Commencement at Woman's College Starts June 4th

Among the Graduates Will be Miss Ruth Holt of Graham

Greensboro, May 18—Miss Ruth Holt, of Graham, is a member of the senior class at the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina where 218 seniors will be candidates for degrees at the 45th commencement of the college June seventh.

Miss Holt has majored in grammar grade education and is therefore in the group of students working towards the bachelor of arts degree. She is a member of the Dikean society, the Education club, the college Y W C A, and she has served as a house vice-president in one of the residence halls at the college.

The commencement program at the Woman's College will get under way Friday evening, June 4, with the commencement ball for the senior class, the first event of its kind in the history of the college. Saturday, June 5, is alumnae day, with a general assembly of alumnae scheduled for 10:15 o'clock in Student's building. The formal opening exercises of the new alumnae house will take place an hour later on the lawn in front of the house. At 12:30 there will be a luncheon in the college dining halls with the alumnae as guests of the college.

A formal reception will be held in the alumnae house at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and class day exercises will be held at 4:30 on the front campus. An all-reunion sunset supper will be held at six o'clock on the quadrangle of the west campus, and at 8 o'clock that evening a guest performance by the Play-Likers of "Little Women," dramatization of Louisa M. Alcott's famous book, will be given for alumnae and campus visitors.

Bishop James E. Freeman, of the Washington diocese of the Episcopal church, will preach the baccalaureate sermon Sunday morning, June 6, and the final exercises with conferring of degrees are scheduled for Monday, June 7.

Mortgage Sale

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a Mortgage Deed, dated November 7, 1929, executed by Lexie Golston to the undersigned, to secure the balance of the purchase price of the land herein described, and default having been made in the payment of said mortgage deed, I will sell at public auction at the Court-house door in Graham, N. C., on the following described property:

Saturday, June 5, 1937; at 11:00 o'clock, A. M.,

A certain tract or parcel of land, lying in Melville Township, County of Alamance, State of North Carolina, adjoining the lands of John W. Bason, William Burns and others and bounded as follows:

Beginning at a stake on the North side of the Graham road, the said Burns corner, running thence with said Burns line 14 chains 50 links to a white oak, near a spring; thence North 50 deg. East 7 chains 75 links to a stone, said J. W. Bason's line; thence South 50 deg. East 7 chains to a red oak, J. W. Bason's corner; thence South 10 deg. East 7 chains 50 links to the Graham road; thence westwardly with said road, 14 chains 50 links to the Beginning, and containing 13 1-2 acres, more or less. The same being the tract of land conveyed to Graham Land Company by F. H. Thompson and wife, Martha Thompson, by deed, dated the 10th day of November, 1916, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Alamance County, in Book of Deeds No. 54 at page 49L.

This the 3rd day of May, 1937. John R. Hoffman, Mortgagee.

"Plats receiving the additional amount of potash produced larger yields, heavier seed, heavier bolls, more lint per seed, better grade, longer staple, stronger fibers, and a higher percentage of normal fibers. Rust damage on plats receiving no additional potash lowered the yield and reduced the quality of fiber to such an extent as to lower the value of the crop $15 to $25 per acre." —North Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station.

This statement followed two years' experimental work with a standard variety of cotton grown on soils where heavy rust damage had appeared. Extra potash was applied as a top-dressing in addition to the 400 lbs. of a complete fertilizer containing 3% potash used at planting. * If you did not apply enough potash at planting to control rust, see your fertilizer dealer or manufacturer about adding the equivalent of 50-100 lbs. of muriate of potash per acre in a nitrogen-potash top-dresser. You will be surprised how little the extra potash costs and it will help to insure your getting the greatest profit possible from your cotton this year.
