HOEY WINS.

At the election held in the 9th congressional district Tuesday to elect a member of Congress to succeed Judge E. Y. Webb, resigned to accept Federal Judgeship, Hon. Clyde R. Hoey, Democrat, and Hon. J. Motley Morehead, Republican, were opposing candidates. It was a short and vigorous campaign, and both sides were bent on winning. No doubt both Democrats and Republicans are a little disappointed at the result—the Democratic majority being somewhat less than was expected and the Republican vote being larger than was expected. No doubt the Morehead forces did everything and used every means to win. Hoey's majority ranges between 1,100 and 1,500. There are nine counties in the district, four of which were carried for Morehead.

Hoey will make a worthy successor to Webb.

Dr. Garfield has resigned as Fuel Administrator, because President Wilson settled the coal miners' strike which he seemed to be unable to do. The wage advance is the same—14 percent—as that worked out by Dr. Garfield, but the latter claims the burden of advance will fall upon the consumer instead of the mine operator. That phase is yet to be worked out, but nevertheless the miners have returned to work and the country is relieved of the prospect of a disastrous coal famine.

The Peace Treaty settlement remains the big question. It must be settled before the world gets squarely on its feet. Senator Hitchcock, the administration leader in the Senate, indicated in a great speech in Charlotte Monday night that the administration would make reasonable concessions.

Mr. Herbert Hoover, Food Administrator, says 15 to 20 millions of people in central Europe face starvation. It is still up to America to feed Europe, or famine will kill more than did German and Allied guns combined.

Ordered to Swallow a Cigarette, But Didn't.

New York, Dec. 15.—Testimony that he had disobeyed an order from Capt. Karl W. Detzer to swallow a lighted cigarette was given today by Private Marcello Gonzales of San Antonio, Texas, at the court-martial on Governor's Island of Captain Detzer, charged with brutality to prisoners in criminal investigation headquarters at LeMans.

The charge that Gonzales had been compelled to eat the cigarette was one of the most sensational of the 28 specifications facing the officer, who as commander of the 28th military police company, had charge of investigation work in the entire troop area.

A previous witness had testified to hearing the order given, but said he did not see what became of the cigarette, as he had left the room. Gonzales stated that despite the order, he had flung the "butt" to the floor of the guardhouse.

If the peace treaty should be made the issue in the next presidential campaign, do you guess Lodge would consider the logical G. O. P. candidate? You will not need two guesses.

When the inevitable comes, prices fall and the big profiteers cash in their ill-gotten gains, then upon the righteous will fall the duty of praying God to have mercy on the poor new-ribs.

STRAIN TOO GREAT

Hundreds of Graham Readers Find Daily Toil a Burden.

The hustle and worry of business men.

The hard work and stooping of workmen.

The woman's household cares.

Often weaken the kidneys.

Backache, headache, dizziness.

Kidney troubles, urinary troubles—frequently fall.

A Graham citizen tells you what to do.

Let T. E. Redmon, shoemaker tell it: "My work obliges me to do a lot of stooping and it weakened my back so I could hardly straighten up. The pain was all day long. I used a few doses of your medicine and my back and I was in misery all the time. I hear a whole lot about Doan's Kidney Pills so I started taking them. After I used a few doses they relieved all the misery. Whenever I haven't felt right since, Doan's have fixed me up in good shape. Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Redmon had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y."

HAWFIELDS COMMUNITY

Has Accomplished Much Worthy of its Fine Citizenship.
Hon. R. W. Scott in University News Letter.

The News Letter item about the Pleasant Garden School and Community suggests to me a few words about the Hawfields Community in Alamance county. It has one of the best country brick churches in this section. Near the church is the cemetery, one of the best kept in the State. An endowment fund of $3,500 was raised and invested in Liberty Bonds. Only the interest is used for the upkeep of the cemetery. The minister lives in the manse, one of the best residences in the community. With the manse is thirty acres of land, enough to supply wood, pasture, and garden.

The school was established in 1902 by voting a local tax. Some years later it was made a State high school, and now it offers courses in vocational agriculture. Boys who will never go to college are being taught agriculture, and they will go back to the farms with knowledge and pride in farming. We know that few college graduates in agriculture go back to the farms.

At one time this school furnished more teachers in the public schools of the county than any other school. Students have gone direct from this school to Davidson, University of North Carolina, Elon, the A. and E. College, and North Carolina College for Women. A boy from this school went to Davidson and made the highest grade that ever was made there and then at the Union Theological Seminary made the highest average that had been made in twenty-five years. One student at the A. and E. taking the agriculture course, won the Inter-College Debate medal, Oratory medal, Track medal and Loving Cup for track athletics.

