

Sure Relief

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment is a Brisk Purgative With Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Colomel Tablets that are Nausealess, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausealess colomel tablets called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style colomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calotabs only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you do not find them delightful.—(Adv.)

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Ruling on Unanimity Clause May Cause Argentina to Quit League of Nations.

WILSON WILL HELP ARMENIA

Entente Warns Greece Not to Restore Constantine to Throne—D'Annunzio Declares War on Italy—President-Elect Harding Home.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD.
Comparative harmony, forced by stress of circumstances, marked the doings of the League of Nations assembly during the early part of the work, and then came discord that threatened to result in the withdrawal of at least one important member nation—Argentina.

Certain amendments to the covenant had been proposed by the Scandinavian delegates and the commission on amendments had reported against them and any other amendments at this time. In the assembly there was a motion to refer the amendments to a special committee for a report next September. Delegate Pueyrredon of Argentina alone opposed this, and since the covenant requires a unanimous vote for the carrying of any motion, apparently the proposition was blocked. But Viviani of France at once asserted that this was a "question of procedure" and that the unanimity rule did not apply. President Hymans supported the contention, declared the resolution carried and adjourned the meeting.

Dispatches from Buenos Aires said the government was momentarily expecting a cablegram from Pueyrredon, who is foreign minister of Argentina, and that the withdrawal of the nation from the league was likely to follow.

The league members thought they had found the way to save what remains of the Armenian people, for President Wilson, asked by the league council to mediate for Armenia with Mustapha Kemal Pasha, consented to undertake the task through a representative to be named by him. He made it plain that his effort must be personal and that he would have to rely, in determining the method of approaching the problem, on the advice of those nearer the scene of action. Such advice will be supplied by the commissioners of the allied nations in Turkey. Spain and Brazil have offered to co-operate with the United States in the matter.

When, and if, the Armenian affair is settled, Greece evidently must pay the price. Kemal must be placated, and this can be done only by a radical revision of the treaty of Sevres. At this writing the plans for such revision are being arranged in London by Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain and Leygues of France. The most important changes in the pact doubtless will be made at the expense of Greece's newly acquired territory in Asia Minor and Thrace. Since the Greeks ousted Venizelos and prepared to restore Constantine to the throne their ambitions have received smaller consideration by the great powers. Already, it is understood, Great Britain, France and Italy have agreed that the Smyrna region shall be internationalized and policed by locally recruited gendarmes offered by an international officers' corps.

It is certain that Kemal will not be satisfied with this Smyrna concession, for his growing power is causing his demands to increase. Newspapers of Angora, where he makes his headquarters, say he asks that Thrace be given autonomy, Constantinople be evacuated by the allies and the allied and interallied zones of control and influence in Syria and other parts of the Turkish empire be abandoned. It is probable some of these demands will be rejected, and equally probable that some of them will be granted. Kemal's military strength is worth consideration and his popular support is widespread. Sixty German officers have been making over his bands of fighters into regular army units, and he recently added to his equipment a quantity of artillery obtained from the soviet Russians.

From Geneva came a story that the league committee on Armenia, of which Lord Robert Cecil is chairman, probably would appoint Gen. Leonard Wood commander of the Armenian expeditionary force with the title of high commissioner. The choice, it was added, was on the recommendation of Sir Frederick Morris and Gen. Weygand. Officials in Washington did not take this report seriously, but it may turn out to be true.

By unanimous vote the league commission on new members decided that Austria should be admitted, and there was no doubt that the assembly would ratify the action. Bulgaria also wants to get in at once, but Greece, Serbia and Roumania all are opposed to her admission and may prevent it. There was reason to believe they would be supported in this by France, which seeks to gain strength in central European friendships. For the present, at least, France has her way in barring Germany from immediate membership in the league. The commission has decided against the admission of Lichtenstein and Azerbaijan, but recommended that Costa Rica be made a member.

Gustav Ador of Switzerland, backed by the delegates of several other nations, tried to have the economic commission instructed to study means of preventing monopolies of raw materials and measures to insure their distribution throughout the world, the argument being that raw materials belong not to the nation in which they are produced, but to the world. This was blocked by Sir George E. Foster of Canada, who said his country and the United States never would subscribe to that principle. A futile effort to have Spanish adopted as the third official language of the league brought out the statement by the foreign minister of Panama that the 15 states of Central and South America are united around Spain as their leader.

If the Greeks recall Constantine to the throne, they will forfeit the good will and support of Great Britain, France and Italy. These three powers, it was decided at a conference in London, should so warn the new Greek government, and a note to that effect was drafted. The restoration of the former king, says the warning, "could only be regarded as ratification of his hostile acts" during the war. This decision by the entente is a victory for the French point of view.

