

THE GLEANER

GRAHAM, N. C., FEB. 4, 1932.

LOCAL NEWS

Like a May morning—this.

A large number of cases of influenza is reported in the county.

Mr. A. K. Hardee attended the funeral of his brother's wife at Benson Monday.

Sunday and Monday mornings were very frosty—and about the coldest so far this winter.

Superior Court for the trial of civil cases convened Monday with Judge Walter E. Moore of Jackson County presiding.

Miss Nellie Lineberry, graduate of Charlotte Beauty School, will be at Misses Amick's millinery store Friday and Saturday to do beauty work at special prices.

It is noted that Mr. O. L. Sapp of Greensboro and Hon. J. Elmer Long and Maj. L. P. McLendon of Durham are among the attorneys attending court here this week.

Mrs. Geo. A. Mebane and son, Allen, of Greensboro and Mrs. Victor Graves of New York City were here Saturday attending a business meeting of the L. Banks Holt Mfg. Co.

The County Council at a recent meeting received the resignation of Mrs. Chas. B. Coble as chairman of county curb markets and elected Mrs. Robert Cuberson her successor with Mrs. W. F. Somers as assistant.

John W. Story, 51, was a victim of suicide in Burlington about 9 o'clock Tuesday night. In the basement of his home he fired a bullet into his head. Ill health is assigned as reason for the rash act. Eight children survive him.

The Superior Court started off Monday morning with 23 divorce cases in the hopper. Six of them were tried and divorces granted and one was nonsuited. A little more diligence might prevent the docket becoming unduly cluttered.

The dedication of the new Boy Scouts' hut will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies and exercises at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. A large number of visiting Boy Scouts is expected to take part in the dedication program. There will be prominent speakers and a flag raising.

Alamance matrimonial market slumped the past week. Only one marriage license issued—for Fred Garner, Snow Camp, and Florence Tyner, Liberty, colored folks. But St. Valentine's day—legendary matting time—is only ten days off. Then the poetic prophecy "In the spring-time the thoughts of young men lightly turns to thoughts of love," or words to that affect. So a revival in matrimonial matters is in a way foreshadowed.

Citizens, financially and otherwise interested, are, it seems, leaving no stone unturned to effect a reopening of the First National Bank and United Bank in Burlington. It is recognized that the loss and cost of liquidation will exceed by far the cost of putting them into operation again. The spirit of cooperation that is being manifested will turn the trick. The National is well along toward the goal. The United is following, spurred on by the parent bank in Greensboro which was first to weaken, but now moving hopefully toward reopening.

That George Attmore Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dolph Long, was advised last week that he had passed a successful examination before the State Supreme Court for license to practice law was good news to his parents and friends here. George's 21st birthday day will be in March and he will not receive his license until that date. He graduated at Chapel Hill two years ago and since then has been taking the law course. He will complete his law course in June and receive his law degree. During his four years at the University and his High School days he was an out-standing student with honors. We congratulate him and extend all good wishes.

Another Alamance boy, Clarence C. Cates, Jr., of Burlington, though blind was also licensed. He graduated at Chapel Hill in the same class with the former and since has taken the law course. Handicapped by blindness, his achievement is notable and he will deserve every success that comes to him.

Robert P. D. Ray, aged 69 years, died Sunday morning at his home a mile southeast of Graham. He had not been in good health for some time. Mr. Ray had spent his entire life in this community. He was an industrious farmer and busied himself only about his own affairs. The funeral was held Monday afternoon and interment was made in Linwood cemetery. He is survived by two daughters and three sons: Mrs. T. N. Boone, Burlington; Miss Mamie Ray, Raleigh; Joseph Ray, Asheville; Samuel Ray, Graham; and Lewis B. Ray, Newark, N. J.; by a half-brother, Henry Ray, Graham; and seven grandchildren.

Mr. M. R. Rives' Father Dies At Williamston.

Peter R. Rives, in his 85th year father of Mr. M. R. Rives of Graham, died on the 25th of January at the home of a daughter in Williamston. Mr. Rives had been a farmer all his life up to retiring a few years ago. He was a gallant Confederate soldier and left school to do his bit for the Confederacy. He is survived by six sons and two daughters. Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Rives and daughter, Mary Worsley, attended the funeral which was held Tuesday, and they have the sympathy of their many friends here in their bereavement.

County Court Hands Out Road Sentences.

Only four cases were heard Monday in General County Court and all of them drew road sentences, as follows:

Punch Baines, whiskey in possession, 4 mos.

Morris Rogers, carrying concealed weapon, 60 days.

Grady Shavers, petty larceny, 9 mos.

Don D. Andrews, disposing of mortgaged property, 60 days. At a former hearing he was given a suspended sentence for 60 days, provided he pay the costs and pay $12.00 due on the mortgage. He failed to comply with the former judgment.

Among the Sick.

Mr. J. B. Farrell is confined to his home by an attack of flu.

Mr. Walter R. Harden, accompanied by Mrs. Harden, went to Watts Hospital Monday for examination and treatment. He had not been feeling very well for a few days.

It has been learned here that Mrs. J. C. Hocutt, former resident of Graham, was quite ill the first of the week from pneumonia at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Goodman, in Asheville. A later report said she was much improved. The many friends here hope for her early recovery.

Winter Over According to Ground-Hog Legend.

There was not a ray of sunshine in these parts on February 2nd—ground-hog day.

The tradition is, as almost everybody knows, that the little animal burrows into the earth upon the approach of winter to remain till spring opens.

That February 2nd is the day appointed to come forth and investigate the weather situation. If he sees his shadow, he decides that winter is not over and returns to his winter-quarters to remain six weeks before coming forth again. At the end of that period, when he appears again, if he sees his shadow, he returns to remain two weeks longer before coming out for good.

But on the contrary, if he does not see his shadow on his first appearing the decision is that winter is over and he remains out.

Wait and watch to prove the verity of the tradition.

A group of Carteret County growers received $707.45 net for a car of 76 hogs sold on the Richmond market last week.

Three hundred Johnston County tobacco growers had the county farm agent to clean their planting seed last week.

Membership in the North Carolina Cotton Growers Cooperative Association increased nearly 2,000 in the last year and now totals 13,500. General Manager U. Benton Blalock announces.

The newly organized Orange County mutual exchange has ordered 1,000 bushels of soybeans for its farmer members. The seed will be used in hay production.

Cotton handled cooperatively in 1927-28 was 825,750 bales, which increased last season to 2,442,001—an increase in actual bales of 147 per cent.
