

SHE WENT FROM BAD TO WORSE

Down to 98 Pounds—Finally Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Cleveland, Ohio.—"After having my first baby, I lost weight, no matter what I did. Then a doctor told me I would be better if I had another baby, which I did. But I got worse, was always sickly and went down to 98 pounds. My neighbor told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it helped her very much, so I tried it. After taking four bottles, I weigh 116 pounds. It has just done wonders for me and I can do my housework now without one bit of trouble."

—Mrs. M. RISSERMAN, 10004 Nelson Ave., Cleveland, Ohio.

If some good fairy should appear, and offer to grant your heart's desire, what would you choose? Wealth? Happiness?

Health? That's the best gift. Health is riches that gold cannot buy and surely health is cause enough for happiness.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be the good fairy who offers you better health.

Careful Cutting Helps Woodlot

New York Farmer Cut $100 Worth of Fuel From Each Acre, Aiding Stand.

In a woodlot on the farm of Henry Kellogg of Barnes Corners in Lewis county, $100 worth of fuel wood was recently removed from each acre and the woodlot was left in better condition than before cutting, according to J. A. Cope, forester at Cornell university, who had charge of selecting and cutting the trees.

Woodlot Improvement.
This was part of a woodlot improvement campaign conducted by the Lewis county farm bureau in which Mr. Kellogg agreed to use his woodlands to show what could be done. An area was laid out in a 20-acre woodlot, and the trees marked to be cut were only those that were defective, crooked or were what are commonly called "weed" species.

At a woods meeting, attended by farmers of the community, the marked trees which had been carefully cut and ranked were measured. It was found that 80 15-inch cords of wood had been cut from each acre. This fuel wood had a roadside value of $200. Mr. Kellogg kept a record of time required to cut, haul and rank this wood, and found the 80 cords could be delivered to the roadside for $100, including sawing it into 15-inch lengths, thereby netting him a clear stumpage value of $100 an acre.

Saved Crop Trees.
The group next visited the lot where the cutting was done to see that the main crop trees of thrifty ash, basswood and hard maple had not been touched. The cutting had improved the condition of the stand so that the crowns of the remaining trees will be able to expand and thus diameter-growth will be greatly increased. Mr. Kellogg's experience indicated that, as far as Lewis county woodlots go, "you can eat your cake and have it, too," Mr. Cope says.

Stinking Smut Is Most Widely Spread Disease

Stinking smut is the most widely spread disease of wheat and next to black stem rust is the most destructive. It has been estimated to cause an annual loss in the United States of 25,000,000 bushels. Stinking smut grows within the wheat plant and eventually forms smut balls in the place of the kernels. It causes a general shrinkage in the outline of the head but does not otherwise greatly change the outward appearance of the head and can be detected in the field only by close examination or by scenting its odor which is similar to that of decaying fish. When the smutted wheat is threshed many of the smut balls are broken and some of the smut dust or spores is lodged on the surfaces of sound grains. If the smutted grain is sown, the smut spores germinate with the seed wheat and again develop within the plant. In this way the disease is carried from one crop to the next.

State Game Laws Govern Hunting in the Forests

Can anyone hunt and kill game in the national forests? This question is the frequently asked Department of Agriculture official. Hunting and fishing in all national forests, says the forest service, are governed by the game laws of the state in which the national forest is located. Most forest officers are deputy state game wardens and it is their duty to enforce the state game laws at all times.

In some of the national forests, however, national game refuges have been set aside for the preservation of wild life. In these refuges hunting and fishing are not allowed, except under special circumstances and with the approval of the authorities in charge.

Agricultural Squibs

A farm implement in the shelter is worth two in the storm.

Concrete gate posts, covered with stucco, make attractive entrances to farms.

Cement-asbestos shingles may be placed directly over an old wooden shingle roof.

Poultry usually do not need such things as yeast, mineral or tonic if they receive adequate rations.

A grooved surface on a concrete approach to a raised driveway will assure a firm foothold.

Probably the most important of all the more recent tendencies in fruit growing is the use of sweet clover in the apple orchard.

"Price chasing" of farmers in order to catch the high price crops or live stock has on many occasions resulted in disappointment.

It costs more for each bushel or for each unit to market a large crop of an agricultural product than it costs to market a small crop.

Farmers who take an annual inventory should not forget to include the dog. He may be an asset or a liability for he has to be fed and an annual tax has to be paid for him.

The BABY

No mother in this enlightened age would give her baby something she did not know was perfectly harmless, especially when a few drops of plain Castoria will right a baby's stomach and end almost any little ill. Fretfulness and fever, too; it seems no time until everything is serene.

That's the beauty of Castoria; its gentle influence seems just what is needed. It does all that castor oil might accomplish, without shock to the system. Without the evil taste. It's delicious! Being purely vegetable, you can give it as often as there's a sign of colic; constipation; diarrhea; or need to aid sound, natural sleep.

Just one warning: It is genuine Fletcher's Castoria that physicians recommend. Other preparations may be just as free from all doubtful drugs, but no child of this writer's is going to test them! Besides, the book on care and feeding of babies that comes with Fletcher's Castoria is worth its weight in gold.

Rubber Walls the Latest
Rubber walls in office buildings to decrease vibrations, and streets and sidewalks paved with rubber, are among the recent uses chemists have found for the product, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. They have also adapted the material to the making of interior decorations and for coating silk and other fabrics so that scarcely a trace of the resilient substance can be detected. The rubber for use in buildings is in the form of blocks or slabs, which are built up vertically on the wall face.

Another Attempt Only Fair to Shakespeare

The late John Drew hated bad acting. He would often express this hate in a witty and cruel manner.

An English actor played Hamlet one night in New York and was afterward the guest of honor at the Players' club. He sought out Drew there and said: "Well, how did you like my Hamlet?"

