

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA
Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. 1919 TAXES DUE

The County Commissioners have turned over to me the Tax Books for 1919. The last Legislature passed a State-wide law allowing a discount of 1 per cent. on all taxes paid before Dec. 1st, a flat rate for December, and adding a penalty of 1 per cent. per month after January 1st. Pay and get the discount and avoid the penalty.

1919 Dog Tax Due

Dog license tax must be paid before Dec. 1st. The penalty is $50 for failure to pay. Every dog must wear a tag. Respectfully,
CHAS. D. STORY
Sheriff of Alamance County.

LIFT CORNS OR CALLUSES OFF

Doesn't hurt! Lift any corn or callus off with fingers

Don't suffer! A tiny bottle of Frezcoat costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops on the corn, callus and "hard skin" on bottom of feet and heel lift them off. When Frezcoat removes acids from the toes or calluses from the bottom of the feet the skin beneath is left pink and healthy and never sore, tender or irritated.

Looks Years Younger—No Gray Hair.

It seems so unwise to have gray, faded or lifeless hair these days. Now that Q-ban Hair Color Restorer will bring a natural, even, dark shade, without detection to gray or lifeless hair. Have handsome, soft, lustrous hair in abundance without a trace of gray. Apply Q-ban—guarantees harmless—see a large bottle—money back if not satisfied. Sold by the Hayes Drug Co., and all good drug stores. Try Q-ban Hair Tonic, Liquid Shampoo and Soap.

Thriving Table Leg.

Among the furnishings of a South Carolina home, says Popular Mechanic magazine, is a small table that is the talk of the neighborhood. Although it has been left indoors and far from any moisture, ever since it was built and properly polished, several months ago, one leg is now the proud parent of four leafy sprouts, which thrive in their strange surroundings.

Story of the Cable Car.

In 1873, on August 1, the first cable car in the world was put into operation in San Francisco. The inventor of the cable system was Andrew Hallidie. The cable cars were introduced into Chicago six years after their appearance on the Pacific coast and in 1883 were adopted in New York, Washington and Philadelphia and afterward in London.

Cultivate Worthy Thoughts.

Such are the habits of thought, such also will be the character of the mind; for the soul is dyed by the thoughts. Dye it, then, with a continuous series of such thoughts as these: For instance, that where a man can live, there he can also die well. But he must live in a palace; well then, he can also live well in a palace—Ex-change.

The Wanted Progress.

"No, sah, Ah don't neder ride on dem things," said an old colored lady looking in on the merry-go-round. "Why, de other day I seen dat Kastus Johnson git on an' ride as much as a dollah's worth an' git off at de very same place he got on at, an' I sez to him: 'Kastus, I sez, 'ya spent 'ya money, but whar 'ya been?'"—Boston Transcript.

Ancient Elevator.

The earliest mention of a device in any way resembling the modern elevator may be read in Virgil, who describes a hoisting machine invented by Archimedes. The elevator of the second century B. C. was worked by ropes coiled up in a winding drum by a capstan and levers.

To Polish Glass.

A good polishing powder is made of rock alum, burned and finely powdered, five parts; levigated chalk, one part; mix and apply with a dry brush. There is nothing better to polish glass than channels leather, or velvet. They should be kept entirely free from dust, or grit.

EFFICIENT AND ATTRACTIVE BARN

Fourteen-Sided Structure Is Novel, But Convenient.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building barns, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 187 Prairie Avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose two-cent stamp for reply.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD.
With wood at the present price and the likelihood that it will stay there because of the world-wide shortage, thousands of American farmers are adding flocks of sheep to the live stock on their places. And in so doing there has come a need for buildings to house them.

Raising lambs and keeping a flock of sheep in a healthy condition requires more care than in accomplishing the same result with other farm animals. Sheep, and especially lambs, are very susceptible to weather conditions, and frequently a rainy spell will cause a considerable loss. While sheep must have plenty of pasture in which to run and feed, they also must have a place to shelter them, for they certainly "know enough to come in when it rains." Besides the feed the flock gets from the pasture, it is necessary also to provide them with roughage, which usually is placed in specially designed feed racks. Most of this feeding is done indoors by those who have been successful in sheep raising.

Farm building architects, whose business it is to design buildings to suit the needs of various kinds of animals, have taken the needs of sheep into consideration in planning the sheep barn. But there are many farmers who would keep a small flock of sheep, if they could do so without making a large investment in buildings. For the latter class there has been planned the barn shown in the accompanying illustration.

This fourteen-sided barn is 60 feet in diameter and has a 12-foot silo in the center. On the mow floor around the silo there is ample space for the winter's supply of hay for the animals; the building will accommodate, while the silo furnishes them with fresh feed throughout the winter months.

The exterior of the barn is attractive and will add to the appearance of the farm building group. It is of frame construction set on a concrete foundation. The half of the interior which is devoted to stalls for the horses and cattle has a concrete floor; the half for sheep has a cinder floor, graded so as to provide ample drainage to keep the floor dry, a thing the sheep must have.

