THE MESSAGE.

President Wilson's message to Congress is published on the first page of this paper. Purposely he said nothing about the peace treaty—that, it is believed, will be dealt with in another message. He deals with labor unrest and warns against revolution and disorder. The President's partisan fees superficially received the message with indifference, but he presented issues that, like Banquo's ghost, will not "down."

The government has taken hold of the fuel situation and again the use of coal is on war-time basis. There is little or no excuse for the strike of the miners according to the figures, recently made public showing that the miner is receiving a yearly wage of $1,650—$100 more than the average pay of college professors and preachers.

Business men of New York are asking the ratification of the peace treaty. If partisan politics had been eliminated, the treaty would have already been passed and the country would not have heard of the many strikes that have unsettled the industrial conditions.

Two big events in athletics were pulled off last week. At Chapel Hill Carolina won the football game over Virginia, its old foe, by a score of 6 to 0. Likewise in New York the Navy won over the Army by a score of 6 to 0.

Relations of the United States with Mexico are extremely strained and near the breaking. Some Senators want the President to declare war. Better arrange the peace terms now under consideration before jumping into other trouble.

It has been suggested that those responsible for the coal strike should be the first to feel the pinch of coal by reason of the shortage in fuel incident to the strike. That would each them the folly of their conduct.

SUM OF $104,000 FOR GRAHAM MEMORIAL.

Cor. of The Gleaner.

Chapel Hill, Dec. 2.—The sum of $104,000 has been raised thus far by the Graham Memorial Fund Committee of the University of North Carolina toward the contemplated students activities building at the University in memory of the late President, Edward Kiddle Graham. This announcement was made Saturday by Albert M. Coates, Secretary of the committee, following a meeting in Chapel Hill of the central committee and the State directors.

"This sum does not by any means represent the complete or final report," said Secretary Coates. "The campaign will be pushed vigorously through the month of December and from preliminary reports and from estimates based on the work thus far there appears no doubt of the ultimate success of the campaign. We expect to have $150,000 by the first of next year."

Present at the meeting in Chapel Hill were representatives from the committee from the trustees, which consists of Governor Bickett, George Stevens, Leslie Well, Victor S. Bryant, and Clem G. Wright, together with many of the State directors, including C. F. Harvey of Kinston, A. H. London of Pittsboro, G. W. Tillett, Jr., of Charlotte, K. S. Tanner of Rutherfordton, J. A. Gray, Jr., of Winston-Salem, Judge H. B. Stevens of Asheville, J. W. Umstead of Greensboro, P. H. Gwynn of Leaksville, W. S. Robertson of Chapel Hill, D. K. McKee of Laurinburg, Cameron McKee of Concord, P. H. Gwynn, Jr., of Raleigh, and J. V. Price of Madison.

These directors were entertained at a banquet given by the University, at which J. A. Gray, Jr., acted as toast master. Individual reports were made by the directors, results were announced, and final plans laid for pushing the campaign through its last stages. The directors expressed themselves as immensely pleased with progress thus far.

Washington Letter.

Cor. of The Gleaner.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25, 1919.—The country is threatened with more serious disturbances by labor unions than was ever known before in its history. It will be recalled that when war-time prohibition went into effect throughout the nation on July 1st, that there was loud grumbling on the part of the coal miners, and they boldly asserted that if there was to be no beer for them there would be no coal mined. They adopted the slogan, "No beer, no coal!" One of their leaders recently said that nation-wide prohibition, especially of beer, has had a great deal to do with labor unrest and has put them in a rebellious frame of mind.

He goes on to say that the anti-saloon league is formed and backed by the big industrial concerns of the country, and that the so-called Captains of Industry have an idea that by taking the working man's beer away from him that he becomes a more willing and submissive wage slave. The farmer has been used as the backbone of the prohibition movement. The farmer enjoys abundance of pure fresh air, a plenty of good butter-milk and pure water, and the best of everything that nature has to give, and which is a great deal better than the cold bottle of beer that the working man looks forward to with so much pleasure at the close of his day's work. The man who works in a mine or in a crowded factory or at a printer's desk all day long, breathing polluted air, does not get the best that nature has to offer, but rather the worst, so when his day's work is over and he is released from his day's imprisonment he is in need of a mild stimulant, such as a bottle of beer affords.

