

When Food Sours

Lots of folks who think they have "indigestion" have only an acid condition which could be corrected in five or ten minutes. An effective anti-acid like Phillips Milk of Magnesia soon restores digestion to normal.

Phillips does away with all that sourness and gas right after meals. It prevents the distress so apt to occur two hours after eating. What a pleasant preparation to take! And how good it is for the system! Unlike a burning dose of soda—which is but temporary relief at best—Phillips Milk of Magnesia neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

Next time a hearty meal, or too rich a diet has brought on the least discomfort, try—

Latest Toad Story

Mrs. Sarah Chaloupkas, of Wyoming, Iowa, is telling a toad story. Her toad, a tree toad, she says, croaks though it has been imbedded in the concrete basement wall of her home 11 years. The toad was not heard until a year after the house was built, and is silent in the winter, but through the spring, summer and fall it is noisy. Three years ago, according to Mrs. Chaloupkas, the toad was silent and she thought it was dead, but a few days later she heard it again and today it is croaking as merrily as ever.

Electrical Contractor Gives Advice to Others

"I think Milk's Emulsion should be advertised all over the world, so as to help all of the sick."

"In 1912 I had a great deal of trouble with my stomach and bowels. For several years I tried everything that I saw advertised, but I kept getting worse all the time. I got so bad that I was in bed for three months in 1916. While in Philadelphia in 1917 I happened to see one of your ads. I had tried everything that I thought was any good, but concluded to give Milk's Emulsion a trial. It could not do any worse than the rest."

"To my surprise it regulated my bowels and I found I did not suffer any more after eating and had no pain at all. I continued the use of Milk's Emulsion for six months, until I was in fine health and have been for the past eight years. When I think of the way I suffered night and day for six years, I feel that every person with stomach and bowel trouble should know about Milk's Emulsion." Yours truly, S. B. Man Battles With Seal

His alarming battle with a huge seal has just been reported by John Raffan, a road foreman at Banff, Scotland. As he approached the animal on Banff beach it growled and snapped at his leg. He warded it off with a shovel, but the seal grasped it firmly with its mouth. After a strenuous struggle Raffan regained the shovel, and for him to make his escape.

WILL DO ALL IT CLAIMS TO DO

Mrs. Steele Says of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pratt, W. Va.—"I was so weak and nervous that I was in bed most all the time and couldn't sit up and I am only 39 years old. I saw your advertisement in a magazine and after I had taken three doses of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could feel that I was better. After taking two bottles I began doing my work and I feel like a new woman. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and say it will do all it claims to do and more. I will gladly answer all letters I receive."—Miss S. E. Spitzer, Pratt, W. Va.

It May Be Urgent

When your Children Cry for It

Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fretful. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease. If restless, a few drops soon bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest infant; you have the doctors' word for that! It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But it's in an emergency that Castoria means most. Some night when constipation must be relieved—or colic pains—or other suffering. Never be without it; some mothers keep an extra bottle, unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too; read the book that comes with it.

Not Perfect
An alumnae of a nearby college was entertaining her former history professor at dinner, much to the interest of her three small sons. Jack, the eldest, kept eyeing the professor closely, and finally, after dinner, he asked, "Mother, you say Professor Smith was your history professor?"
"Yes, sonny, and a splendid one, too."
"Well," pronounced the six-year-old observer, "he has a hole in his sock."

Town Good Fire Risk
The Arizona town of Chandler, with a population of 1,500 and assessable property in excess of $1,500,000, has a record of two years without a fire. Soon after a quantity of gasoline became ignited in April, 1926, doing damage of $1.13, the town officials put in a fire siren system of summoning the volunteer fire department. But fortune decreed that the sound of the siren should not disturb the quiet of the town after the siren had been turned on once for a demonstration.

Touches that Add Style to Dresses

It's amazing to see how faded, out-of-style dresses can be transformed by a few buttons, a little braid and the quick magic of home dyeing or tinting. You don't need any experience to tint or dye successfully if you are sure to use true, fast-color Dyes. Tinting with them is easy as bluing, and dyeing takes just a little more time to "set" the colors. They never give things that re-dyed look which comes from using inferior dyes. Insist on Diamond Dyes and save disappointment. Over 20 million packages used a year.

My new 66-page illustrated book, "Color Craft," gives hundreds of money-saving hints for renewing clothes and draperies. It's Free. Write for it, now, to Mae Martin, Dept. G-142, Diamond Dyes, Burlington, Vermont.

Get Fertilizers in Compact Form

New Commercial Mixtures With Nitrogen Compounds Increase Plant Food.

Concentrated fertilizers are here this season. More than that, they will receive greater consideration from New York farmers and probably will be used far more extensively in the years to come, says Prof. E. L. Worthen of the agronomy department of the New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y. Synthetic Nitrogenous Materials.