Best of all, boys that are graduates are returning to their old homes to farm, one from the Mississippi Agricultural College, one from the A. and E., and one from the University. This community furnished the young man who cared for and fed the Jersey cow that made the highest record of any cow in the South.

Hawfields has not only in the past held very creditable community fairs, but this year contributed to the Mebane fair, bringing home the first prize of $100 for the best exhibit. It also made a fine display of poultry. Not only this, but the community contributed most of the county exhibit that went to the State fair.

There is no community where greater harmony and good feeling and less jealousy exist. There never has in the history of the school been any division among the trustees, teachers, or parents. There is much to do yet on roads, soil, and in farm improvements. Conveniences in the homes will have to have attention in the future. Can any community in the State equal or better this? And this has all been accomplished by people in very moderate circumstances and in a community where neither tobacco nor cotton is raised.

Feeding for Egg Production.

Dr. B. F. Kaupp, Office of Poultry Investigations.

The grain part of feed for laying chickens may consist of equal parts whole corn and cracked corn is used by many, but it is not necessary to have the corn cracked and we do not recommend this if it increases the cost of the feed. Fowls should be allowed free range. Fence your garden and not your fowls. Give one pint measure full of grain mixture to each twelve hens twice a day.

In order to secure the largest number of eggs from hens it is necessary to feed them milk and other ground feed as a dry mash or dry mixture. For this dry mash there may be used 100 pounds of corn meal (unbolted will do), 100 pounds middlings and 20 pounds meat scrap. Animal food is necessary if we are to obtain the most eggs, we therefore recommend the addition of meat scrap. Tankage will do if meat scrap cannot be obtained, and milk will also make a good substitute. One-half the corn meal can be replaced with either soybean meal or peanut meal. The egg yolks from hens fed heavily on milk are apt to be quite pale in color, which is objectionable from a market viewpoint. Too much milk may cause diarrhea. The milk vessels must be kept scrupulously clean.

Green feed is also required by fowls. This can be furnished by sowing a small patch of oats, cowpeas, or in some seasons by planting rape. Birds are very fond of young tender bur clover, also cowpeas and rape.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured—With Local Applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surface of the inflamed parts. Catarrh Medicine was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best foodstuffs. The perfect combination of ingredients in Hall's Catarrh Medicine is what produces such wonderful results in catarrh of all kinds. Send for testimonials, free.

In a defiant note to the United States, a bandit chief warns us that "if the American Army enters Mexico they will never come out again." There's more truth than poetry to that. But the only thing that is worrying the politicians is whether it will vote Republican or Democratic 10 years from now.

Good Health

Vigorous Health Only as Far Away as the Use of Pepto-Mangan.
Creates Rich, Red Blood
Pepto-Mangan Obtainable in Liquid or Tablet Form on "Gude," the Genuine.

There is really no reason why men or women with thin, watery blood and consequent poor health should remain in that unfortunate condition. Thin, nervous, run-down, tired people never get much happiness out of life.

Men and women with the bloom of health in their cheeks, a cheerful, sunny disposition and an attractive personality are the folks who get most of life's enjoyment, pleasure and success.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan furnishes thin, watery blood with the necessary nourishment to enrich it, enabling it to supply energy, vitality, and strength to every part of the body.

Physicians recommend Gude's Pepto-Mangan to patients suffering from anemia because its beneficial and lasting qualities are well known to the medical profession.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is obtainable in either liquid or tablet form. Both forms contain exactly the same strength and medicinal properties.

When you buy Pepto-Mangan of your druggist, be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

Cor. of The Gleaner.
Chapel Hill, N. C., Dec. 17.—The fall quarter of the University of North Carolina will end December 20, and the Christmas holiday will begin that day. Examinations started Tuesday, December 16. They will last, therefore, only four days. This is much shorter than in former years, partly due to the change in the curriculum, this year whereby the collegiate year was divided into three terms instead of two. The fall term was shorter than it had ever been before.

The great majority of the thirteen hundred students now on the campus are expected to leave for their homes immediately after completing their examinations. Many members of the faculty will leave also to attend scientific meetings, scholarly and educational associations, and other professional engagements, and Chapel Hill will be a quieter village than at any other time of the year.

January 5 is the date for the beginning of the new quarter. Many new students are expected to enter the University at that time. It is pointed out by university authorities that under the new quarter system, it is much easier and more convenient for students to begin work after Christmas than in former years. Many courses are repeated each quarter, and students entering at the beginning of the third quarter can adjust their courses so that by utilizing the fourth quarter of the year, which comes in the summer school, they can make up easily for not being able to enter the university at the beginning of the collegiate year.

