SOME 1200 AT UNIVERSITY SUMMER SCHOOL.

Number of institutes for various Social and Civic Work to be held.

Cor. of The Gleaner.

Chapel Hill, N. C., June 29.—With attendance sweeping up to the 1200 mark, a limit fixed only by the capacity of the University to accommodate students, the 33rd session of the University of North Carolina summer school swung into its second week facing a more varied activity than Chapel Hill has ever known in any one summer.

In addition to the more than 700 North Carolina teachers who are studying courses in education and the 400 students taking regular college courses, a series of institutes has been announced lasting almost to the very opening of the University for the 12th session next fall. The public welfare institutes, conducted jointly by the University and the southern division of the Red Cross for social workers of all kinds, will continue until September 13, the last two weeks consisting of field work away from Chapel Hill.

A special child welfare institute will be conducted July 5-10 under the auspices of the National Child Welfare Association, with Mrs. Ira D. Hasbrouck, field secretary of the association, in immediate charge. The commercial secretaries of North Carolina, secretaries of chambers of commerce, boards of trade, and other industrial and civic bodies, will hold an institute August 9-14, the first of its kind in this State.

Overlapping that institute will come another, the community service institute, at which W. G. Crosby, secretary of the North Carolina community service bureau, will have his 40 field agents for a conference and discussion of their problems. At the same time the second meeting of the State and county council will be held, August 17-19, with representatives from many of the State and county departments which are closely connected, present for a rehabing on both sides of the difficulties of their work.

The new public welfare institutes, the beginning of the school of public welfare in the University, have attracted a large number of social workers. Commissioner Roland F. Beasley has brought over almost his entire office force, including Mrs. Clarence Johnson, director of child welfare work, Mr. Harry G. Newman of the State board, and Mrs. Powell, his own secretary, all of them attending classes. Twenty county superintendents of public welfare are here now for work and a number of social workers from outside the State.

A lot of attention is being paid this summer to music and dramatic productions in the summer school. Professor Paul J. Weaver, assisted by Williams Branch, director of community singing in Winston-Salem, will direct the production of a musical cantata and a chorus, and Professor Frederick Koch, director of the Carolina Playmakers, will have charge of a production of some of the original North Carolina folk-lore plays written by University students. He will be assisted by Miss Grace Griswold, director of the Theatre Workshop in New York.

The Anti-Typhoid Campaign.

The reports of the anti-typhoid campaign now under way in Alamance, as received by the Bureau of Epidemiology of the State Board of Health are gratifying. Our citizens have heeded the appeal which has urged the stamping out of typhoid fever through the protective treatments now being given free by licensed physicians from the Medical Department of Wake Forest College and the University of North Carolina. The campaign is under the auspices of the State and County Boards of Health.

The report of 2,600 persons having been treated last week in Alamance county, was most encouraging. It has been planned that the physician who administers the treatment will make four visits to each dispensary point advertised in the county at weekly intervals. Those persons who want to secure this useful protection should apply at their first opportunity for the treatment. Many persons can still secure the full series of three doses. Those who begin too late can have their own doctors complete the series for them.

This is one of the most commendable campaigns ever organized in our vicinity. Shall we not take advantage of this, our opportunity?

YOU WOULD'T TRY TOTAMEAWILD-CAT

Mr. Dodson Warns Against Use of Treacherous, Dangerous Calomel.

Calomel saltwater! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it causing cramping and nausea. If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents, which is a harmless, vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better than nux-calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

Aged Lady Passes Away.

Mrs. Minerva Ellen Clapp died about one o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. F. R. Clapp in Graham. She was the widow of G. M. R. Clapp, who died about two years ago in the old brick church community. After her husband's death she came to make her home here with her niece, Mrs. Clapp. She had been feeble for some time and quite ill for several weeks. Mrs. Clapp was a daughter of William Foust and was reared at the old Foust place just south of the covered bridge south of Graham. She was one of eleven children, all of whom, save one, lived to advanced ages. She lived in Arkansas about twelve years, but returned some twenty years ago. She was in her 81st year, having been born April 18, 1840. The burial will be at 2 o'clock today at Springwood Presbyterian church some three miles south of Wilsonville. Rev. E. N. Caldwell will conduct the funeral services.

Mr. Samuel J. Thompson Dead.

He is survived by his wife and four sons and four daughters—E. F. and J. A. Thompson of Burlington, W. A. Thompson of Columbus, Ga., S. D. Thompson of Columbus, Miss., Mrs. W. E. O'Daniel of Mebane, Mrs. J. J. Whitesell of Burlington, Mrs. Sam T. Johnston and Miss Basie Thompson of Graham, and three sisters—Mrs. Cornelia Brown and Mrs. J. H.