D'Annunzio having refused to accept the agreement between Italy and Jugoslavia, the Italian government sent General Caviglia to invest Fiume. This he did, and sent to the post-war by airplane a proclamation announcing the intention of the government to enforce the conditions of the Rapallo treaty without delay and calling on the regency of Fiume to withdraw all its forces behind the frontiers. He next invited D'Annunzio's troops to leave him and enroll in their old units, and threatened a severe blockade of the city. D'Annunzio, seemingly undaunted, responded in a declaration of a state of war with Italy, effective December 8. General Caviglia is doing all he can to avoid bloodshed and his troops would hate to fire on their brother Italians, but if it comes to actual warfare the result cannot be in doubt. D'Annunzio would soon be crushed.

The warning issued by the British government, that the Irish were about to carry the "war" to England, was justified. To date the chief weapon used in this new development of the conflict is arson. A large number of incendiary fires were started simultaneously along the Liverpool waterfront and several big cotton warehouses were destroyed. The incendiaries worked in small groups and some of them, being interrupted by the police, killed one officer and a civilian. About the same time the London police said they had felled a plot to start fires in the metropolis on a large scale. Elaborate precautions were taken in all the large cities of England.

Sunday night two motortrucks full of black and tan recruits, all former officers in the war, were ambushed near Kilmichael, Ireland, and 15 of them murdered.

Reprisals continued in Ireland unchecked. The town hall and other buildings in Cork were set on fire and five Sinn Fein clubs were destroyed. Raids by the military and police were frequent, there and elsewhere. Unarmed men entered Killarney and smashed all the windows in the business section of the city.

The British government met with defeat in the house of lords when the home rule bill came up. Baron Oramore and Brown offered an amendment providing for the establishment of a senate for southern Ireland, and it was adopted against the government by a vote of 120 to 36. Another amendment, bestowing a second chamber on the Ulster parliament, also was carried.

It is reported that the government has decided that all members of the Irish republican army who have been or may be rounded up shall be interned in camps in Ireland and held without trial unless they are charged with some penal offense.

Gen. Alvaro Obregon was inaugurated President of Mexico at midnight Tuesday, and at about the same time officials of the American Department of Justice made wholesale raids at various points along the border. These agents captured a mass of documentary evidence proving the existence of a plot, organized on this side of the border, to start a new revolution and overthrow the Obregon government. It was said that Lucio Blanco, a former officer in Carranza's army, was at the head of the conspiracy.

Just before his inauguration Obregon stated in an interview that article 27 in the Mexican constitution, restricting ownership of all lands, would not be abrogated, but he was sure the application of the article would soon be regulated to the satisfaction of the United States by a commission to be appointed. He said Mexico would not ask admission to the League of Nations, but would give consideration to an invitation to join the league.

The senate and house committees on agriculture began a joint session on Friday to consider emergency measures for the relief of American farmers who are said to face a loss of $7,000,000,000 through sale of their products at less than cost. Among the suggestions discussed were the imposition of a tariff on Canadian wheat, the revival of the war finance corporation, and extensions of credit to Russia and Germany to enable them to purchase American farm products.

According to Senator Capper, the farmers demand, in addition to those remedies, the following: "Adequate credit for farmers through short time and long-time loans adapted fairly and practically to the peculiar conditions of the farming business."

"Afford farmers the same credit accommodations now afforded other lines of business."

"Abolish gambling in wheat, cotton, corn, and all farm produce."

"Full legal authority for nation-wide co-operative marketing by farmers."

"Regulation of the packers."

"A national marketing board, in which the producer will be represented, with power to the board to regulate the rate of marketing and to advise and assist in stabilizing prices."

"Broaden and strengthen the federal farm loan system."

"Tariff revision to protect American agriculture."

"Protection for wool growers and the public from the unfair competition of shoddy goods."

FOODS FOR EVERY DAY.

A change from the every-day way of serving potatoes will be found in the following:

Pan Roasted Potatoes.—Use potatoes of uniform size. Dip each thoroughly into water and fat mixed together, using one-half cupful of beef fat to one cupful of hot water and six potatoes. Place the dipped potatoes in a shallow pie plate and place in a hot oven; bake 45 minutes, basting occasionally.

Bran Bread.—Mix together two tablespoonsful of sugar, one teaspoonful of salt and one well-beaten egg. Add one-half cupful of molasses, two cupfuls of sour milk and one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in the milk. Stir in slowly two cupfuls each of bran, white flour and graham flour. Lastly add one-half teaspoonful of baking powder. Raisins may be added, one-half cupful; flour them and add as the bread goes into the pan. Bake forty-five minutes in a moderate oven. This makes two loaves and is especially good for the little people.

Apple Pudding.—Grease a pudding dish and place pared, cored and quartered apples, five or six, in a baking dish. Add one-fourth of a cupful each of molasses and brown sugar, one teaspoonful of vinegar, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-fourth of a cup of cold water and one tablespoonful of butter. Cover with a rich pie crust and bake thirty minutes.