More than two hundred high schools have already joined the high school debating union for 1920, according to E. R. Rankin, secretary of the committee on arrangements. This is more than the total number of schools in the union last year. During the seven years in which the State-wide debates have been held the average number of schools participating has been 231, with the high water mark of 231 schools in 1917. Unsettled conditions cut into the list last year.

Restricted immigration will be the subject for 1920. A hundred-page bulletin has been prepared by the university committee and will be distributed January 1 to all schools in the union. It will contain outlines and arguments on both sides of the query and references to sources from which further material can be obtained. The committee estimates that an average of 80,000 persons in the State has listened to the debates each year.

The triangular debates throughout the State will be held in March and the final contest at the university will be held in April, the exact dates to be announced later.

MORGENTHAU PLEADS FOR HELPING HAND IN THE NEAR EAST

Former Ambassador to Turkey Says America Should Not Let Armenian Allies Starve.

By HENRY MORGENTHAU, Former Ambassador to Turkey and Leader in Near East Relief.

If they were good enough to fight and die for us when we needed their help so sorely, they are good enough now to share some meager little crumbs from our plenty when they have nothing, when hundreds of thousands of them are homeless, uncared, and threatened with extermination by their enemies and our own.

Not far from a million Christians have been murdered by their Turkish oppressors. Hungry, terror-stricken hundreds of thousands of refugees now look to the United States for succor.

Have Trust in America. We cannot refuse. Next to their faith in God is their trust in the disinterested good will and generosity of the American people. They look to us as the human agency to extricate them from the frightful situation in which they have been left as a consequence of the war.

If we should fail to aid them, starvation and the winter's cold would go far to completing the work done by the unspcakable Turk.

I have not seen with my own eyes the wretchedness inconvertible to those who have not the first-hand impression of the savagery of the Mussulman.

Exiled From Homes. Since the beginning of the war the Turkish Armenians have been largely refugees from their homes. A simple agricultural people, they have been exiles from their farms, deprived of all opportunity to support themselves.

Year by year their sufferings have increased. Now, a year after fighting has ceased, they are still living the life of nomads, able to continue to keep alive only by virtue of American philanthropy.

Such homeless people—"filthy insects" to the Turk—were good enough to exert their poor might in our behalf while the war was still in the balance. Massacres of a half century had not so broken their spirit that they dared not fight for right and for the cause of the oppressed.

We accepted their aid then. Surely we shall not pass them by without compassion now.

The day has passed when any self-respecting man dares permit absorption in his own personal affairs to exclude consideration of his neighbor's well-being. No honorable man can knowingly allow his neighbor to hunger or to go unclothed. The Christian people of the Near East are our neighbors. The money needed to relieve them can be spared without causing any man, woman or child in the United States to suffer.

Must Not Rest on Past. In other years of our own free will we sent missionaries to Turkey. Our schools and colleges and hospitals have played a wonderful role in humanizing that dark spot in the world.

Our ideas, our educational resources, our material equipment, have been heaven in the Near East. Because we have done well in times past we have this great opportunity for the present. The Armenians have been treated as perhaps no people in history have been treated because they are the spiritual brothers of western races.

Will America help them? There can be but one answer. Their necessity is dire, but our power is great. We are wealthy. We are a member of the family of nations. Our brothers call for our clothes, money, are immediately wanted. If ever unmerited suffering called for succor the plight of the Armenians should be heeded now. A few months more and it may be too late for those who would help them only we can save. We shall not fail them.

THIN PEOPLE NEED MORE IRON IN THE BLOOD

New Form of Liquid Iron Feeds the Tissues through the Blood—Builds Firm Flesh—Fills out the Hollows

Appearances count for a lot in this world, and if you are thin and scrawny and "peppery weight," you can't help but feel sensitive and envious of your neighbor who is plump and sturdy and who looks well nourished.

But there is another side—thin people are usually sick people. The food they eat does not give them the proper nourishment—or perhaps they are extremely nervous. The blood does not make strength and nerve and flesh as it does in the normal person.

It is a remarkable characteristic of Acid Iron Mineral—the new natural form of soluble iron—that it is a great flesh builder. Thin people who take it find after a short time that the hollows are filling out, that the flesh becomes firm and healthy, that even within so short a space as a single month, a becoming plumpness and soft curved lines of beauty have replaced angles and scrawiness.

Thin people who take Acid Iron Mineral to improve their appearance, and they will find their health benefited at the same time. Physicians say that this power to build new tissues and firm flesh is due to the extraordinary attraction the blood has for this particular combination of iron.
