There is many a big hearted, rich man who would give all he has on earth to be able to produce a remedy with such mighty healing power as Peterson's Ointment, to sell at all druggists for 50 cents a large box." Dear Sir:— "I was an untold sufferer from old running sore and ulcers. I had tried most everything without any relief from pain. MISS BOARDMAN'S IMPORTANT TASK

GOVERNING WASHINGTON AND THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA REQUIRES HIGH ABILITY.

GENUINE TEST OF HER SEX

New Commissioner Believes That Women Should Prepare Themselves to Take Up Their Share of Civic Responsibilities.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—Men who are in touch with the trend of the times say it is evident that women will not be slow about taking an important part in government, federal, state and municipal. It is generally understood that immediately after the November elections the women everywhere will begin to ask for places of trust, if not of profit, in the service of their government. Privately many of the men politicians frown on this new manifestation, but they admit that publicly they will have to recognize the right of women to insist on their share of the appointive offices. In the near future, it is predicted, the women will insist on and obtain their share of the elective offices.

The outgoing administration here at Washington has shown an inclination to recognize the women without delay. The new President, whoever he may be, will have to take notice of the precedent set by his predecessor. The three important appointive places now held by women here are assistant to the attorney general, member of the civil service commission, and member of the board of commissioners for the District of Columbia. The District commissionership, to which Miss Mabel Boardman was recently appointed, will, it is generally predicted, offer a genuine opportunity to test the ability of a woman to administer the affairs of an important office. The district is governed by a board of three commissioners, two of whom are appointed from civil life by the President and one of whom is detailed from the army.

Governing Capital Big Task

Governing the capital of the nation is no unimportant task. The District of Columbia and the city of Washington, in a very real sense, belong to the people of the whole country, and so it is that the government of the District is subject to a considerable extent to the scrutiny of the whole people through their representatives in congress.

Miss Boardman brings to the office to which she has been appointed years of experience as an administrative officer of the American Red Cross. To her more than any other one person belongs the credit for the reorganization of the Red Cross, following the retirement of Clara Barton as the head of the organization. She was secretary of the Red Cross at the time of her appointment as District commissioner.

Miss Boardman believes that women should prepare themselves to take their share of civic responsibilities and for a certain degree of official service. "I believe that this official service will be more apt to function in municipal than in federal government," said she in discussing the future responsibilities of women. "Municipal affairs have a closer and more immediate contact with the home in certain of their phases. Matters of public health, schools, playgrounds, markets, and charities are all questions in which women are greatly interested. Their own experiences and training, especially when the questions concern their families and their children, will make their service of value to the community."

Miss Boardman's Share

It should be said in passing that in the division of the work of the new board of commissioners for the District of Columbia Miss Boardman is in charge of public health, schools, playgrounds, and charities. "Federal service, either legislative or executive departments, has to do with a great number of international, financial and business problems," said Miss Boardman. "It deals with treaties, with tariffs, with trade relations, with commercial interests, with international finances, with postal management, with national methods of taxation and appropriations, with national defense, public lands, and a score of other important problems for the solving of which few women have had either training or experience." Miss Boardman believes, however, that men and women should be selected or appointed because of their fitness for the position and not because they are men and women. She said:

"In her enthusiasm for the things in which she is deeply interested woman will feel intensely the disappointments so often to be met in these efforts for desired results. She may be impatient, but be patient with her, she will learn and her vision will broaden. I am sure we can all agree that the vision of women will not lack in height. Woman will sometimes wish to accomplish things that the more practical and experienced men will regard as impossible, and yet I have known the vision of the woman to sweep away barriers apparently immovable and the dream become a reality."

CAMERON MORRISON OUR NEXT GOVERNOR

HON. CAMERON MORRISON

Receiving the largest vote ever cast for a gubernatorial candidate in the state, Cameron Morrison, of Charlotte, democrat, was elected governor of North Carolina, defeating John J. Parker, of Monroe, by a majority that probably will run to 75,000, and may go beyond that figure. The vote cast for Governor Cox, democratic candidate for President, will run not far behind that of Morrison, and the vote given Senator Lee S. Overman, re-elected to the United States Senate, will probably equal or exceed the Morrison vote.

These figures are based upon incomplete and unofficial returns received from about one-half of the 100 counties in the state. In numbers of the counties the majorities may be increased by more complete returns, and in some counties this is certain to be the case. However, returns were received from but few of the mountain counties, where the greatest republican vote, presumably, was polled.

Indications were that the constitutional amendments carried by safe majorities, but the returns received on these were very meager.

Indications late Tuesday night were that the democrats had elected all ten of their candidates for Congress in North Carolina. Major Bulwinkle, running against J. F. Newell, in the ninth district, had an indicated majority of some 8,000, which was expected to be reduced by later returns from the western counties. W. C. Hammer carried the seventh district by a majority estimated at least 3,000. R. L. Doughton's re-election in the eighth district was indicated, while Congressman Weaver was apparently re-elected in the tenth district, his majority being placed by democratic officials at 1,200 to 1,500. The election of Major Charles M. Stedman, in the fifth district, Homer L. Lyon in the sixth, E. W. Pou in the fourth, Congressman S. M. Brinson in the third, Claude Kitchen in the second, and Hallet S. Ward in the first was assured before the election.

CABARRUS

Concord.—Complete returns from 15 out of 19 precincts in the county indicate that Cabarrus county will go republican by majority ranging from 200 to 400.

DARE

Manteo.—With meager information democratic majority in Dare county for the state is about 200.

WILSON

Wilson.—Out of a registration of 902 women, 62 of whom were negroes, in Wilson township, 819 cast their ballots. In the other precincts heard from 90 per cent of the women registered cast their ballots. The precincts heard from give a total of 699 for the democrats and 461 for republicans and as but few tickets have been scratched it is estimated that the majority will be at least 2,000 for Cox, Morrison and the other democratic candidates.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition. Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. HARD TO LIVE UP TO THESE Speakers Would Do Well Indeed if They Matched the Work Credited to the Painters.

John Brookbank, commander-in-chief of the 330 Richmond business men who are soliciting money for the $500,000 endowment of Earlham college, was speaking to the men at the daily noon luncheon held in the basement of the Grace M. E. church. He was congratulating them on their good work and exhorting them to greater efforts in the future. He said: "To gain success in this enterprise, as in any, we must make it real and lifelike. . . something that people can see is worth while and vital and living. Why, we must do as good as the painter who drew a picture of a cat so lifelike that ten minutes after he hung it on the wall there were fleas on it."

President Edwards arose and said: "Or we must do as well as the other painter who drew a picture of a hen. This painter threw the drawing of the hen in the waste basket, but it was so life-like that it just lay there."—Indianapolis News.

MADE THE BREAK COMPLETE

No Possible Question of a Future Reconciliation Between Mabel and Her Former Fiance.

"I am glad I broke my engagement with Tom," Mabel observed indignantly. "He's no real gentleman."

"Why, I have always thought him one," Tess commented in surprise. "What has he done?"

"Well, I sent him back his presents—that is, all except the diamond ring and a few other things that I thought I was really entitled to, considering how many times he had taken dinner at our house and all, and asked him to return mine."

"Well, did he refuse?"

"He did not. He not only sent back a box of cigars, unopened, and a few wiper and a knit necktie, but he sent also five boxes of face powder, saying that he estimated that to be about the quantity he had taken away on his coat during the time we were engaged."
