that she gained 10 pounds in two weeks time and says argo-phosphate has made a different person of her and she has never felt better in her life.

SPECIAL NOTICE:—Owing to the fact that so many physicians and druggists are recommending argo-phosphate for relieving all nervous, worn-out debilitated conditions and the unusually large sale for argo-phosphate there will be found in the market numerous substitutes for the genuine article. All imitations are inferior preparations and owing to its unusual flesh producing qualities it should not be used by any one unless they desire to put on flesh and increase in weight.

Soft Drink Industry Enjoys Remarkable Growth.

One of the few industries which has kept pace with the automobile industry in rapid development is the soft drink business.

This phenomenal growth of the bottling industry is chiefly attributable to two causes—improvement in the character of the beverages offered, and improved methods of bottling.

In the days when pop bottles were corked by rubber stoppers fastened on the inside of the bottle, absolute sanitation was almost impossible. A high standard of cleanliness was the exception rather than the rule.

With the advent of the crown cap, sanitation became easily attainable by all bottlers. So generally is this recognized that the more important soft drink concerns—like the Orange-Crush Co., for instance—will not sell their products to a bottler unless his plant satisfies certain rigid requirements as to equipment and sanitation.

In a typical Orange-Crush bottling works, the empty bottles are first scalded in a solution of caustic soda and hot water, then brushed and rinsed in warm water, and finally sprayed inside and out by cold water under pressure. They are then filled with Orange-Crush, capped, labelled, and packed in cases.

Except when put in the washing tanks and when taken from the capping machine, the bottles are scarcely touched by a human hand in the entire process. The bottling plant is light and airy, the machinery radiates cleanliness, and the workmen are immaculate in dress and in person.

Orange-Crush also typifies the other tendency which has been so potent a stimulant in the development of the industry—improvement in the character of beverages.
Orange-Crush is a blend of the flavors of the world's finest oranges. Combined with the piquancy of carbonated water, the full rich flavor of the ripe fruit and the fragrance of orange groves make Orange-Crush a drink of almost universal appeal.

In addition to being pure and delicious, Orange-Crush is decidedly nutritious. Ounce for ounce it contains more food value as measured in calories than whole milk. Physicians recommend it for use in the sick room.

The enthusiastic welcome Orange-Crush has received indicates that the public is keenly alive to the value of wholesome beverages properly prepared, and continued growth and development for the soft drink industry may be safely predicted.

LEMONS MAKE SKIN WHITE, SOFT, CLEAR

Make this beauty lotion for a few cents and see for yourself.

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to lighten the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way. Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quart of pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white for a very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.

University Has a Most Successful Commencement.

ROBERT W. MADRY, Director.

Chapel Hill, N. C., June 23.—The 124th Commencement of the University of North Carolina, which has just come to a close, marked the most successful finals from many viewpoints ever held at this institution. Alumni who have been making annual pilgrimages to the Hill for the past 25 years for the big gathering of the University's sons declare that the attendance has never been surpassed and that the alumni have rarely ever enjoyed themselves more. There was scarcely a hitch in the entire program, which, varied somewhat from former years, seemed to have a greater appeal.

The class reunions were all unusually well attended, the classes of 1899, 1909, 1914, and 1918 having 30, 40, 25, and 45 members present, respectively. The big general gathering of the alumni broke all records, it is estimated, in numbers. The spirit of good fellowship was the predominant note throughout all the exercises.

Every feature of the Commencement exercises was up to the best standard of the past. The Baccalaureate Sermon, by Rev. John E. White, president of Anderson College and pastor of the First Baptist Church of Anderson, S. C., opened the program of the finals. It had as its chief theme "Repentance" and was one of the most powerful discussions ever heard here. Vesper services, under auspices of the Y. M. C. A., were conducted Sunday night by Rev. W. D. Moss of the Chapel Hill Presbyterian church.

The Class Day exercises on Monday, June 16, showed a come-back spirit of a class crippled by the war which was worthy of the highest commendation. The senior orations by members of the graduating class, the annual debate between representatives of the Philanthropic and Dialectic Literary societies, which was won by the latter, and the anniversary meetings of the societies which followed the debates, were the main features of the day's program.

Tuesday, Alumni Day, witnessed an unusually large number of alumni visitors on the Hill. The business meeting of the Alumni Association in the morning was featured by an address by President Chase. The special-class reunions and big general gathering of the alumni were held during the alumni luncheon.

Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels was the chief speaker at the memorial service held Tuesday afternoon in honor of the 55 University alumni who fell in the war out of the 2,285 alumni and students to enter the service. The reception by President Chase and the faculty closed Tuesday's program.

Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane delivered the Commencement address on Wednesday before an audience that taxed the capacity of Memorial Hall. He was introduced by Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels. Governor Bickett, with a parting word of admonition, conferred degrees on 87 graduates.

The largest attendance of any session in its history is expected for the opening of the University Summer School this week. Tuesday and Wednesday are registration days and class work begins on Thursday. The first Teachers' Institute begins on Thursday.