People Deceived. He says the farmers of the country have been used as the backbone of the prohibition movement. These Captains of Industry have poured out millions to line up enough voters from the cities to make a strong organization. They have also lead the farmers to believe that this was a moral crusade springing up spontaneously from the people when in fact, the whole thing is engineered and financed by these great Captains of Industry, using the farmer as the backbone. They are asking "Who pays such men as ex-Governor Glenn of North Carolina $250 a night to deliver temperance lectures?" The rank and file of the people did not pay it, and they realize that these high-priced orators were employed by the great industries, and not by the people, as many suppose. Not only the Captains of Industry but the sort drink manufacturers who pay no license to the Government are in a position to make hundreds of millions of dollars a year by knocking the working man's lager beer out. Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., admits that he gave $550,000 last year to the Anti-Saloon League, and if he admits that much it can be inferred that John D. Sr., gave at least ten times as much.

To Test The Law.

The attorneys for these labor unions are almost to a man against nation-wide prohibition, and they are going to take this matter to the Supreme Court of the United States, where they believe that the Supreme Court will be compelled to decide that the Constitution of the United States was amended in an illegal manner and therefore the amendment is null and void. They claim that these ratifications were ratified through the State Legislatures by the "pussy-footers," as they are called by the working men. For instance, an average State has about 150 members of the Legislature. About thirty (30) members of practically every State are prohibitionists. All that this "pussy-footer" agent for the Anti-Saloon League has to do is to buy up about 50 members of the Legislature, which he can do for about $3,000 apiece. Whoever heard of a member of a Legislature asking over $3,000 for his vote? Many of these legislators are already dry, so it was only necessary to buy about 10 or 20 other States. So by an expenditure of $3,000,000 this prohibition amendment has

THE CRACK O' DOOM FOR NASTY CALOMEL

Folk's Abandoning Old Drug for "Dodson's Liver Tonic." Here in South.

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you lose a day.

Calomel is mercury! When it comes into contact with your bile, it crumbles into it, breaking it up. Then is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish, if liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tonic tonight.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous, go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tonic is destroying the sale of calomel because it can not siltate or make you sick.

Red Cross Seals Sale Campaign.

Sanatorium, Nov. 29.—Beginning Monday morning, Dec. 1, and continuing ten days Red Cross Christmas Seals will be placed on sale in virtually every community in North Carolina. A total of 9,000,000 seals are being offered for sale in the State this year, of a value of $90,000. The funds derived from the sale of the seals will be used in the State for the cure and prevention of tuberculosis.

In 178 communities of the State there are local committees who will be in charge of the sale of seals. These local committees have undertaken to dispose of amounts ranging from $10 to $6,000.

Greensboro has assumed the lead in the State with a quota of 6,000, the sale being conducted by a special committee headed by Mrs. Max T. Payne, acting under the auspices of the Woman's Club. Mrs. Alan McDonald of Asheville, Mrs. Charles E. Platt of Charlotte, Mrs. Claude B. Barbee of Raleigh, Mrs. Cuthbert Martin of Wilmington, and Dr. R. L. Carlton of Winston-Salem are each chairmen of local committees in these cities which have undertaken to sell $4,000 worth of the seals respectively. Other large amounts include $1,000 in Durham with Mrs. Ernest J. Green as chairman; $1,500 in Fayetteville with Mrs. A. L. Thompson as chairman; $1,000 in Gastonia with Mrs. D. R. LaFar as chairman; $2,000 in Goldsboro with Mrs. J. D. Daniels as chairman; $1,000 in Henderson with Mrs. J. H. Brodie as chairman; $1,000 in Kinston with Miss Susie Perry as chairman; $1,000 in Washington with Mr. Wiley C. Rodman as chairman. Other communities have assumed the sale of seals in amounts from $600 on down to $10.

In forty-four counties of the State in which there are employed rural supervisors for colored schools the negroes have undertaken the sale among the members of their race of a total of $10,000. As a special reward for service rendered a motion picture health car will be sent into each of these counties attaining its quota of sales for a series of twelve exhibitions. Special educational films featuring tuberculosis and general health subjects will be prepared for this service.

To reach those portions of the State where there are no local organizations in charge of the seals an attempt has been made to reach the leading citizens directly by personal letters explaining the reasons for the sale of the Red Cross Christmas Seals and urging the purchase of them to the value of one dollar or more.

Sugar Maple Pays Good Profit.

West Raleigh, Nov. 27.—A little capital, a little push, and some labor is all that is needed to make the sugar maple trees of western N. C. yield on a conservative estimate, three and three-quarters million pounds of sugar annually. These trees are accessible and available for making sugar, and they are located principally in the three counties of Ashe, Watauga and Alleghany. M. W. Hensel, specialist in sugar plant production of the agricultural extension service, has found an abundance of these maple trees, and he believes that the financial possibilities in sight should attract the attention of bankers and business men who should give this industry their encouragement and support.

Figured on the basis of maple syrup, Mr. Hensel finds in these three counties alone at least 468,750 gallons of syrup which can be retailed to the trade at from three to four dollars per gallon. At the lower price the income would be $1,406,520.

