Local News

go announce the birth of a son on Tuesday. last Friday at Clinic Hospital, Greensboro. Mrs. Strigo was the forner Miss Jean Benson of that city:

-Duke took V. P. I. for a "ride" last Saturday night at Greensboro - 25 to 0. Its all mighty interessing which of the home teams are winning, vica versa it is otherwise.

-This is equinoctial weather, cool and calling for heat in homes. Immediately on the heels of the days becoming longer than the nights, the cooler weather set Those clamoring for cooler 10. weather should be well pleased.

-Maj. Copeland is recovering from au injury to a leg, suffered when making an arrest some three weeks ago. He has been confined to his home, but expects to be out this week. He is reported to have been kicked, but insead he hurt it in a tussle in making an arrest.

-It was interesting to watch the fans rolling toward Chapel Hill last Saturday for the game between Univ. N. C. and Univ. S. C. was played to a tie, 13 to Clapp spent Sunday at Gretna, 13. Passing the stop light near our shop at the rate of of 15 per minute soon mounts into big numbers.

-Elon is taking 'em straight on the gridiron. A week ago last Raleigh Sunday. Saturday the Elon Christians invaded Virginia and took the game from V. M. I. 12 to 6, and again last Saturday at Emory, Va., won from Emory and Henry 24 to 0. Next Saturday night, Oct. 2nd, Elon and Davis-Elkins will cla-h in Greensboro. This is front page matter the Elon team is producing.

-A special term of Alamance Superior Court for the trial of criminal cases will convene next here: Monday with Judge Hoyle Sink presiding. There are about 50 cases calendered for hearing at this term, including three for murder and two for rape. The largeness of the docket is due in large part on account of cases continued at former terms. If the murder and rape cases go to trial there will be little time to dispose of other cases.

-About this time o'year in the by-goue years, when merchants were getting in their stocks of fall and winter goods, empty goods boxes were to be seen piled high in front of the stores. That has changed like other things. The goods now come in cartons, and big, heavy pasteboard boxes. White pine of good quality was used to make goods boxes. Now the paper mills grind up any sort of wood into pulp out of which boxes are made, and the good timber is saved for other purposes.

Scouting---A Pioneer Honored There is an old adage, practical, but not especially potical, that runs: "Keeping everlasting-ly at it brings success," of course, if going in the right direction. This is by way of preface to some allusions to Lon G. Turner, some allusions to hou any Scout lately decorated as Boy Scout Commissioner. We do not know much about Scoutinghave read the Scout pledge, and ited Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gray in are constrained to believe that a boy who takes the pledge and lives up to it will not fall far short of good citizenship. Back before the World War and during, Lon G. Turner lived Mrs. David McClean had Miss Carrie Wilson of Durham as her guest for the week-end. in Graham and was an enthusias-tic Scout—has kept "everlasting-ly at it." He was the prime mover in the organization of the county. Under all conditions the Scouts with their Leader leading, they did numerous good and helptul turns. If someone was with-out wood for fire in cold weather they would go to the woods, cut had been sick and unable to harvest his crop, they did it for him. The catalogue of helpful things they did is a long one.

Lon came to Graham in his early teens. His parents had daughter, Mrs. James Wilson, in Baltimore. was in the Gleaner printing office, and he stayed on it almost twenty years. It is remembered he once long. He had ink on his fingers and it wouldn't wash off. For almost twenty more years he has been a printer in Burlington and has made himself an indispensible helper in the Daily Times-

News shop. While living here he married a fine girl, Miss Ida Porterfield, who has been his helpful, faithful yoke-mate in sickness and in health.

It was last Friday night at a banquet in Burlington that Lon G. Turner, in an appropriate cermony, had pinned upon him the badge of honor, designating the honor won after long years of fi-delity, and it was his wife who proudly pinued on the badge. Our eongretulations.
