

A SAFE STOCK FOR ALL

OLD KING SOLOMON WAS A WISE OLD BIRD

Knew How to Save His Shelves By Putting Them Into Safest Investments Bankers Could Find.

Old King Solomon was a wise bird. He distributed a lot of mighty good advice. But he is dead. You will have to make your own decisions and determine your own course of action and your own future.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT OUTLINES REMEDY

Tells How High Cost of Living Problems May Be Solved by Every Man and Woman.

President Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia University, in a recent discussion of the high living costs said: "Punishing profiteers is a good thing, but it won't reduce the cost of living."

SING A SONG OF SAVINGS STAMPS

Sing a song of Savings Stamps, The cost of living's high. But have you counted all the things These Savings Stamps will buy?

OUR NEW VIRTUE

In fog or sunshine, snow or rain, it's comforting to have this thought—I have not spent my every gain, and thus reduced my funds to naught—It's pleasant through the muggy days to sit inside a cozy room, and realize the dismal haze cannot surround you with its gloom; to know, through purchase wisely made, investment planned with sober care, your income's bulk will never fade, but through such rainy days—upbeat! Last year and this, an agency for teaching folks this gospel bright has strenuously impressed on me the way to duck the water-bright; "A dollar saved—the interest gained"—this is the lesson sound and true, which keeps the wayward dollar chained and makes the 4 per cent accrue. Thrift! That's the answer to you, sir! The thing that flamed our battle lamps, and helped to down the Prussian cur; in other words, WAR SAVINGS STAMPS.

CHARGE OF THE STAMP BRIGADE.

Just a stamp, just a stamp. Just a stamp on your wayward; into the valley of life Go many hundred.

Remember Old Friends. "What? A holiday greetings card with old Bill's name scribbled across it? . . . Good old Bill! Why, it's 11 years almost since we saw each other, and here he's not forgotten me even yet! . . . Huh, Mary, you needn't be so all-fired proud of that scarf Aunt Susie sent you. This may be only a colored postcard, but, by George, it's from Bill! . . . Well, well—this sure is Christmas!"

The armistice cleared the sea of U. boats but your financial craft can be just as effectively sunk without trace by foolish investment in wild-card stocks. Government Securities, War Savings Stamps and Liberty Bonds are safe.

The armistice ended the war but like typhoid, the after effects must be given close care and attention. Wise financial physicians prescribe the strong tonic of Thrift and the regular absorptions of War Savings

The promises of reduced prices are about as reliable as advertisements of hair tonics to make hair grow on bald heads.

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Dr. J. C. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy.

What is CASTORIA? Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years The Kind You Have Always Bought

Methodists Save Belgian and Serbian Orphans

Nashville, Tenn.—The Centenary Commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will specialize in caring for the children of Belgium, Serbia and other stricken countries of Europe, according to an announcement made by Dr. W. B. Beauchamp, the district superintendent.

The Kitchen Cabinet.

Persons who are conscious of a necessity for "killing time" are likely to be living. For life is such a wonderful thing, such a fascinating thing, such an all-absorbing joyous experience, that it is impossible to tolerate the suggestion of killing even a second of time in which we have the privilege of living.

Health Bonds Popular.

The demand for the Health Bonds which the National Tuberculosis Association issued this year for the first time are meeting with a ready sale. The bonds are in graduated denominations, the smallest being for $5. In the past some of the large business houses and other large contributors found it difficult to use up the number of Red Cross Bonds the subscriptions called for. The bonds have been issued for the convenience of large subscribers and the proceeds of their sale will be used for the same purpose as the Christmas Seal funds—the financing of the 1920 effort to reduce the number of deaths from tuberculosis in the United States.

Almond Cakes.

Use any good white cookie recipe, roll out the cookies, then spread with maple fondant and sprinkle with chopped almonds while they are still warm from the oven.

Ways With Grape Juice.

The thrifty housewife who has bottled enough grape juice to supply her family with many tasty dishes and drinks is fortunate. Grape juice is so popular with everybody that it is becoming the universal drink. But grape juice may be used for various dishes besides, of which the following are a few:

Grape Juice Sherbet.

Boil together one quart of water and two cupsful of sugar (strained honey may be used) for 20 minutes; add a teaspoonful of gelatin which has been softened in three tablespoonsful of cold water. When cold add two cupsful of grape juice and the juice of one lemon. Freeze. Serve in sherbet glasses with a cherry for garnish.

Grape Juice Parfait.

Beat until stiff one and one-half cupsful of heavy cream, add one-half cupful of grape juice and the juice of a lemon. Cook together in the soft ball stage three-fourths of a cupful of sugar and one-half cupful of grape juice, then pour boiling hot water over the stiffly beaten egg white; beat until cold. Fold the two mixtures together and pour into a quart mold, filled to overflowing. Lay a waxed paper over the mixture and press the cover in place over the paper. Pack in equal measures of ice and salt. Let stand three hours.

BUY THRIFT STAMPS.

BUY THRIFT STAMPS. BUY THRIFT STAMPS. BUY THRIFT STAMPS.

THIS CITY BUILT WHILE YOU WAIT

Fourth Largest Town in Alabama Full Grown in One Year.

HAD A MODEL GOVERNMENT

Permanent Settlement Around U. S. Nitrate Plant Presented Unusual Problems.

By GARRET SMITH.

