LOCAL NEWS.

—Thanksgiving Day just a week hence.

—W. Lee Andrews' handsome bungalow on N. Maple St. is nearing completion.

—Last Saturday was the opening day of the hunting season and many went a-field to try their luck.

—A constant stream of tourists from the North is passing this way these days Florida-bound for the winter.

—Alamance Superior Court will convene next Monday for the trial of criminal cases only. There is a heavy docket to be disposed of.

—The finishing touches are being put on the "Standard" service station next door to The Gleaner office. It is one of the handsomest at all.

—Mesdames H. J. and Frank Stockard entertained the Needlecraft Club at the home of the former on E. Harden St. last Friday afternoon. A special feature of the meeting was a shower for Mrs. Frank Stockard of many dainty and useful articles.

—It was about weather like this and such as we will have for the next few months that the poet wrote—"The melancholy days are come, the saddest of the year, Of wailing winds and naked woods and meadows brown and sere."

—Snow, the first of the season, came Tuesday morning. Not much, to be sure, but enough to whiten roofs and make a show on dry leaves and grass. It was cold as real winter time. It was general, covering a big part of the State from the east to the west.

—Mrs. M. C. Terrell and two little daughters, who have been living in Burlington, are now making their home with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. M. Turner. Mr. Terrell, since his resignation as County Superintendent of Schools a few weeks ago, is with Linticum & Linticum, specialists in school building architecture.

—It is noted from a report sent out from the Department of Commerce at Washington that cotton ginning up to Nov. 1st in this State, is around 350,000 bales less than at the same date last year, and that only one county of the 63 reported shows an excess over the last year report and only by six bales. Or stating it differently, scarcely half as much has been ginned as last year.

—Rev. G. M. Daniel and Mrs. J. D. Lee have returned from the N. C. Conference at Wilmington. Mr. Daniel having completed his term of service at the M. E. church here, he was assigned to Red Springs, and Rev. G. W. Starling succeeds him. Mr. Daniel has done excellent work here and regrets at his leaving are not confined to his congregation alone.

Mrs. Woods, 89, Dead.

Mrs. Elizabeth Woods, widow of Henry L. Woods, died at her home in Albright township last Saturday, aged 89 years. The burial was at Mt. Hermon on Sunday and the funeral services were conducted by Rev. George W. Holmes.

Huff Recital Postponed to Nov. 25th.

The recital to have been given in the new court room last Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock had to be postponed till next Tuesday evening, Nov. 25th, as the work of seating could not be completed in time.

The recital is given under the auspices of the Graham Music Lovers' Club. Everybody urged to attend. Admission 50 and 25 cts.

—Mr. K. B. Poole has been sick at his home here for several days.

—Tom Tarheel says he is not worrying about Henry Ford and Muscle Shoals so long as he can get nitrogen into his soil as cheaply by growing legume.

Graham Council No. 36, Jr. O. U. A. M., is arranging for a home-coming on Thursday evening, Dec. 4th, at their Lodge room in Graham.

Mr. M. W. Lincke of Nashville, N. C., State Vice-Councilor, has been invited to be present and speak and has signified his acceptance. He is a forceful speaker and will entertain and make it worth while to be present and hear what he has to say.

This will be the occasion of the annual banquet and get-together meeting of Graham Council, at which an oyster supper will be served. Members, not in the habit of attending regularly, will want to be present at this meeting and they are urged to make arrangements for so doing, as a very enjoyable evening awaits them.

The time is 7:30 p. m., Thursday, Dec. 4th, and the place is the Junior Order Hall in Graham.

Elon Music Lovers' Club Entertained.

Elon College, Nov. 15.—The Music Lovers' Club of Elon College met last Thursday night in their regular monthly session at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Lawrence, with Miss Lila Newman, Prof. O. W. Johnson, Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence as hosts and hostesses.

Miss Ethel Hill rendered a paper on "Modern Music," and Miss Florence Fisher sang, "All Souls Day," "Homeward," and "Devotion," all by Strauss. Piano solos by Miss Nelson pleased all. She played "Mav' Night," by Palmgren, "Irish Tune from Count Derry," and "Country Gardens," by Grainger. The final item of the musical program was a trio consisting of Miss Berkley, pianoforte, Miss Nelson, violin, and Mr. Everett, cornet. They rendered "Barcarolle," by Offenbach.

