

THE GLEANER

ISSUED EVERY THURSDAY. J. D. KERNODLE, Editor. $1.00 A YEAR, IN ADVANCE.

The Republicans will hold a State convention in Greensboro on March 3rd. They are getting ready for the fray.

Clyde R. Healy was sworn in Monday as a member of Congress to succeed Judge E. Y. Webb. It was the occasion of a big Democratic demonstration. A dry smile came from the other side.

A Mid-Winter session of the North Carolina Press Association meets in Greensboro to-day and tomorrow. The meeting is a purely business one in which conditions affecting the scarcity of print paper and other matters affecting the craft will be seriously discussed.

John D. Rockefeller made a Christmas present of $100,000,000. This princely gift has received much publicity through the press. It is commendable to give for all worthy purposes, but the consumer of kerosene oil has lately found that he has to pay a few cents more for every gallon he buys. Conclusion: The consumer is footing the bill.

Last Friday night the government began a big round-up of radicals—those who would overthrow and destroy the government of the United States if they could. All of that ilk should be handled with unglorified hands, which seems to be the disposition of the government. Many hundreds have been arrested. If the law is not ample for handling this class, Congress should lose no time in enacting all-sufficient laws.

You've often heard it said that "prohibition does not prohibit." Whether true or not, it is certain that the consumption of wood alcohol pretty effectually stops drinking, for, according to reports from New York and some of the New England States, there were many deaths which resulted from drinking this kind of liquid. The government is probing the traffic and a number of the dealers have been put under bond, some as much as $100,000.

It has been two weeks since a negro named Green sold and instantly killed R. M. Brown at Franklinton for being quietly asked not to smoke in the moving picture show. The community took the law into their own hands and Green was lynched in less than an hour afterward. Brown is said to have been a most exemplary citizen. The circumstances, doubtless, were most provoking, but it is always better to let law and order prevail. Mob law may meet out justice, but is demoralizing at best.

NOTICE!

There will be a reassembling in the court house Friday evening, January 9th, at 7:30 for the purpose of discussing the two proposed bond issues which are to be voted upon January 20th. There will be interesting speakers and it is hoped that all those who are interested in the schools of the town and the sanitary conditions will be present to hear the facts on these two vital questions. R. L. HOLMES, Mayor.

NOTICE!

The registration books for the two bond issues are now open at the store of Crawford & McDanns and will close Saturday, January 17th. It is hoped that all who are interested in the schools of the town and the sanitary conditions will register and come out to the polls on January 20th. R. L. HOLMES, Mayor.

NOTICE!

Complaint has been made to the Mayor and Town Commissioners by the Fire Chief in regard to the dry leaves and inflammable matter around the resident section of the town. In order to prevent fires it is earnestly requested that those who have these conditions existing around their premises take steps as soon as possible to correct this condition. R. L. HOLMES, Mayor.

NOTICE!

General Wood didn't get across but his friends hope to put him over. The world will be nearer the millennium when war becomes as hard to make as peace. Come to think of it the federal treasury might as well foot the bill for carrying freight as to foot the bill for carrying mail. The Pope condemns present styles of women's dress "as immodest and unchristian." They may be worse than that, but so long as they are fashionable they'll be worn by such women as know no higher decree than Dame Fashion's. Break your Cold or LaGrippe with few doses of 666

Little Montenegro a Land of Eternal Strife. Centuries-Old Customs of Feuds and Vendettas Maintained—Republicans and Monarchists Keep the Country in Turmoil.

While the allied statesmen at Paris deliberate on the fate of the nations of Europe, Montenegro continues its century-long customs of feuds, vendettas, shooting frays and inter-tribe strife, and accessories outwardly give little attention to the fate reserved for it by the great powers.

There is a semblance of a local government, but Serbia exercises a preponderating influence in the affairs of the country.

There is a faction of the people which desires a return of the King Nicholas and the restoration of the monarchy. There is constant strife between the royalists and the republicans, the disorders usually taking the form of fatal shooting combats in the mountains. Feeling runs high.

The republicans accuse the monarchists of being merely a return of the vendetta, despotic mountaineers who respect neither law nor life, to kill the leaders of their party.

These shooting and stabbing affairs usually take place in sections where the royalists are the strongest. The casualties sometimes are serious. Not a day goes by but the American doctors attached to the Red Cross mission at Cetinje, Podgoritz and Kolacina are not called upon to treat victims of these encounters. At Podgoritz there have been as high as twenty wounded natives at the Red Cross hospital at one time.

