

THE GLEANER

GRAHAM, N. C., SEPT. 2, 1937

Local News

The Superior Court next week will not convene until Tuesday, Monday being a national holiday.

Next Monday is regular monthly meeting day for the Board of County Commissioners. The day is a national holiday—Labor Day.

Rev. R. P. Ellington and family, who spent the summer at their country home near Saxapahaw, have returned to their home here on Albright avenue.

The months of 1937 without an "R" passed out Tuesday. It means, in keeping with the old notion, that the oyster season is open again for eight months.

Graham Chapter U. D. C. is meeting at 3:30 this afternoon with Mrs. W. B. Green, joint hostesses, Mesdames E. P. McClure, E. H. Gilliam and N. E. Sykes. Mrs. W. H. Anderson will be in charge of the program.

The County Commissioners have not yet fixed the county tax rate, as valuations have not been completed. It is expected this work will be completed and the rate named inside the next week. The rate when named is expected to be not much, if any, less than $1.25 on the $100 valuation.

A birthday dinner was given Mrs. Jas. P. Harden on Sunday by her children. The children out of town included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moore of Greenville, S. C., Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lutterloh of Burlington, and Mr. and Mrs. Robt. E. Harden and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Harden of Greensboro.

If an officer were posted at the new spotlight at the postoffice he could soon catch a netfull of the unwary, provided it is a violation of a town ordinance to pass on a red light. If drivers don't quit it, somebody is going to get hurt, and if there is no town ordinance applicable, one should be enacted forthwith.

Look up when you come to the W. Harden and N. Maple street crossing, there's a spotlight there—placed there last Saturday. It was needed—traffic on these streets has increased much lately. On one corner is the postoffice, on two other corners there are service stations, and on the other corner the Presbyterian manse. It is observed that auto drivers have not generally found out about this signal. They dash under the red without a halt; if they keep that up, somebody's going to get hurt.

Orphanage Singing Class Here Last Night

The Oxford Orphanage Singing Class gave an entertainment last night that was of unusual interest—it was different. The class consisted of 14 bright boys and girls, who seemed to vastly enjoy the parts they did. All of them looked fresh and bright. The trainer did a splendid job in preparing them for their parts, and deserves lots of credit. A good house greeted them and enjoyed it.

The class is under the direction of Mrs. Sadie T. Hutchison, and management of L. W. Alderman. They appear tonight in Mebane and Friday night in Burlington.

The Long-Long Announcement

On Wednesday afternoon, last week, the mother, Mrs. E. M. Long, of the bride-to-be, at her Brookwood home in Burlington, gave a lovely party, announcing the engagement of her daughter, Helen, and George A. Long of Graham. The marriage service will take place in Front Street M. E. Church in Burlington on the evening of October 15th.

Miss Long is the popular and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Long. She was graduated from Greensboro College in 1935. Since she has a taught. In her college student life her fellow students chose her to a number of positions of honor and responsibility.

George A. Long is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dolph Long of Graham and a member of the law firm of Long, Long and Barrett, is a graduate of the University at Chapel Hill, and a fine young man in every way.

Rainfall in August and the Year Thus Far.

August having been an unusually rainy month, the query arose as to the number of rainy days and the amount of rain during the month.

Nobody knew and could give the information, unless he had kept a daily record. That brought the official weather reporter for the Government into the picture. We applied to Mr. McBride Holt for information, feeling certain he had the "corn" and he had it at his finger tips.

He gave us all we asked for, and then some. Here it is for the year 1937, through August: January..... 9.99 inches February..... 2.88 " March..... 2.35 " April..... 5.99 " May..... 1.95 " June..... 3.97 " July..... 6.28 " August..... 9.75 " Total..... 42.26 "

There was rain to report on 17 days during August. On several other days, Mr. Holt explains, there was a small amount of rain, but not enough to report on.

With the exception of four months during the eight months period, the rain fall in a single 24 hours, at least one time in August, equalled that of an entire month.

We did not ask for the figures for last year but they would be interesting by way of comparison.

Mr. and Mrs. Foust Thompson Home From 5 Weeks Western Tour.

After an absence of 5 weeks and traveling 7,776 miles, Mr. and Mrs. Foust Thompson returned on Wednesday of last week.