The meeting ended with the serving of refreshments by the hosts and hostesses.

VITAMIN QUALITIES

Many people, young and old, get plenty of food but the vitamin qualities out of which come the powers of resistance, are minus, and malnutrition and weakness ensue.

Scott's Emulsion

is indeed the plus-quality that so many children and adults need to help sustain the body in normal strength and vitality.

A very little Scott's after each meal helps to vitalize the deficient diet. Scott's Emulsion promotes growth—builds strength.

Corn After Legume Nearly Doubles Yield.

A demonstration on the farm of G. E. Callahan of Bladen county shows that corn after velvet beans, plowed under, was nearly doubled in yield as compared to corn following cotton.

This demonstration is one of many being conducted by the agronomy extension workers of State College of Agriculture. In some of the demonstrations there is made a rearrangement of the fields after which regular crop rotations are followed so as to give the farmer a system that includes a higher percentage of legumes. This enables him to improve his soil gradually and with smaller expense than by any other method.

"Our demonstrations also permit the farmer to grow more feedstuffs and to tend larger fields instead of many small ones," says E. C. Blair, extension agronomist, who has this work in charge. "Mr. Callahan was one of the first men to undertake such a demonstration. He began his in the spring of 1923, and is now well pleased with the results being obtained.

"In the particular case of this corn field, Mr. Callahan made a rearrangement of his fields so that a part of the corn crop this year was on land that had been in cotton. The remainder of the field was occupied by corn and velvet beans the previous year. There has been a noticeable difference in the two parts of this corn field throughout the entire year. When the corn was harvested recently, the land was measured and the corn weighed. It was found that where the corn followed cotton, the yield was exactly twenty bushels per acre; where the corn followed the corn and velvet beans, the yield was thirty-nine bushels per acre.

"The corn was all fertilized the same, planted the same day and cultivated alike. It all grew in the same field on uniform land and the increase of 19 bushels per acre can be due to no other cause than that of plowing under the velvet beans."

Expertly Classified. Beatrice, who has three sisters and one brother, a regular little roustabout, when asked "How many children are there in your family, dear?" replied, "Four children and one boy."

Mary's Little Lamb. Regarding the authorship of "Mary's Little Lamb," a recent number of a London magazine says: "There have been many claimants to the distinction, but most of the evidence seems to show that the real author was Mrs. Sarah Buell Hale, who for a number of years edited the Lady's Magazine, the leading journal of its kind for almost half a century in the United States. She was the author of many popular poems for children, and her son, Horatio Hale, stated that the poem was first published by his mother in 1830."

It brought him untold misery; yet only he himself, was to blame

HE had neglected his teeth so long that he was actually ashamed to visit his dentist. As like so many people, he kept putting it off.

Finally he became so sensitive about their appearance that in conversation he habitually distorted his mouth in an effort to hide them from view.

A reasonable effort on his own part—consulting his dentist, conscientious use of his tooth brush and the right dentifrice—might have saved him this humiliation. But he even neglected these things. He was uncomfortable wherever he went.

LISTERINE Tooth Paste cleans such a new way. At least our chemists have discovered a polishing ingredient that really cleans without scratching the enamel—a difficult problem finally solved.

You will notice the improvement even in the first few days. And you know it is cleaning safely. So the makers of Listerine, the safe antiseptic, have found for you also the really safe dentifrice.

What are your teeth saying about you today?—LAMBERT PHARMACAL CO., Saint Louis, U. S. A.

fear

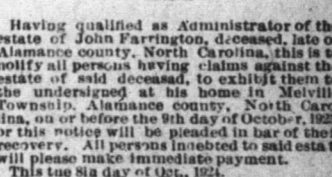

Are you self-conscious about the impression you make on people?

PERSONAL appearance has a lot to do with the way you feel. Clothes count, of course. But still there is one thing so many people overlook—something that at once brands them as either fastidious or careless—their teeth.

Notice today how you, yourself, watch another person's teeth when he or she is talking. If the teeth are not well kept they at once become a liability.

Listerine Tooth Paste cleans teeth a new way. At least our chemists have discovered a polishing ingredient that really cleans without scratching the enamel—a difficult problem finally solved.