The stalls for horses and cows or for either of them are placed in a semi-circle, the animals to face in. At the rear of the stalls is a gutter sunk into the concrete floor, and overhead is a carrier track for the removal of litter. The track also runs over the head of the stalls, which makes the feeding of the stock easy, and extends around the building over the sheep feeding racks. The plan of the floor shows the feeding of the stalls, the sheep feed-

"Henrys" and "Harrys."

While I know one Harry who was christened with disregard for the more dignified Henry and there may be other instances of the kind, there seems to be little doubt that the latter is the parent of the former name. England has always called its King Henry "Harry." During the reign of Henry VI, who succeeded to the throne in 1422, there was a piece of money coined called the Harry noble, and in the time of Henry VIII there was a tiny coin named the Harry groat. "Is Jerusalem shall Harry die," said Henry IV.—Chicago Daily News.

Fleming's Nearing Extinction.

The flamingo's jaunty hunting ground used to be throughout Florida and many lovely members of its family could be met with in the other hot countries. Very few of them are left now, however, anywhere in this country and many bird lovers predict that in a few years more they will have been killed off until they will be extinct.

An Nature Arranges Them.
If you want to color beautifully, color as best pleases you at quiet times, not so as to catch the eye, nor to look as if it were clever or difficult to color in that way, but so that the color may be pleasant to you when you are happy and thoughtful. Look much at the morning and the evening sky, and such at simple flowers—dog rose, wood hyacinth, violets, poppies, thistles, heather and such-like—as nature arranges them in the woods and fields.—Ruskin.

A Characterization.

She was a woman of experience at least if not of wisdom, with strong passions, but with a not ungenerous heart; outspoken from the knowledge of her "great possessions," perhaps as much from a natural frankness; a warm friend and not a very bitter enemy; and at the bottom of it all with a certain simplicity of character, of which her love of flowers was an example.—James Payne.

Indian Jewels.
Crossing from China to India, we shall find the people there often loaded with jewelry, writes Frank G. Carpenter, in "How the World is Clothed." That worn by a single girl in the Himalaya mountains may weigh many pounds. It is usually of brass, but sometimes of gold and silver. In the valley of the Ganges, there are women who wear metal rings in their noses and some who have silver bells tucked like sleigh bells fastened about their toes.

Secret Service Work.

"Secret Service" in its narrow sense is the name applied to the bureau in the treasury department the duties of which as defined by law are to detect counterfeiting and to protect the president. The term "secret service" in its broader sense includes all of those agencies which detect violations of federal laws and which keep the government informed as to international relationships. Military intelligence is the chief secret service agency in the broader sense and it co-ordinates and uses all the lesser detective agencies of the government.

Nineveh's Palmetto Ruins.
Past Mosul the river Tigris rolls its ancient, almost legendary, waters and opposite on the left bank, the dream of antiquity continues undisturbed. There in the blazing sun or in the shimmering Persian moonlight, lie the ruins of Nineveh, the last and greatest capital of the Assyrian empire. The wall of the disappeared city still stands to a height of 50 feet and is 12 miles in circumference. Close by the bank of the river are the still imposing remains of two citadels.

"Mother Shipton" Hoax.

Mother Shipton was reputed an English prophetess of the time of Henry VIII. She was first heard from in 1641, when "The Prophecies of Mother Shipton" was published anonymously in London. In 1892 Charles Hindley reported a life of Mother Shipton originally published by Richard Heady (London, 1684). He added some doggerel of his own and wound up with the prophecy that if the world would come to an end in 1881. In 1873 Mr. Hindley acknowledged that the verses were a hoax.

Glory of a Nation.
The true glory of a nation is in intelligent, honest, industrious people. The civilization of a people depends on their individual character, and a constitution which betrays an overgrowth of this character is not worth the parchment on which it is written. You look in vain in the past for a single instance where the people have preserved their liberties after their individual character was lost.—E. P. Whipple.

Remembering the Boys.

A friend of mine performed a wedding ceremony for a young couple in our home town after which the bridegroom took all the money out of his pocket; which was 75 cents, and turned to my friend, the minister, and said: "I will have to keep 50 cents of this to buy cigars for the boys," and handed him the 25 cents for the fee.—Chicago Tribune.

Health About Gone

Many thousands of women suffering from womanly troubles, have been benefited by the use of Cardui, the woman's tonic, according to letters we receive, similar to this one from Mrs. Z. V. Spell, of Haynes, N. C. "I could not stand on my feet, and just suffered terribly," she says. "As my suffering was so great, and he had tried other remedies, Dr. — had us get Cardui. I began improving, and it cured me. I know, and my doctor knows, what Cardui did for me, for my nerves and health were about gone."

The Most Fairly Priced Fine Car Built

THE Chandler Six leads the whole medium priced field of motor cars so distinctly in popularity, because it gives such extraordinary value at such a moderate price.

We firmly believe, and so do great hosts of people all over America, that the Chandler Six is the most fairly priced fine car built. It is quite as distinct in the excellence of its design and construction as it is in the fairness of its price.

And that is why the Chandler has come into its position of undeniable leadership.

The Chandler Six is distinguished for its marvelous motor—the exclusive Chandler motor now in its seventh year of constant refinement—and for the sturdy strength and simplicity of its entire chassis, and for the beauty and comfort of its several types of body.