The development of so-called concentrated mixed fertilizers results from advances in the manufacture of synthetic nitrogenous materials. These materials are higher in plant food than the animal, fish, or vegetable materials which have commonly been used as carriers of plant foods for commercial fertilizers.

All the nitrogen in a fertilizer may come through synthetic materials or "chemicals." While an objection has been raised because these concentrated fertilizers do not contain nitrogen in the form of organic materials, experiments do not show any consistent superiority of nitrogen from organic sources as compared with that from "chemicals." Results from concentrated fertilizers, although still somewhat incomplete, indicate an approximate equal value, pound for pound, of plant food in concentrated mixtures and in fertilizers of ordinary, low concentration.

Advocate Ratios.
Buyers of fertilizer will be advised more and more to consider using ratios such as 1-2-1, 1-3-1, or 1-1-1 instead of the analysis such as 5-40-5. The analyses which have been used for years by New York farmers indicate the percentages of plant food contained. However, since concentrated fertilizer may carry double or triple as much plant food as those less concentrated, the use of ratios to represent the plant food contained instead of the exact formula is advised.

Professor Worthen points out that it is possible to injure seeds or young plants unless the rate of application of concentrated fertilizer is reduced. If a 10-20-10 fertilizer replaces a 5-10-5, the rate of application should be reduced one half, for example. Special precautions should be taken to prevent the fertilizer from coming in direct contact with the seed, but if the rate of application is not unduly heavy and if the fertilizer is properly mixed with the soil, crops will not be injured.

Colloids in Soils Have Much to Do With Plants

Now that such words as legumes, humus and bacteria have become familiar to farmers and their relation to the soil fertility is understood, the term "colloid" is about to claim the attention of soil builders. Soil colloids consist mainly of organic matter and partially decomposed mineral substances existing in a very finely divided state. These colloids are important, scientists are finding out, because they have much to do with plant growth. The extent of bacterial action in the soil, its water holding capacity and the solubility of the plant foods depend very largely upon the nature of the colloids present.

Fall Plowing for Trees Is Favored by Forester

"Proper tillage of the soil is probably the most necessary prerequisite to successful tree growing," says C. W. Watkins, Nebraska extension forester. He advises the man who plans to set out trees in the spring to plow the ground in the fall. This conserves the moisture and makes a compact, moist soil for planting in the spring. There will be enough moisture stored in the fall plowed land to start the trees in the spring even if there is very little rain at that time. After the trees are planted, regular cultivation and an occasional hoeing will prevent weed growth and give the trees a chance to get started.

Agricultural Squibs

No economical substitute for the use of liming materials in growing legumes has been found.

The home gardener may extend his growing season in the fall by the use of hotbeds and cold frames.

Giving your dairy barn a good system of ventilation now means healthier stock and purer milk in the winter.

The production of hogs, beef cattle and horses moves in cycles. That is, there is a period of large production followed by a period of lesser production. Prices move in the opposite direction.

Moving pullets from the range to the laying house is delicate work in so far as the pullets are concerned. Remember that they are going into strange quarters and will receive new management from now on. Sudden changes are often disastrous to egg production.

Elephant or Tractor, Question in Africa

In the Congo river basin of Africa, where the soil is perhaps as rich as anywhere else in the world, there is a merry rivalry between American tractors and elephants as motive power on the farms. The big beast driven by a mahout for a salary of 24 cents a day can turn the sod of one and a quarter acres. Outside of a little salt the elephant can find his own feed. It is not bothered by the tsetse fly, so fatal to other domestic animals.

A tractor is figured to be 14 times more costly to run. But its initial cost is about $400 to the elephant's $2,400, and it can turn the sod of 25 or more acres in a day. So each has its advantages. After nearly 50 years of experiment there are available in the region only 24 elephants sufficiently trained for use on the farms.

Autoists Fight Gates

Automobile drivers of Australia are tired of climbing in and out of their cars in order to open and close road gates to keep cattle at home. In that land of many cattle it has been necessary to fence across many of the country roads. A scheme to have at each gate an excavation, with tracks across for cars, but so constructed that stock cannot cross, is meeting with high favor. No provision will be made for horses and carriages, because they are considered by ranches as being "relies of the dim and distant past."

Wrote Checks

Bill Younger and Curtis Benton, both well known scenario writers, had been discussing a certain candidate for membership in the Writers' club when Benton suddenly exclaimed: "And there's another fellow who lives by his pen!"
Younger looked at the uncouth chap Benton had pointed out and finally said: "You can never make me believe that fellow's a writer."
"I merely said he lived by his pen," asserted Benton. "He keeps hogs."

Lucky Purchase

A once stately mansion was being torn down at the national capital to make way for stores. The material had been sold for a song. In moving one of the white but soiled stone mantelpieces the paint was accidentally rubbed off. Lucky purchaser! The material was found to be alabaster.
