GRAHAM, N. C., Aug. 19, 1920.

WOMEN INVITED.

Mr. C. R. Love, Chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee, in view of the fact that Tennessee, the necessary 31st State, has passed the suffrage amendment, conferring on women the elective franchise, invites the women of Alamance to attend the County Democratic Convention to be held in Graham on Saturday, 21st inst.

RATIFIES WITH STRING TO IT.

On yesterday, 18th, Tennessee ratified the woman suffrage amendment, but sent it out with a string tied to it—Speaker Walker having changed his vote from “no” to “aye” and lodging motion for reconsideration, which he must exercise in 84 hours or the passage will become effective. Friday, therefore, is the last day for reconsideration.

NO STATE TAX.

Wednesday night chairman R. A. Doughton of the finance committee stated, in reporting the revenue bill, that no State tax on property would be levied this year, as the State's revenue from other sources would be sufficient to meet expenses; and that probably never again would the State levy a property tax for its own use.

This would be a happy condition, provided the revenue shall prove sufficient to do all those things the State should do for the betterment of all its institutions.

SENATE DODGES.

The State Senate on Tuesday voted on a resolution to defer action on the suffrage amendment till the regular term of the General Assembly next January and the resolution was carried by a vote of 25 to 23.

Of the 25 voting “aye” 22 are Democrats and 3 Republicans, and of those voting “no” 18 are Democrats and 5 Republicans. One Republican failed to vote and a Democrat was absent.

It is a clear case of dodging the issue by both Democrats and Republicans. The platforms of both parties—both State and national—the party law, favor woman suffrage.

If the thing they have done rises up and smites them in the face, who will say they are not getting their deserts?

Every Democrat should attend the County Convention Saturday. Aside from the nomination of a county ticket, Hon. Cameron Morrison, Democratic candidate for Governor, will speak.

The Poles have halted the “Reds” in the European war now raging.

State Fair.

The North Carolina State Fair will be held Oct. 18 to 23, next. Julian S. Carr is president, which is an assurance that nothing will be spared that will contribute to its success.

The Premium List is now ready. Premiums this year have been so heavily increased that the best agricultural and live stock displays ever seen in the State are assured. One thousand dollars have been added to farm products and $3,000 have been added to the already large premiums on live stock. A handsome silver cup valued at two hundred and fifty dollars and two hundred dollars cash are offered for the best farm display by any individual in the State.

Anyone interested can get a premium list for the asking. Send postal card request.

Federal Reserve Bank Puts Into Practice Unique Scheme to Circumvent Train Robbers.

A unique machine has been installed in the basement of the Memphis branch of the Federal reserve bank. It destroys money and makes it impossible for train robbers to benefit if they should hold up a train carrying parts of this money to Washington.

The currency selected for destruction is considered worthless for further use in banks and by persons. It is picked out of the daily deposits from banks made with the federal reserve branch, carefully tied in packages of $10,000 each, then sent to the basement, where each package is placed in the jaws of the big machine. A touch of a lever and the jaws are brought together by electric power. The $10,000 package is cut in two.

Half of the money thus cut is shipped to the United States treasury department at Washington. On its receipt the officials telegraph its arrival, then the other half is started.

Similar ones are being installed in all federal reserve banks and their branches, and federal reserve banking officials believe this will effectively circumvent train robbers or others who might steal the money while in transit.

TELLING IT TO THE WORLD

Man Evidently Thought Prohibition Officer Had a High Regard for His Position.

Charles J. Orbison, federal prohibition director for the state of Indiana, is one of the active promoters of the new Indianapolis Grotto of the Mystic Order of the Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm. This order, it may be said, is the third-degree Mason's playground, and the official headgear is a fez.

Mr. Orbison, fez on his head, was on his way the other day to the charter ceremonial session and oriental love feast of the Grotto when he noted two men paying particular attention to the fez with the name of the Grotto, “Sahara,” emblazoned across the front.

“Sahara,” said one of the men, “what in the deuce does that stand for?”

“Say don't you know what that fellow is?” answered the other. “He's the prohibition officer.” “You don't say,” replied the first. “Well I didn't think he was so proud of his job that he tagged himself.” —Indianapolis News.

HISTORIC INACCURACY.

During the preparations for celebrating the tercentenary of the sailing of the Mayflower, it has been discovered that in the fresco in one of the corridors of the houses of parliament in London, depicting the departure of the Pilgrim fathers, their ship is flying the modern union jack.

Now, the union jack, as we know it, did not come into existence until 1801, at the time of the union of Ireland with Great Britain, when the cross of St. Patrick was added to the British flag. The new standard of the so-called United Kingdom combined the crosses of St. George, St. Andrew and St. Patrick. —Munsey's Magazine.

NEW ZEALAND CLOTH.

A movement is on foot in New Zealand to make use of a part at least of the country's great production of wool by the manufacture there of woollen goods. At present only about 4 per cent of the wool raised in the country is used there, the rest being exported. It is claimed that if sufficient capital can be interested the manufacture of cloth in New Zealand can be made a more profitable industry than in England.