There also are a considerable number of Italian and Albanian soldiers who have been to the United States and boasted American citizenship. All professed a desire to give up fighting and return to America. The attack on the Italians took place the next day and many casualties on both sides are reported.

Slightly smaller than the state of Connecticut in area, Montenegro has a population of less than a quarter of a million. Even this small number is difficult to get enough out of the soil to support life. The country is rocky, desolate and barren. It might be called a huge pile of stones. An American visitor remarked that its national emblem should be a tombstone. Its mountains for the most part are woodless and bare, and its valleys are made productive only by careful husbandry of the soil and intensive farming.

Ericsson Sought Power From Sun. To Americans perhaps the most interesting of all experiments in this field of vast promise was John Ericsson, the engineer who invented the Monitor in the Civil war. Ericsson, a man of great scientific imagination, was early caught by the lure of the sun-power scheme and he devoted several years of effort to it. It is said that he spent upwards of $100,000 in an effort to perfect some mechanism for harnessing the sun's energy. Benjamin Harrison, President, was early caught by the lure of the sun-power scheme and he devoted several years of effort to it. It is said that he spent upwards of $100,000 in an effort to perfect some mechanism for harnessing the sun's energy.

"A couple of thousand years, perhaps much less, dropped in the ocean of time will completely exhaust the world's coal fields and leave man destitute of his chief source of fuel and power unless in the meantime he finds a way of employing the heat of the sun."

Ericsson invented seven different forms of sun motors, all successful in a small way, but the fires of his genius were dying down, and he was unable to bring his plans to the state of perfection required.

Grizzly Bear Aptly. Grizzly bears in such numbers that they lost count of the animals seen, is the story brought to Vancouver recently by J. McHugh, resident engineer of the Dominion fisheries from the headwaters of the Bella Coola river, says a Canadian dispatch.

He spent three weeks in the wilds. He went North by one of the Canadian Pacific coast steamers to Bella Coola, and thence by canoe and portage to the Atanarko and Whitewater rivers to the headwaters. They were following the spawning salmon and clearing the streams to let the fish get to the spawning grounds. Large numbers of grizzly bears attracted to the stream by the numberless fish made night life in camp a restless dream. The Indian guides shot a number of the animals.

Why not send the Reds to Mexico and let Nature take its course?

A MERCILESS JUDGE

one Who Shows no Favor. A merciless judge is Father Time. Before him the weak and the waning go to the wall. Only the truth can stand. For years the following statement from a Graham resident has withstood the sternest of all tests. Mrs. R. C. Phillips, Guthrie St., gave the following statement in December, 1907: "I suffered a great deal from kidney trouble for several years, says Mrs. Phillips. I was very nervous at times, felt weak and my sight became blurred. I was using Doan's Kidney Pills and was soon feeling better. I have gained steadily since taking this remedy."

On July 11, 1915, Mrs. Phillips added, "Doan's Kidney Pills have not equal and I can say they have done me a world of good in relieving the pains in my back and regulating my kidneys. I would not go without a box of this remedy on hand." Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Doan, Buffalo, N. Y.

REFUSES TO BE COMFORTED

Given Remedy for Potato Bug Pest, Pestilist Digs Up Another Tale of Woe. A Kansas City farmer has proposed a scheme for doing away with potato bugs—no simple that it seems ridiculous. Perhaps not much dependence is to be placed in agricultural suggestions offered by a Kansas City farmer. Kansas farmers should command instant respect, but we would not be inclined to have faith in a Kansas City farmer much more than in a Manhattan farmer. However, this hint may be taken for what it is worth. The Kansas City idea is that all that is necessary to keep the potato bugs away is to plant one bean in the hill with the seed potato. It seems that the bugs hate beans.

Perhaps they do. Anyway, in our own experience we can testify that we have never seen potato bugs feeding on bean vines. It would be a logical assumption that they will not venture into the presence of beans. So far as we have observed there has not been a potato bug in our garden this season. Perhaps, that is because we did not plant any potatoes. But garden devotees or encourage all kinds of bugs besides potato bugs. That is one of the harassing experiences of about every amateur gardener. And if it is not bugs it is something else. Just as you get your garden growing well, along come a couple of calves or a herd of cows and eat off the tops of everything. The bovine tribe seems to have a peculiar fondness for young corn. Only a person with bitter experience can fully appreciate the significance of that old nursery appeal to Little Boy Blue to blow his horn on account of the cow's being in the corn.

Between the pests that bite the roots or mutilate the leaves and those that eat or trample the plants it is mighty hard to raise growing things.—F. H. Young in Providence Journal.

