Give Them What They Pay For

There is talk in some quarters of the State about taking some of the money paid by motorists in the way of gas taxes and for license tags and using it for other purposes.

Most people, chiselers excepted, believe in giving the purchaser what he pays for. When a customer steps up to the counter and calls for a dozen eggs and pays the price for a dozen, he is entitled to the number he pays for and it is not honest to take pay for a dozen and deliver only ten.

That is the situation with the motorist who pays in gas taxes and license tags for good roads. If the money is not spent for good roads and making them safe, the motorist is not getting what he pays for. In plain terms, it is not honest to take the money on pretense of using it for roads and spending it for something else.

A legislator may say he didn't get any of the money and be strictly truthful, but if he cavined at diverting it from the original purpose, his hands are not clean and he cannot plead innocence.

In all fairness and honesty it behooves the State to deal honestly and squarely with its citizens. If legislators, representing the State, feel it their duty to make laws to compel citizens to deal honestly with the State and prescribe punishment for infractions of the laws, then the State should set a good example by dealing fairly with the citizen.

Precept is propaganda but example is concrete and basic.

Plan for Conservation Embraces Entire Nation.

"One of the most heartening things about the water and power supply that the San Francisco area is obtaining from a river that, during its tumbling career over thousands of years has cut a deep gash in the Sierras," said Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes of the great Heath Hetchy Dam, "is the demonstration of what can be accomplished for the benefit of the people by friendly and intelligent cooperation of a local government with the National Government."

"San Francisco has done much more than merely providing an inexhaustible supply of pure water. It has pointed the way to other communities to join with the Federal Government in the development of a natural resource for the highest and most beneficial use. When this project was undertaken 20 years ago probably few people envisaged the time when there would be a man in the White House who would look upon it as a milestone in the progress of a people in the direction of greater understanding and good will and cooperation between the Federal Government on the one hand and states and municipalities on the other, a cooperation that has in it infinite possibilities for the greater welfare, happiness and prosperity of the people."

"Fortunately we now have the most social-minded President this country has ever had. He thinks of the country as a whole, with the mind of a sincere conservationist. No other President in two full terms has done so much in 18 months to plan a development of the natural resources for the greatest benefit of all of the people. He has inaugurated policies which go far to check present destructive waste and repair damage already done.

"President Roosevelt has set up a National Resource Board to make a complete survey of our water sheds, all of them; our land uses and all our natural resources, with a view of suggesting a plan of comprehensive and interrelated development of them. He does not believe in political log-rolling projects or in pork-barrel development, such as we have all been too familiar with in the past. He knows that everything necessary to be done cannot be done at once. His idea is to undertake the most pressing and beneficial public works first.

"It will be broad and not a sectional plan that, when completed, will utilize in scientific and economic manner our remaining resources so as to benefit the people as a whole."

On more than half a million mortgage loans made by the Farm Credit Administration primarily to refinance depression debts farmers are paying 1 1/2 percent less interest than previously and making additional saving of 1 percent through elimination of renewal charges, according to a report by Gov. W. L. Myers of the FCA. The general average annual interest paid by farmers throughout the country has been reduced from 6.6 percent to 4 1/2 per cent. The annual interest saving exceeds 31 million dollars and in renewal charges 65 millions.

Through State CAPITAL KFYHOES

By Bess Hinton Silver.

Cherry Blossoms—Raleigh politicians are inclined to take the newly-hatched boom in behalf of Representative R. Gregg Cherry, of Gaston, for Speaker of the 1935 House of Representatives with a grain of salt. The opinion is expressed freely on Capitol Hill that Mr. Cherry's friends would like to see him get the chairmanship of an important committee and it is known by one and all that a good way to assure that is to line up some votes in the Speakership race.

Consolidation—Sentiment for county consolidations is growing in North Carolina but the prognosticators will stake their reputation that the idea doesn't get beyond the dream stage during the coming session of the General Assembly. Home-town courthouse positions would howl to high heaven if their Representatives began talking about abolishing their jobs and the natives would get into no end of squabbles about the county seats of the new districts. Capitol Hill believes that consolidation of counties will be among those things done by the Legislature next year.