LECTURE COURSES AT THE UNIVERSITY.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 25.—After the war problems and reconstruction work are emphasized in the lecture plans of the University of North Carolina, just announced by Dr. W. W. Pierson, Chairman of the Committee on lecture study. The present plans are an elaboration and development of organized lecture study work done by the University for several years.

During the war the University provided numerous lectures on the causes and aspects of the war, but the subject matter has now been changed so that the "emphasis will be placed on the political, economic, social, and intellectual results of the war in so far as they are evident in our contemporary civilization". Special effort is being made to get in touch with teachers' institutes, chambers of commerce, boards of trade, women's clubs, Y. M. C. A. centers, farmers' conventions and meetings, school boards, study clubs and any other organization in the State that may want lectures.

The University, according to the present plans, will undertake to provide virtually any kind of address that is wanted, free save for the expense of the speakers, and the subjects outlined in the most recent leaflet show a wide variety.

Courses of lectures, embracing four, five, and six different lectures, are announced, centering around such subjects as citizenship, Americanization, problems of democracy and reconstruction, and community service. Addresses for special occasions can be provided as the need arises.

Community lecture courses through local organizations are especially recommended by the University. The plan has been tried with success in Winston-Salem, Goldsboro, Kinston, and other cities where community centers have been formed. These organizations, composed of representatives of every class and interest, center their work around one subject and have lectures and discussions from various angles of the subject.

The number of students at the University has become so large that it is becoming difficult to find a building which will hold all of them. Gerard Hall, where chapel exercises have been held every morning for years, will not hold all the freshmen and sophomores, and hence it has become almost impossible to gather the entire body of students to other for discussion of University problems.

In the effort to meet the difficulty the faculty has provided for University assemblies once a month, at which representatives of all classes and groups can gather. President Chase, in the first of these assemblies, outlined the difficulties of keeping life sound and democratic in a large institution and called on the students for a more genuine effort to understand University problems, to participate in them, and so to preserve the democratic spirit which was characteristic of the life on the campus.

Better Country Homes.

Asheville Citizen. The University News Letter has no faith in efforts to persuade those who have fled from the country to return. Says the News Letter: "Back-to-the-farm is pure nonsense. The cityward drift of modern times is like the tide of the sea. The moving of country people into industrial and commercial centers cannot be stopped, and when they move out they rarely ever come back."

But the News Letter, spokesman of the University Extension Bureau, believes that it is possible so to improve the conditions of rural life that people who by nature love the country will remain on the land, and that the few who do return will not find cause to regret that they ever hungered for the scenes of their childhood.

And with this conviction the News Letter is preaching the gospel of more conveniences and comforts in the country regions, such as electric lights and power, sewage disposal, labor-saving machinery, books, music—everything that will make rural life more attractive.

Lacking these things, says the News Letter, preachers, doctors, teachers, and farmers are fleeing from the isolation that broods over vast stretches of America. In 400 square miles of Orange county, says the News Letter, there are only two ministers living in the country with their flocks, and not a doctor lives in the country districts of the county.

Here, says the News Letter, is a problem that is foundational. Land grants to soldiers and sailors, long-term notes to enable any citizen who longs to return to the soil, no such remedy strikes at the heart of the problem. Not until the country is built up with wide-awake school teachers and the homes and farms are equipped with the conveniences of modern life will any considerable body of the people be content to endure the hardships and loneliness of the rural sections. The call of the News Letter to students, educators, and legislators to work together for the creation of a new environment in the country must be heard and must result in thoughtful action if what has been known as country life is to be rescued from practical extinction.

These are a few of the symptoms that indicate your blood is weak and anemic and lacking in red corpuscles. Vigorous young men and women all have rich red blood, but age and worry and hardship take the power and strength out of this life fluid. You can supply what the blood lacks, you can enrich the blood, you can bring back the strength and vigor you once had, if you will take a teaspoonful of Acid Iron Mineral three times a day. You'll note the effect, first, in an increased appetite—food will begin to taste good. The next improvement will show in your sleep—you will awaken in the morning refreshed and feeling like a new person. Your friends will remark the improvement in your appearance and you yourself will feel as you know you ought to feel. You can accomplish all these things by simply putting more iron into your blood, through the use of a natural form of soluble iron, known as Acid Iron Mineral. It contains no alcohol or injurious drugs, and will not blacken the teeth. Pills and tonics said to contain iron may have disappointed you in the past, but Acid Iron Mineral will start improvement that you can see, in a very short time. Try this method of putting iron into your blood—it cannot fail. Druggists will refund the purchase price cheerfully if you fail to receive the improvement you seek.