When they left their objective was California. Taking the northern route, they went by Chicago, thence across South Dakota and through Yellowstone National Park. In Dakota they ran into the grasshopper infested regions. They found them in heaps along the roadside where cars had killed them. They passed through the silver-mining regions of Nevada. They entered California at the northwest and drove down the Pacific coast, touching at San Francisco and Los Angeles.

They returned by the Southern route and crossed Texas from West to East, hundreds of miles. In Texas they stopped to see the Pan-American exposition at Dallas.

While on the tour they found out what a dust storm is—dust so thick you couldn't see a car length ahead. Everywhere they stopped the people said business was good—the best since '29. In California gold mining is still going on.

We have touched only the high spots. If Mr. Thompson could be cornered for a day or two he would tell a big volume.

It is just a little puzzle how they traveled so far in five weeks and were able to see so much. For every day of the five weeks they traveled an average of over 223 miles each day.

It was a wonderful experience. The tourists returned not badly jaded, and when Foust is 100 years old he will be telling his friends about some of his experiences and things he saw that he had not mentioned before.

Big Fines and Prison Terms For Bootleggers

County Court Monday developed some surprises. Highlights centered on bootleggers. In "ring" parlance, Judge Hall delivered "knockout" blows.

J. G. Smith, known as "Jug," of Willow Oak Inn, was hit hardest. His place was raided. Smith plead guilty. The sentence carried a $500 fine, 18 months in jail and confiscation of a car and 208 pints. He appealed.

L. C. Scott, third offense, $300 fine and 12-month suspended jail sentence.

R. N. Fowler, Mecca Inn keeper, plead guilty. Judgment $500 fine, suspended 12-months sentence and pay costs.

Other cases were disposed of, but the foregoing were the "bold-face head-liners."

Senate Reclaims Its Powers

By J. E. Jones

Washington, D. C., September 1:—Congress devoted six months time to the President's court plan, Vice President Garner couldn't stand for it and concluded to go home. Senator Robinson was always devoted to his party and other considerations came afterwards. He was a great leader and an able man for whom the Capital, where he was best known, sincerely mourned when he died fighting for a cause that had already been doomed to defeat. Senator Ashurst was in charge of the President's bill. Despite his best efforts the impression grew that he was a weak champion. That was because his cause was a hopelessly weak one. On the other hand Senator Wheeler became the leader of the opposition, and the cup of praise and approval overflowed for him. The end of the chapter was reached when the Vice President and nearly all the Democratic Senators refused to obey the orders of the President, and killed his proposal.

For four years an overwhelming Democratic Congress speedily approved the recommendations of the President. Whenever the members hesitated the President picketed his recommendations with "must" and insisted on having his way. In substance, the Senate has returned; "Quit saying 'must' to us." The Senators had heard from home, in thundering terms of popular disapproval and protest, and having followed the leader of their party, with his court bill; to the last ditch, they finally obeyed the dictates of their own consciences.

A month passed and there was adjournment, Administration measure for control of maximum hours and minimum wages in industry failed of passage, Congress will take up these problems in the next session, and having started back on "the road to reason" they may be expected to abolish red-lights that slow down industries and the nation's business, while green lights are always furnishing the go-sign for the C I O Congress evidence that it tires of class legislation. There is reason to expect Congress will reclaim its constitutional position in the affairs of the Republic. "All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States," says the Constitution.

The President's plan to reorganize the Government agencies may as well be catalogued as dead. General farm and crop insurance legislation went over until next session. Sugar legislation containing provisions opposed by the President was passed. Regional planning suggested by the President to create agencies along the lines of the Tennessee Valley were left over.

Conceded to the President was $1,500,000,000 for relief; approval of Federal aid for State and municipal housing and slum-clearance; legislation closing major tax-law evasions and loopholes; a law authorizing $85,000,000 for a three year program to help farm tenants to become farmers. The C C C was extended for three years. The President was given discretionary powers concerning American neutrality policies.

Despite all the strain between Democrats in Congress and the President there exists rather good personal feelings. The recommendations of the President to the next session will receive fair and full consideration; notwithstanding that the Senate has served notice that it will no longer be a rubber stamp. On the contrary it gives evidence that it has reclaimed its constitutional powers to legislate.

It is no reflection upon the President of the United States to say that 9 wise heads on the Supreme Court, and 533 heads in two divisions of Congress are better than one in the White House.