"Do you want the truth?" said Drew. "Yes."

"I'm afraid you're right," said the Englishman. "I felt that way while I was playing. I'll never attempt Hamlet again."

"Oh, but you must," Drew said earnestly. "Your performance tonight, you see, has made Shakespeare turn in his grave. Well, you can't leave him like that, lying face downward, can you? You must play Hamlet just once more; then he'll turn over and be comfortable again."

"This man's criticism," he said, "reminds me of a colored farmer. An insurance agent called on him one day and said: "Your accident policy runs out next month, Mr. White. You're going to renew, of course?"

"No, Ah hadn't gwine ter renew," said Wash White. "Ah been insured in yore company fo'teen years, sah, and Ah hadn't had one single blessed ax'dent. So natherly Ah's gwine ter change to a better company now."

If Back Hurts Begin on Salts
Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally by Drinking Quarts of Good Water

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

Poultry Notes
Egg-laying demonstrations show that it pays to educate hens.

Delays in making repairs on the poultry houses usually prove expensive.

Damp floors should not be tolerated. Poorly ventilated poultry houses are damp.

Feeding space for all hens at all times is the rule that should be kept in mind in building a poultry feed hopper.

Red mites may be controlled by thoroughly painting the house with carbolineum. Spraying with coal tar dip is also effective.

One should feed comparatively little grain feed in the morning. Probably 5 pounds for 100 hens will be sufficient. There should be kept before the hens all the time a dry mash.

W. H. U., BALTIMORE, MD. 6-1928.

POULTRY

COSTS A QUARTER TO SECURE EGGS

Those economists and farmers who say that eggs can be produced in North Carolina for as low as 13 to 15 cents a dozen, don't know what they are talking about, according to Dr. E. F. Kaupp, head of the poultry department of the North Carolina State college.

Doctor Kaupp states that it will cost nearly 25 cents a dozen if all feed costs and overhead costs are added to the totals. He bases his statement on some experiments that he has been conducting with a flock of 750 White Leghorn hens at one of the branch station farms of the North Carolina experiment station.

"Some of the data that I have seen says that it costs the southern farmer only about 13 to 15 cents a dozen to produce eggs," says Doctor Kaupp. "We know that when hens have been bred for high egg production, the cost per dozen eggs is lower, and for that reason it will certainly cost the average farmer more to produce eggs than it will the commercial poultry farmer where the hens are bred for highest production. This commercial man also gives closer attention to his management and feeding than will the average farmer. We have many farmers who are making money with poultry but they are not considering their eggs to cost only 15 cents a dozen to produce."

Doctor Kaupp used the regular North Carolina ration in feeding his test flock of 750 hens. He kept a careful and accurate record of each cent spent for feed, the cost of litter, grit, depreciation of the flock, interest on the investment, the labor, taxes and other charges. Then there were some miscellaneous charges such as for medicines, egg cases, leg bands and the like. He credited the hens for all eggs, for all manure, and for the poultry sold. Each hen returned a net profit above all costs of $2.40 for the year and the eggs were produced at a cost just a fraction under 25 cents. He found, too, that it took six pounds of feed to produce each dozen eggs.

Early-Hatched Pullets Are Most Profitable

The early-hatched pullets that start to lay in October or November are the ones to keep for profitable egg production. The fall and winter months are the season of high-egg prices and birds that do not come into production until the season has passed will not pay as well as they ought to. It is the early-hatcher and well-matured pullet, with plenty of body weight to give her endurance, that will produce the eggs during this high-priced period.

The early-hatched pullets should be distinguished from the early-maturing pullets. One was hatched early, grew normally, obtaining normal body weight and coming into production at a time when her system was ready for sustained production. The rapidly maturing bird probably was hatched later, but made such rapid sexual development that she is ready to start laying before her body is equipped for sustained production.

Such birds, in direct contrast with the former, are light in weight, are very often poor feeders, and will very likely go into a partial or complete molt before they have produced very many eggs.

Late Molting Hens Take Short Time to Idle

Some hens take fully four times as long a vacation as others to regrow their feathers and prepare for another season of egg-laying. A recent study at the Missouri agricultural experiment station showed that hens ceasing to lay in July took 182 days' vacation and laid 109 eggs during the year. Those quitting in August took 151 days off to grow new feathers, laying 134 eggs. September quitters lost 143 days and laid 157 eggs. October molters were idle 94 days and laid 153 eggs. Birds laying up to November lost 69 days for molting and laid 171 eggs, while December molters lost only 45 days and laid 174 eggs during the year.

Are You Nervous? Sleepless?

Lynchburg, Va.—"I can highly recommend Dr. James' Favorite Prescription. It is worthy of all the praise I can give it. I suffered a general decline in health, grew very thin, grew very thin, I could not sleep, I had no appetite, and a lot of distress in my back. My husband got five bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and by the time I had taken them I had completely regained my health and strength, I could eat and sleep, gained in weight and felt better than I had for months."—Mrs. S. # Grandmother Knew

There was nothing so good for congestion and colds as mustard. But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered.

Musteroil gives the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Gently rub it in. See how quickly the pain disappears.

Try Musteroil for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

ASPIRIN

The whole world knows Aspirin as an effective antidote for pain. But it's just as important to know that there is only one genuine Bayer Aspirin. The name Bayer is on every tablet, and on the box. If it says Bayer, it's genuine; and if it doesn't, it is not! Headaches are dispelled by Bayer Aspirin. So are colds, and the pain that goes with them; even neuralgia, neuritis, and rheumatism promptly relieved. Get Bayer—at any drugstore—with proven directions.

Physicians prescribe Bayer Aspirin; it does NOT affect the heart.
