

THE GLEANER

GRAHAM, N. C., JAN. 28, 1937

Local News

—It was cooler this morning than it has been for about a month. It was sleeting early, but the rain increased and halted the freezing.

—For the President's ball Graham people will go to Burlington and elsewhere Friday night. Someone here should have assumed the task of promoting the ball here.

—Local merchants are making it possible to buy goods at a great saving. They are disposing of the surplus of stock bought for the winter trade. They are closing out these goods, quantities of them, at a financial loss. Their loss will be your gain.

—For the past two Fridays the sun shone—the only days in three weeks, except one Saturday, that there has been any sunshine. If the sun should come out tomorrow, it would be practically a verification of the adage about Friday being the "fairest or foulest."

—A Surprise—Mrs. Mary Estlow Walker was the victim of a surprise last Saturday evening. A number of friends dropped in for a social hour and brought remembrances. Mrs. Walker was intrigued to leave her guests for a short while, and upon returning she was greeted with a ready-set table, centered with a birthday cake upon which lighted candles were burning. Other delicacies adorned the table also. The surprise was complete and really enjoyed by the guests more than by the hostess.

—Flood Relief—The Red Cross appeal to Red Cross workers in Alamance for funds for flood relief has been generously responded to. Four hundred dollars was asked for from the organization from this county. The amount has been multiplied several times in donations, and contributions are still coming in. The country folks have been as generous as those in town. At the headquarters in Burlington more than $2,000 has been reported; in Graham the contributions, we are informed, will be more than $400; and at Mebane about $200 has been reported.

Births.

A daughter, Patricia Anne, was born to Mr. and Mrs. V. L. King last Sunday afternoon at Dr. Spoon's hospital.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Boggs on Sunday at Rainey hospital.

Among The Sick.

Miss Gladys Larsen underwent operation for appendicitis at a Greensboro hospital on Thursday of last week and is reported doing nicely.

B. P. Browning is at Duke hospital for treatment.

Mrs. W. M. Drumwright is at Duke hospital for treatment.

Mrs. O. J. Paris is improving from an illness.

Charles Perry is confined to his home with flu.

Mrs. Will Trolinger, who recently underwent an operation at Duke hospital, has returned home.

A. M. Hadley Passes at Home, Near Mebane.

Alvis M. Hadley, 65, former citizen of Graham, died Wednesday morning, at his home south of Mebane, after several years of declining health. Funeral service and burial take place at Phillips Chapel this afternoon. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Josephine Crawford Hadley, and two daughters, Doris and Mary Alice; also two brothers and two sisters of the Snow Camp community.

Mr. Hadley was born and reared in the southern part of this county. Around 35 years ago he came to Graham and opened a clothing store which he successfully operated for a number of years. When he closed his business here he moved to a farm south of Mebane. Mr. Hadley was a very estimable citizen and had many friends throughout the county, who will regret to learn of his passing.

Capt. Foster Starts on His 90th Lap.

On Sunday, 24th, Capt. R. G. Foster passed his 89th mile post and started toward his 90th, apparently in as good trim as he was ten, twenty or thirty years ago.

Scarcely one in tens of thousands is so vigorous and active at nearly four-score-and-ten.

Capt. Foster was born in Surry county, Va., January 24, 1848. At that time the trend was "go west." While at a tender age his people followed the trend and he grew up beyond the Ohio.

As a lad he learned the printing business. The urge to see more of the world carried him from Maine to Texas as a journeyman printer.

He has not, at all times, followed the trade he learned in his youth. In the prime of life he was secretary of the American Legation in Spain, where he resided for a number of years.

Nearly forty years ago Capt. Foster came to make his home in Graham, and has since resided here as editor and printer and filling various posts of trust and honor. He is esteemed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

He was given a birthday dinner last Sunday by Mrs. Heenan Hughes, where he makes his home.

At this writing he is busy at his share in producing the Gleaner and going strong.

The Gleaner joins with his many friends in wishing him good cheer and happiness as the shadows lengthen.

Col. Scott Promoted to Brigadier-General.

Col. Don E. Scott had been slated for promotion, but he had to take the test. On Monday in Raleigh he successfully passed the examination and was promoted to the highly honorable rank of Brigadier-General.

When but a lad he joined the military company in Burlington. He began as a private and has climbed step by step. Fidelity to duty was the stepping stone. With a good record behind him he was the better enabled to ascend.

We cannot now follow him through the various stages of his ascent. But when he trouble broke out on the Mexican border about the commencement of the World war, he was sent there to get his first taste of real soldier life. He proved himself a d and was promoted. He had scarcely reached home when the call to the World War came. Already trained, he embarked with his men for France. There he distinguished himself and other promotions followed. As Brigadier-General both his work and responsibilities will be augmented and place him in command of the 60th brigade of national guard troops in the Carolinas, Georgia and Tennessee.

It gives us pleasure to congratulate him.

Lawrence S. Holt Dies in Statesville Hospital

Lawrence S. Holt, born May 17, 1851, at the Holt home near the Alamance mills operated by his father, was the youngest of ten children born to Edwin M. Holt and Emily Farish Holt, and the last survivor.

He was educated and trained for business, and became banker, merchant and manufacturer. Most of his active years were devoted to cotton manufacturing and success was the result of his efforts and close attention. He was one of Alamance County's leading manufacturers.

While yet comparatively a young man, around 50 years ago, he located in Burlington and was the leading manufacturer there. Besides, he had other manufacturing interests.

Among his benefactions, he built and endowed the handsome Episcopal church in Burlington, an imposing granite structure. His funeral was conducted from this church on the afternoon of Monday, the 21st.

In 1882, April 2, he was united in marriage with Miss Margaret Locke Erwin, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Erwin of Burke county. To them were born the following sons and daughters: Erwin A. Holt, Burlington; Eugene Holt, Richmond; Lawrence S. Holt, Jr., Asheville; and Mesdames Howard H. Lowry, New Canaan, Conn.; Walter Brooks, New York city; and Bertha Holt Clark, Palos Verdes Estate, Calif. His eldest, Emily Farish, died in 1882.

Club boys of Wilson county will plant 500 black walnut seedlings as club projects during late January or early February.

Alamance Christian Churches In Get-Together Meeting Next Sunday Afternoon at Providence.

The following appeared in the Christian Sun, church paper, this week, and is of interest to members of that church:

On Sunday afternoon, January 31, the Christian churches in and about Burlington and Graham, N. C., will have a get-together meeting to consider cooperative work in the field of leadership training, fellowship, etc. These churches include Elton College, Shallow Ford, Bethlehem, Berea, Long's Chapel, Union, Providence, Hopedale, Carolina, Haw River, Graham and Burlington. All of these churches are in Alamance county, which means that they are close enough together to engage in cooperative work easily.

The ministers have agreed that representatives will be present at the first meeting. Dr. J. H. Lightbourne, of Burlington, will speak on purposes and plans, and it is expected that an organization will be formed to carry on the work in the future.

W. D. Cook Shot to Death.

The dead body of Wm. D. Cook, operator of a pool room and filling station in the Burlington Mills section, between Graham and Burlington, was found early Monday morning. Robbery is supposed to have been the motive. Two or more have been taken as suspects. A coroner's jury is making a thorough investigation, and from their finding definite action will be taken. Cook was shot in the back of the head.
