

THE "OLD RELIABLE" THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

White Haired Alabama Lady Says She Has Seen Medicines Come and Go But The "Old Reliable" Thedford's Black-Draught Came and Stayed.

Dutton, Ala.—In recommending Thedford's Black-Draught to her friends and neighbors here, Mrs. T. F. Parks, a well-known Jackson County lady, said: "I am getting up in years; my head is pretty white. I have seen medicines and remedies come and go but the old reliable came and stayed. I am talking of Black-Draught, a liver medicine we have used for years—one that can be depended upon and one that will do the work."

"Black-Draught will relieve indigestion and constipation if taken right, and I know for I tried it. It is the best thing I have ever found for the full, uncomfortable feeling after meals. Sour stomach and sick headache can be relieved by taking Black-Draught. It aids digestion, also assists the liver in throwing off impurities. I am glad to recommend Black-Draught, and do, to my friends and neighbors."

Thedford's Black-Draught is a standard household remedy with a record of over seventy years of successful use. Every one occasionally needs something to help cleanse the system of impurities. Try Black-Draught. Insist upon Thedford's, the genuine.

DOUGHBOY HAS A GRIEVANCE

Why in the World Don't Frenchmen Give Proper Pronunciation to Their Absurd Words?

Take the city of Troyes, favorably known throughout the A. E. F. as a practically M. P.-less burg, writes Tip Bliss in the American Legion Weekly. Naturally, any human being would pronounce it to rhyme with "noise," and go on his way rejoicing in the knowledge of a good deed well performed.

Not so the frisky prof. He calls it "Twa," though why and wherefore le bon Dieu alone knows.

But if you want to get even with the f. p., try him out with a regular word with plenty of "w's" and "h's" and "th's" in it. "Whether" is the cat's fur, as the army expression almost has it. Tackle him with "whether" and watch him gargle and stammer and sizzle and finally turn up his toes and pass away while somewhere in his insides are still resounding the last despairing notes of his infernal interpretation of a good, Christian word into "vay-zair-re."

"Vay-zair-re!" Shade of Babel! Now, as regards the matter of spelling. One of the Frenchman's pet monstrosities in "Kiss-ka-say." Does he spell it that way? Ouija answers, no. He goes to work and unburdens himself of vowels and sibilants and things until he has gotten rid of "Qu'est-ce que c'est?"

What does it mean? It means: "What is this that this is?" Which is a fine healthy way of maltreating, "Huh?"

Huh is right.

DENMARK TO BE REPUBLIC?

According to Reports, the Little Country May Abandon the Monarchical Principle Soon.

News dispatches from Copenhagen state that there is a possibility of the establishment of a republic in Denmark, the little country that has been a monarchy since King Healdens ruled the country in 400 A. D.

Denmark is today a limited monarchy, ruled by King Christian, who divides his power with the two houses of parliament. During the war it suffered heavily in both its leading industries, dairying and the merchant marine. Many Danish ships were sunk by U-boats despite their neutrality, and the large herds of cattle that had supplied a large part of Europe's butter and cream were killed for food.

Denmark has a population of 2,500,000, a large part of whom live on small farms. Its area is 14,829 square miles, slightly larger than the state of Maryland. It is densely populated, with 165 people to the square mile on the mainland and 275 to the square mile on the many islands along the coast. Copenhagen, the capital and principal seaport, is situated on the island of Zealand. The island folk form the merchant marine and the fisheries, while the farmers live on the fertile mainland.

Immunity From Whooping Cough.

Dr. T. Luzzati of Rome was called to three different houses, in each of which a child had begun to cough. In each case he suspected that it might be whooping cough; therefore, as a precaution, he vaccinated all the brothers and sisters with an anti-whooping serum. Ten days later his suspicion was confirmed by the typical whoop, but in no case did one of the other children catch the disease, though no attempt at isolation was made.

In reporting this to Pollicelli (Rome) Doctor Luzzati says he has found no benefit from vaccination once the disease has become pronounced.

Twins of Ninety-Five.

Living in the Scotch village of Inverkip are twins, James and William Ford, ninety-five years old. Neither of them has had a day's illness, and James has never been a single night out of the house in which he was born.