COMPENSATION.

“Yes, my wife is having this house all done over while she is away.”

“Isn't that rather hard on you?” “Well, yes, I suppose so; but think of how much worse it would be if she were here.” —Life.

“Didn't Rest Well”

Prominent Georgia Lady Suffered from Faint Spells and Sleeplessness—Relieved by Ziron.

PEOPLE who got to feeling weak every now and then, and who do not seem to get the proper refreshment from rest, sleep and recreation, need a tonic to help their blood revitalize and build up their system.

For this, you will find Ziron Iron Tonic very valuable, as the testimony of thousands already has proved. Mrs. J. W. Dyzart, lady of a prominent Georgia family residing near Cartersville, says:

“I didn't feel like myself. I would be just as tired when I got up in the morning as when I went to bed. I would get weak, and have kind of fainty spells—at times hardly able to do my housework.”

“I heard of Ziron; and felt maybe a tonic would help me. I thought it would at least strengthen me.”

“I believe Ziron has done me good. I feel better. I am glad to recommend it as a good tonic.”

Try Ziron. Our money-back guarantee protects you. At your druggist's.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

Take “Dodson's Liver Tone” Instead!

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out by inside, and can not salivate. Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

WENT OUT TO MEET BRIDES

New York Greeks Eager to Greet Fiances, Most of Whom They Had Never Seen.

It's a wise fiancée who knows his bride-to-be, and vice versa. More than one hundred prospective brides arrived at New York recently aboard the steamer Magali Hellas of the Greek line, of whom approximately seventy-five had never seen their husbands-to-be. The matches had been planned according to the Greek custom whereby the parents of the young couple make all arrangements for the marriage, occasionally neglecting to introduce the two parties chiefly concerned until the day of the wedding.

Four boatloads of Greeks, come to welcome their newly arrived life-mates, most of whom they had not yet met, approached the liner in midstream, lustily shouting the names of their fiancées to the rows of faces expectantly peering over the ship's rail.

All would have gone well if some of the young women hadn't “repeated” and answered to several names. Matters were finally adjusted by means of photographs, which had been mailed from Greece beforehand. The more patient bridegrooms-to-be, who had waited on the pier, didn't fare so well, however. Of the 200 assembled on the dock more than 75 per cent were obliged to return home brideless, as their fiancées were not aboard.

HE COULDN'T

“Do you suppose there ever was a human being who didn't talk about his neighbors?” asked the cynical man.

“Sure,” said the genial citizen. “Name him.”

“Robinson Crusoe.”

WON LONGFELLOW'S PRAISE.

“Longfellow's Indian” still stands above the old now-disused cigar store at 38 Cambridge street, Boston, where since 1876 it has weathered the elements. The poet, in passing from Cambridge to Boston in the old days when Cambridge street was the main thoroughfare between the two cities, always paused to express his admiration for the fine workmanship of the Indian figure. Bow in one hand, arrow in the other, quiver slung over the shoulder, blanket draped gracefully, the neck hung with wampum beads, the Indian appears lifelike.

GIRL EXPERT COBBLER.

Miss Mary Price of Seattle, believes a girl should learn a trade. She believes it so strongly that she gave up a position in a department store and started at the bottom of her trade. She's still on the job and is considered one of the most expert cobblers in that city. She's also learning to make shoes to start in for herself some day soon. “We've got to get back to first principles and learn to use our hands again,” she says. “I doubt if many women are as happy in their work as I am. It's because I'm making something.”

GIGANTIC TASK.

The house committee on revision of the laws is now engaged in collecting all the federal statutes into one book. At present they are scattered through 36 books which must be examined to make sure of any law. This is the first time that such a work has been undertaken in 46 years. Representative Edward C. Little of Kansas is chairman of the committee.

LOTS OF ACTION IN BOTH.

“My husband is worried,” explained Mrs. Ooovo-Reesh, “because, with prices of both so high, he doesn't know whether it will be more fashionable next season to burn gin and vermouth in his carburetor or make cocktails out of gasoline.” —American Legion Weekly.

Candidate Parker Thinks He Will be Governor.

Monroe Journal.

While Mr. Parker is claiming that he will be elected governor in November, Mr. Frank Linney and Mr. John M. Morehead, who control the Republican organization in this State, are content to claim only 23 of the hundred counties for their ticket. Mr. Parker is either badly deceiving himself, or Messrs. Linney and Morehead, veteran politicians, and much older at the game, had better go to Cleveland county and begin anew the study of politics under some of those youngsters who know more about this science before they are in the third year than does the average Mecklenburg county lawyer. Mr. Parker really believes he is going to be elected. Possibly his optimism is attributable to his youthful enthusiasm, which was stirred to the exultant stage by the cordial reception he received on his last speaking tour.

Delivering the goods is as important as getting the order.