Big War—The opinion is growing over the State that North Carolina is going to witness another political "Battle of the Century" in the spring of '36 between the forces of Senator Josiah W. Bailey and those of Governor Ehringhaus. There is no doubt that the sparks will fly if these two political Hercules lock horns. Certainly Senator Bailey is going to seek re-election and if Governor Ehringhaus resists the pressure that is being brought to bear to get him to make the race he'll be "a better man than you are, HUNKA TIN."

Deadly—Death takes few holidays on North Carolina's highway system. The total highway fatalities reached the all time high for one month during November when 115 persons were killed. The next General Assembly is almost sure to pass some sort of drivers' license law but the more important thing is enforcement.

It will take money to do the job and more highway patrolmen will have to be employed, in the opinion of authorities on such matters. The money is in the highway fund to pay for the job but a lot of folks want to use it for something else.

At It Again—Attorney General Dennis G. Brummitt and State Treasurer Chas. M. Johnson are throwing bricks at one another again. Mr. Brummitt started when he dug up his pet row about who should audit books of the School Commission. Mr. Brummitt ruled that the Commission didn't have a legal right to advance teachers' salaries before Christmas but added that since the Commission didn't follow his ruling on the audit proposition it might go ahead and disregard him. That got a rise out of Mr. Johnson but the smoke is clearing away once more.

Money Man—The grapevine reports that Representative Reginald Harris, of Person, who held the Speakership in the 1933 session, will head the House Finance Committee in 1935 if either Robert Grady Johnson, of Pender, or Laurie McEachern, of Hoke, are elected Speaker. If Representative W. L. Lumpkin, of Franklin, gets the Speakership that will change the picture and, Tam C. Bowie, of Ashe, friend and supporter of Lumpkin, probably will get one of the major committee posts.

Santa Claus—You can find plenty of politically-wise people who believe that there will be a real Santa for school teachers, highway employes and other State hired help when the General Assembly meets. Governor Ehringhaus is as proud as a dog with two tails over increases in State revenues and he is not expected to oppose increases in pay for the public slaves. In fact, nobody would be surprised if he recommended a little more gravy to go with the dry bread. The legislators themselves, as well as their neighbors have more money than they did two years ago and everything looks brighter. State employes are not falling to hang up their stockings, even though some of them may have to tie up the holes in the toes and heels.

Gets A Break—Representative Tam C. Bowie, the political powder-keg from Ashe county, is quoted as saying Raleigh scribes are not mentioning his name as a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination in 1936 for reasons of their own which could not be called ethical or public-spirited. Mr. Bowie can't hurl that charge at Keyholes, which has never minimized his political powers but has quoted his friends as saying that he will not run in opposition to his close personal and political friend, Congressman R. L. Doughton, if that gentleman decides to start a race from Sparta, North Carolina, to a certain red brick house on Blount Street in Raleigh.

May Face Better—Two years ago the Department of Conservation and Development and the Parole Commissioner were objects of concerted legislative attacks. The Parole office had been an issue in the gubernatorial campaign and the conservation department was in Dutch because of certain game wardens. All has changed. R. Bruce Etheridge is winning acclaim for the former set-up while Parole Commissioner Edwin M. Gill has done the latter office untold good. Prospects are good that both these important State offices will get better than the shoe-string doled out by the last General Assembly.

Sales Tax—Over in the Old State of Mecklenburg the boys who furnish the material for newspapers will tell you that the sales tax is not at all unpopular as it once was and that Governor Ehringhaus is gaining popularity. Some of them will even venture the prediction (off record) that he could beat Senator Josiah W. Bailey in 1936 race for one of the State's seats in the most august legislative body in the world. That may mean something with a legislative session just around the corner and the Governor's friends urging him to oppose Senator Bailey two years, or less, hence.

Crime—All these State and National conferences on crime are striving toward a goal that can be described in one word—cooperation. From Coroner to Supreme Court and still upward to the Governor and Executive Clemency what is needed most, in the opinion of those who handle criminals in State Institutions, is cooperation. All too often police officers think that the whole system of justice depends on them. Likewise some judges seem under the impression that it is up to them to administer justice in its entirety from beginning to end. Prominent North Carolina criminologists are of the opinion that all these officers and their legal functions should work as parts of one big machine of justice and that such cooperation would result in better law enforcement and fewer crimes.

R. H. Crouse, Haywood county agent, is working hard on the dairy program for securing more good cows for the county.

The Robeson county agent, O. O. Dukes, and eight agricultural teachers in the county recently conducted 30 meetings relative to the cotton program. The meetings were well attended.