Too Much of a Strain.

Jud Tunkins says he's never going to allow any summer boarder to remain for more than a week, because it's too much work to learn new stories to entertain the same old crowd.

400 CHAPTERS ARE READY FOR 4TH ROLL CALL

Rivalry Keen Among Southern Towns To Get Quota Of Red Cross Members First.

Atlanta, Ga. Nov.—More than four hundred chapters of the American Red Cross and about three hundred chapter branches are organized in the southern division for the Fourth Red Cross Roll Call, November 11-25.

"By organization is meant that these chapters and branches have chairmen, committees and the enthusiasm to make the Fourth Roll Call a sure success in their communities," said J. L. McMillin, southern division manager of the Red Cross, today.

"We have reports from every one of them that they are only awaiting the date to begin the campaign. First the workers themselves will renew their memberships in the Red Cross. Then every old member will be called upon to re-enlist under the Red Cross banner. After that, every effort will be made to get in the territory of each chapter as nearly a one hundred per cent membership in the Red Cross as it is possible to get."

The southern division includes the five states of Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Florida. Last year the division, for its population, made as fine a record as any part of the country in enrolling Red Cross members. This year it is the eager purpose of every chapter to put the southern division on top again.

A friendly but keen rivalry exists among the various chapters to be the first to report that their quotas are secured. A different system has been used this year in assigning quotas to the various chapters. Instead of determining the quota for the division first and then dividing this out among the various chapters, each chapter carefully estimated the amount of money needed to finance its needs and its plans during the coming year. The chapter's quota was then based on this amount, and the quota for the entire division made up from the various chapter quotas.

Thus, the Roll Call this year is more than ever a local proposition in each community. When local people subscribe to the Red Cross, they are subscribing to meet local needs, and for every dollar paid for membership in the Red Cross, fifty cents will be kept by the local chapter to finance its plans for next year. The other fifty cents goes to national headquarters, to maintain the national work of the Red Cross.

"We challenge every other chapter in the southern division to beat our Roll Call record," wrote one Roll Call chairman in North Carolina. "We intend to be the first 'over the top,' for we are laying our plans to get our full quota of members early in the morning of November 11."

This spirit is typical of the way the vast majority of chapters are awaiting the Fourth Roll Call. It is a rare exception where chapters are not thoroughly organized and plans worked out to secure the quota of members easily and quickly.

Hundreds of newspapers throughout the southern division will co-operate with the local Red Cross chapters to make the Roll Call a success. Speaking of the view with which most Americans regard the Fourth Roll Call, one Atlanta paper already has called upon Atlantans to join the Red Cross in the following editorial language:

"The Red Cross Roll Calls are not 'drives,' not attempts to raise large sums of money for untried causes, but they are institutions in the nation's life, the one time of the year when the American people, old and young, are asked to renew their memberships in the organization that is so expressive of the national spirit and so great a benefit to the nation as a whole.

"The American Red Cross is different in this respect from the Red Cross of other nations, in most of which it is maintained by large contributions from the wealthy. The American Red Cross is essentially democratic. It was founded by the American people. They maintained it for nearly forty years. In the war, thousands of them found in it the opportunity to serve they so ardently sought.

"So, today, the Red Cross belongs to the American people. It gives them the chance they all want in their hearts to do some good in the world. Singly, their dollars for memberships might amount to little; but matched by millions of other dollars from every part of the country, they become a mighty factor in caring for our soldiers and sailors; looking after the interests of the wounded and maimed of the war; safeguarding the discharged service man and his family; doing the same thing for thousands of unfortunate civilians; bringing public health nursing and good health to hundreds of communities; training our boys and girls in the way they should go; doing many other things that enter into the peace-time program of the Red Cross which, in the two years since the signing of the armistice, has been demonstrated to all as one of the finest agencies for public welfare in the life of the country.

"That is what Red Cross membership dollars can do. It would seem that no American citizen, with the good of his country and his own community at heart, would refuse to join."