Chicken Fillets With Ham and Mushrooms.—Remove the breasts from chickens. Young chickens or those up to a year old may be used for this dish. Allow half a chicken breast for each service. Trim each half neatly and set the fillets side by side in a buttered baking dish; pour in a little hot cream, cover with buttered paper and cook in a moderate oven until tender. Baste often with the cream or melted butter. Broil a thin pear-shaped piece of ham for each fillet; let the ham be half an inch larger than each fillet. Peel a mushroom cap for each service, drop a bit of butter in each and cook in the oven ten minutes. Have ready a slice of hot buttered toast for each service; set the ham on the toast, the chicken on the ham and a mushroom above the chicken; season with cream and salt and pepper and pour around the toast. Serve piping hot.

Let's just be glad the gipsy wind is blowing
Across the clover meadow, sweet and free,
And who could sigh who hears the merry challenge,
"Cast care aside, and follow, follow me!"
Let's just be glad.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS.

With venison in season, there is no more delicious tidbit than roast saddle of venison. Usually the meat lacks fat and this should be supplied by larding with small strips of salt pork, cut in narrow strips near to the rind, as that part of the pork is firmer. An onion, a carrot or two, finely chopped and cooked with the meat and removed before serving, adds greatly to its flavor. Any wild game is improved by such seasoning.

Potato Dumplings.—Sift together one and one-half cupfuls of flour, five teaspoonfuls of laking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, three teaspoonfuls of butter, one-half cupful of rice potato, one egg beaten light and three-fourths of a cup of milk. Mix all the ingredients, roll in a sheet and cut in rounds. Set close in a buttered steamer and cook over water or meat 15 minutes. Do not open the steamer nor allow the water to cease boiling during the cooking.

Citron Melon Preserve.—Cut the melon in quarters and the quarters in smaller pieces, remove the rind and cut in cubes or in such shapes as may be wished. Cover the prepared melon with cold water, adding two tablespoonfuls of salt to each quart of cold water and let stand over night. Drain, rinse in cold water and drain again, then cook until tender in boiling water. Drain again and weigh. For each pound of material allow three-fourths of a pound of sugar, half an ounce of ginger, stems or Canton, and one lemon. Slice the lemons and discard the seeds; slice or crush the ginger stems and cook separately in boiling water until tender. Make a sirup of the sugar and water drained from the lemons and ginger; skim, add the melon and let cook until plump and transparent. Skim the melon from the sirup. To the sirup add the lemon and ginger and let cook until a rich sirup is formed; add the citron, heat to boiling and seal in jars.

BOY SCOUTS

Boy scouts within a radius of fifty miles of New York city made a memorial pilgrimage to the grave of Theodore Roosevelt on Friday, Nov. 26, the day following Thanksgiving. The pilgrimage was under the leadership of Daniel Carter Beard, national scout commissioner, who was one of the very close friends of President Roosevelt.

Each boy scout council in this territory selected a delegation of individual honor scouts and troops. The number that participated reached several thousand. It is proposed to make the trip an annual memorial in honor of the man who was the American boy's ideal, and who was at one time honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America, and was known as the Chief Scout Citizen.

The scouts were transported from their various local headquarters to Oyster Bay in automobiles, trains and by boat. They mobilized there and then hiked to Sagamore Hill and to the Roosevelt tomb, where appropriate scout memorial services were held, with addresses by several speakers, including Lieut.-Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who recently became a member of the executive board of the boy scouts' organization and shares his father's enthusiasm for scouting.

"The memorial hike" was not only a gracious tribute to the memory of a great man who understood boys as few others have, but was a fine thing for the boys themselves," said Commissioner Beard, who is familiarly known as "Uncle Dan" to the hundreds of thousands of boy scouts. "The pilgrimage to the tomb of Roosevelt was a lesson in patriotism of the kind that makes for better citizenship, which is a fundamental object of the boy scout movement. President Roosevelt had all the picturesque qualities of a boy's hero. He was an out-of-doors man, a buckskin man, explorer, a true scout of the old American type; beloved by boys, and was always interested in things boys are interested in. The purpose is to impress upon the boys that participated, and through them to impress upon other boys those splendid qualities of character of Theodore Roosevelt as shown by the events in his life which it should be the aim of every American boy to follow. America has produced no better man for scouts to emulate."

THE SCOUT CABIN BOY TEST.

"Tests" is the name given to the work a boy scout is made to accomplish in order to secure the coveted merit badges worn on a sleeve of his coat. One of the newest of these is the cabin boy test. To pass it, it is necessary for a scout to take what amounts to a preparatory course in the fundamentals of seamanship. The merit badge he receives after passing is one of the finest pieces of silk embroidery in the merit badge list. It is a yellow oval enclosing an ancient anchor in yellow, on a rich blue background.

A PLEASING SCOUT REPORT.

Boy Scout Troop 1, Gibbstown, N. J., reported to national headquarters that it had helped put-out a fire near a powder plant. It was put out, otherwise the report would have been of a different kind.

DOINGS OF THE BOY SCOUTS.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it. A prominent druggist says: "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments; corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism. You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Adv.

Safe Speechmaking.

"Did you lose your voice while you were making speeches?"
"No," replied Senator Sorghum. "I applied my new system of speechmaking. First I let the chairman of the reception committee take all the time he wanted to introduce me.
