Welcome Service at M. E. Church

This service is so well written up by the Graham correspondent of the Greensboro News that we are adopting it. It follows:

The memorial and welcome service in honor of the soldier boys which was held at the M. E. church Sunday evening at 8 o'clock was well attended by Graham people and the surrounding community.

The church was beautifully decorated with potted plants, and the service flags of the various churches of the town were hung on the wall with a large United States flag draped in the center.

The meeting was presided over by Rev. R. S. Troxler, president of the Graham Ministerial Association. The program was opened by special music rendered by the Choral Union, led by Rev. John M. Permar. The pastor, Rev. J. R. Edwards, made a few opening remarks of welcome to the people assembled.

Rev. R. S. Troxler read the scripture lesson. Then followed the welcome address to the returned soldiers by J. Dolph Long, Esq. The excellent way in which Mr. Long handled his subject was commented on by many, which showed how thoroughly the audience enjoyed his address.

Next was a solo by Rev. J. M. Permar, followed by the memorial address by Col. Don E. Scott, of the 120th Infantry, 30th Division. The graphic way in which he told of the heroic deeds and sacrifices made by the boys held the audience spellbound. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. E. N. Caldwell.

Great For Elon College. A few weeks ago Elon College started a campaign to raise an endowment fund of $250,000, known as the Standardization Fund to put Elon in a class with the best colleges in this country.

In a remarkably short time with push and vigor the drive has been attained. The drive closed with last week and Dr. W. W. Staley, President of the Southern Christian Convention, telegraphed from Suffolk, Va., to the Christian Sun at Burlington Monday that the fund was "far over the top" and not far from three hundred thousand.

This splendid sum will give fresh impetus to the splendid work being done by this progressive institution that is the pride of the Christian Church and an ornament to the Old North State.

It is thought to have caught somewhere about the kitchen while the supper was being prepared. The residence was a good one and was built only a year or so ago. Mr. Dodson carried some insurance on it, but not half enough to replace it.

A College Style Book.

The current number of the State College Record is a Style Book compiled by George Sumney, Jr., author of "Modern Punctuation; Its Utilities and Conventions;" and associate professor of English at the State College of Agriculture and Engineering.

Part I of this practical little manual begins with brief instructions in regard to printers' copy and proofreading. The following sections give rules for abbreviations, apostrophes, capitalization, compound words, division of words, figures and numerals, and other matters in which the typography of a single work must be consistent.

Part II is adapted to pen and typewriter manuscript rather than typography, and is intended as a set of rules for students.

The second and larger part is based on an idea seized long ago by publishers and more recently by schools of journalism, but neglected by most teachers of English—that students of English composition should have precise and positive instruction for cases of variable usage in which a given office or class ought to be consistent.

Dr. Sumney is of the opinion that students, like compositors or junior editorial writers, should be required to follow certain specified styles.

If the directions in this Style Book are carefully followed, students will have something resembling the regimen a green newspaperman undergoes at the hands of his editorial superiors.

Such a course of training should have some effect as an antidote against illiteracy and carelessness.

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Frezzone on an aching corn, and that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic!

A tiny bottle of Frezzone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Frezzone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

As I was As I am DRECO made me well. Mrs. Paul Adams of 711 Decatur street, Montgomery, Ala. says: "I used to drag around the house feeling weak and had no energy to do anything. My appetite was off, and my nerves on edge all the time. Whatever I ate lay on my stomach and turned to water, and I would belch it up sour and hot. Gas rent me awfully up, and my bowels were usually constipated. I read about persons who took DRECO and got so much better, so I bought a bottle and I believe the first dose helped me. I have now taken two bottles, and I'm like a different woman. I go about my work full of energy, and it is a pleasure now instead of a drag. My bowels act regularly; no more gas on my stomach, nor water belching, sleep sound and have a fine appetite." DRECO is made from juices and extracts of many medicinal herbs which act on the vital organs in a pleasant and prompt manner.