SEE BEGINNING OF NEW ERA. People of Helgoland Will Welcome Return of Visitors to the Unfortunate Little Island. The change which dug a huge fortress a hundred feet deep in the cliffs, covered them with gun emplacements and gridded them with a labyrinth of fifty feet thick was a more than doubtful blessing, and Helgoland must have found her transformation into the most notorious and sinister speck of land in the world a severe strain on her zeal for the fatherland.

When the war actually came her fishermen were exiles; for they were one at all shipped off to the mainland and the island was given over to the guns and the gunner. It is now thrown open again, and a beginning has been made with the dismantling of its mighty forts. The inhabitants will cheerfully see the last of the guns, and apparently they would like, too, to be quit of German taxation; but they hope quite reasonably, that the island's final disappearance may be at least delayed by leaving the great seawalls the Germans built.

First Electric Fire Alarm Sounded in Boston in 1852

The first fire alarm ever given by electricity was by the Boston system, from Box 7 of District 1, on the old Cooper Street church, Boston, at 8:25 p. m., April 29, 1852. It was sent in by G. H. Goodale and received at the headquarters of the system in Police Station 2, Court square, by Charles Carlton Coffin, who afterward became famous as a war correspondent and writer of Civil War books, who was one of the first operators of the system.

Pale Children Need Gude's Pepto-Mangan

Unnatural for Children to be Pale and Thin—Paleness is Sign of Thin, Watery Blood. Pepto-Mangan Makes Red Blood. Prepared to Liquid and Tablet Form—Both Possess Identical Medicinal Qualities.

It is necessary for boys and girls to laugh, romp, play, and enjoy themselves, for it is at that stage of life that the foundation is laid for future health. Prompt attention should be given to the child who seldom laughs, whose physical condition prevents playing like the other children, whose appetite is poor, and who tires easily.

If the lassitude is due to poor blood, which is often the case, a simple, safe, and pleasant remedy is within easy reach. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is just the tonic for pale, thin children. Gude's Pepto-Mangan contains the very ingredients that increase and enrich the blood, enabling it to supply the entire body with the sorely needed vigor, strength and vitality that make happy, romping children.

For the convenience of the public Pepto-Mangan is prepared in tablet as well as liquid form. Both forms possess exactly the same medicinal properties. When you ask the druggist for Pepto-Mangan, look for the name "Gude's" on the package. If it is not there it is not Pepto-Mangan.

HOW MUCH DO YOU SHOW YOUR AGE?

A new form of Natural Iron enriches the blood—smooths out wrinkles—strengthens the nerves—wards off old age.

When you begin to show and feel your age, it is because your blood is thin and weak—it no longer carries life and strength to different parts of the body. The man or woman with warm, rich red blood retains the appearance and feelings of youth, in spite of the creeping years. To ward off the feebleness and appearance of old age is simply a matter of keeping the blood pure and rich and filled with life and vigor. Iron is the greatest and surest blood maker, but heretofore the difficulty has been to procure it in a form which the human system would absorb in sufficient quantities to bring satisfactory results. Pills and tonics said to contain iron have usually brought only disappointment. But now there need be no longer any doubt or question, for a successful and reliable method of getting iron into the blood is assured by the use of a natural form of soluble iron known as Acid Iron Mineral. There are thousands of cases on record that prove this natural iron is a powerful blood and nerve builder. For want of iron in the blood, you may be old at thirty, or you are more readily subject to the attack of disease without warning, or you will find yourself growing feebler day by day. If you want to feel the elasticity of youth in your veins, and avoid all the complications and disappointments of increasing age, you will start taking Acid Iron Mineral at once. It contains no alcohol or injurious ingredients, and it will not blacken the teeth like most preparations of iron. Druggists will refund the purchase price cheerfully, if you fail to receive the improvement you seek.

The Successful Farmer

Raises Bigger Crops and cuts down costs by investment in labor-saving machinery. Good prices for the farmers' crops encourage new investment, more production and greater prosperity. But the success of agriculture depends on the growth of railroads—the modern beasts of burden that haul the crops to the world's markets. The railroads—like the farms—increase their output and cut down unit costs by the constant investment of new capital. With fair prices for the work they do, the railroads are able to attract new capital for expanding their facilities. Rates high enough to yield a fair return will insure railroad growth, and prevent costly traffic congestion, which invariably results in poorer service at higher cost. National wealth can increase only as our railroads grow. Poor railroad service is dear at any price. No growing country can long pay the price of inadequate transportation facilities.