The fourth largest city in Alabama, peopled with 25,000 souls of diverse races and religions, uprooted from far scattered communities in every part of the United States and Canada sprang into being almost overnight around the great new government ammonium nitrate plant down on the open cotton and corn fields at Muscle Shoals on the Tennessee River during the last year of the World War.

The job was in the hands of the Atr Nitrate Corporation which had been organized under the direction of the Ordnance Department to build plant and city at Muscle Shoals. Early in January, 1918, this new town and a few temporary buildings and a population of 300. This had jumped by the middle of August to more than 21,000. A population multiplied by 70 in 7 months.

In the management of the new towns and army cantonments that sprang up during the war the old-time evils that attended the growth of mushroom cities have been avoided by the application of modern welfare systems. But nowhere were conditions more difficult than at Muscle Shoals. Here was a malarial region threatened at the same time with the deadly disease epidemics. Transportation was lacking. No nearby labor was available and the general labor shortage was at its most acute stage. Costs of labor and supplies were leaping over night. Furthermore, Muscle Shoals differed from all the other new war towns inasmuch as it was to be permanent.

New Government Devised. The managers, besides city government, had to handle the entire retail business of the town. A camp supervisor's department was put in charge of the maintenance of all buildings, fire protection and sanitation. The camp supervisor looked after everything from the mending of a lock to the remodeling of groups of buildings or laying sewers or steam mains. For the bachelor contingent a commissary department was necessary. The business department managed the stores, canteens, motion picture theaters, pool parlors, tatter shops, dry cleaning establishments, barber shops, newsstands, hotel, vegetable farm and a hog farm where 1,000 hogs were raised on the wastes from eating places. It maintained a slaughter house where these hogs were put through the regular packing house course. It operated a laundry which cleaned 7,400 garments a day. Then there was a real estate department that rented and managed the family quarters and a housing department which assigned to quarters everybody excepting the families.

Under separate jurisdiction from its community director was the police. The health department, in charge of a physician from New York city, started with a small office in one of the temporary buildings, and was soon full grown and splendidly equipped. Conditions were favorable to disease. The winter was the severest on record in northern Alabama. The men were compelled to work either in deep snow or mud above their knees. As a result a pneumonia epidemic developed among the Negroes that spring. Later in the year a typhoid epidemic was threatened. Moreover, the site of the plant was in the heart of the malarial district. But the pneumonia epidemic was checked, the typhoid threat nipped in the bud, and malaria stamped out.

A Health Record Established. The little first-aid hospital presently grew to a complete modern institution with a nurses' home and a separate dispensary for dental, eye, ear, nose, throat, genito-urinary clinics and a surgical dispensary for first-aid work.

Sympathetic Neighborhood. "How do you go about locating a 'will' in these parts?" asked the stranger. "Be you a revenuer?" asked the ancient mountaineer. "Oh, no, I'm a newspaper man, spending my vacation up here in the hills."

"Is that so? Well, I never yet heard tell of one of yer paper fellows that didn't have a powerful thirst. You just set 'em a spell, senny, an' some of 'em boys'll git so durned sorry for you they'll come right up an' offer to lead you to a 'still.'"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children In Use For Over 30 Years

Always bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Procession of Splendor.

In the whole gallery of war pictures, it may be doubted if any could have been more colorful than those composed by the remarkable British campaign in which Colonel Lawrence, archaeologist by pre-war profession, gathered and led the desert host of Arabs. "The order of march," says Colonel Lawrence, describing the entrance of the conquerors into the town of El-Witb, "was splendid and barbaric. Faisal rode in front dressed in pure white. I was on his left, also in white, and on his right was another sheereef wearing a red headcloth and a tunic and cloak dyed with henna, and behind us were Bedouins carrying three banners of purple silk, topped with gold spikes, and behind them rode three drummers playing a march, and they were followed by a wild, bouncing mass of 8,000 camels that constituted our bodyguard, the men in every variety of colored gown and headpiece, and the camels equally brilliant in their trappings, and the whole crowd singing at the top of their voices a war song in honor of Faisal and his family." Memory runs over accounts of conquering hosts of all ages and finds nothing, as the English leader himself describes it, more barbaric and splendid.

He Was Startling Young. "You fill the palls with sand, and let me turn them out," suggested six-year-old Jack to little Doris as they played on the beach. His playmate obediently complied. "Now we'll build a castle, and you shall fetch the water to go round it," exclaimed Jack. Duttily the little maid struggled up and down the beach, carrying buckets of water. "Can't you fetch the water now, Jack," she suggested, "and let me pour it round?" "Girls can't do that properly," answered the boy. "Let's paddie. But, I say, Doris, do you want to marry me when you grow up?" "Yes—oh, yes!" Doris was delighted at the prospect. The boy, however, assumed a bored air, and lazily extended his feet toward her. "Very well then," he said nonchalantly. "If you're going to be my wife, take off my shoes and stockings!"—Pearson's Weekly.

Early "Domestic Problem." The one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the Massachusetts Charitable Fire society, recently observed in Boston, looks back to a time in that city when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the garret." The recommendation was made at one of the society's earliest meetings, but seems not to have been carried into effect; one may imagine that even so far back in time when it was considered desirable that "servants be obliged to go to bed before the householder, and not be permitted to carry a lighted candle to a bedroom in the