PETER B. KYNE

This eminent Californian has an independent and assured place among American fiction writers. His popularity is immense and to the present day he occupies a position as an exponent of the West, somewhat similar to Bret Harte's in the last generation. Millions have read "Cappy Ricks," "The Long Chance," and "The Valley of the Giants." In a later story, "Webster—Man's Man," his principal characters are Americans, but the most stirring incidents occur in one of those sleepy-on-the-surface but fiery-underneath revolutionary Central America countries. You will have the pleasure of reading it as a serial in this paper. Be sure to get the opening installment.

Real Neighborliness.

An interesting experiment in neighborliness has been carried on for nearly a year in a part of Toledo which is populated almost exclusively by Polish immigrants and their descendants. The Polish Business Men's club of the district conceived the idea that the needy Polish families in the community should be taken care of in a neighborly way, rather than by charity organizations. The latter were requested not to extend aid in the district, but to notify the club, so that it might meet all emergencies. This is not done from the club treasury, however. An investigation is made to determine whether the need is for money, supplies or work, and the other residents of the block, including the tradesmen, are then informed that their neighbors need their assistance, which, the club reports, is always forthcoming.

ARDMORE ORCHESTRAL ENTERTAINERS.

Every member of this singing orchestra has had experience in other organizations before coming into this company. The three Hughes sisters, Elizabeth, Mary and Margaret, have played in public as a trio since they were children. Geraldine Edgar, who is an accomplished vocal soloist in addition to her violin artistry, was chosen to entertain the soldier boys in army camps in France and France.

Clara Mixer was a student of Bigot, the famous cornet teacher. Helen Burns, drummer and reader, has had successful Lyceum experience.

The first part of the evening's program is given over to orchestral selections and readings, the orchestral selections being of a varied nature and ranging from overtures to the semi-popular.

The second and last part of the program consists of a Gypsy sketch. Gypsy songs and instrumental music are rendered in appropriate costume. The company has just returned from a long and successful Chautauqua tour.

Stomach Troubles Made Him Feel Sick at Meal Times, But Now Always Enjoys His Meals.

DO YOU enjoy your meals? Eat without the dread of the after-effects? Lack of appetite, and a disagreeable, sick-at-the-stomach feeling after meals, usually indicate that your digestive organs are not working properly. As a result, you will feel weak, lose weight and lack the energy that is to be derived from well-digested food.

A valuable help in correcting such conditions is mentioned by the Rev. R. K. McKenzie, of Route 1, Section 4, Ala., who writes: "I had stomach trouble. When I would go to eat, I would turn sick. I took one bottle of Eron, and it cured me. Am always ready for my meals and enjoy them. I think it is a fine medicine."

If your food hurts you, if your appetite is poor, if you are pale, weak and run-down, and have other symptoms that indicate your system needs help, try Eron. It will put iron into your blood and help build you up. Take it according to directions, and if not benefited by the first bottle, the money-back guarantee will protect you. Ask your druggist.

NEW FORM OF IRON RELIEVES STOMACH TROUBLES

Eat What You Like—Stop Suffering From Acid Stomach—Gas, Pains and Other Forms of Indigestion—Results Almost Immediately

For years physicians have been searching for a form of iron that could be combined with certain other ingredients like pepsin, etc., for use in treating chronic disorders of the digestive tract, mal-assimilation etc., etc. This is sufficient evidence that medicine recognizes the great value of iron for stomach troubles when administered in proper form.

If you have been disappointed with lack of results from pills and tonics, understand that the iron was not presented in a form that could be absorbed by the stomach into the system. And therefore could not possibly bring you benefit.

This new form of iron is not prepared by chemists—it is found in Nature itself combined with other highly beneficial medicinal agents. It is quickly absorbed by the system and in sufficient measure to bring results that you can feel in a very short time.

Just ask your druggist for Acid Iron Mineral. He will also tell you that stomach troubles are relieved by taking a spoonful in a glass of water three times a day. And for acute conditions like "sour stomach" etc., a single dose will in most cases bring relief. This natural form of iron seems to neutralize the excess acid in the stomach as nothing else in all medicine.

Stomach disorders of long standing where the patient is subject to distress after eating, gulping, headaches, dizziness, etc., yield positively to steady treatment with Acid Iron Mineral.

And don't forget that the general system is strengthened and invigorated owing to the iron content of this great medicine. All druggists cheerfully refund the purchase price if the results are not satisfactory to you in every way.
