Employment First

People who work in the fields, in mills, mines and shops, on railroads and in industry generally, are to be congratulated upon President Truman's choice of Fred M. Vinson, the new Secretary of the Treasury of the United States. His undertaking is enormous, delicate and vital. But it is my belief that nobody else in government is quite as well qualified to handle the job as Vinson.

The new cabinet member knows taxes. Things he has said already prove that he is keenly aware of two things that are currently the most important facts about taxes. (1) High taxes are necessary, now and for some time to come. (2) Wrongly devised taxes in the United States can wreck the financial structure of the entire world in a few months. Dark Ages might visit the earth again.

A Dependable Thing
The "yankee dollar" is one of few known quantities left in the financial world. While this condition lasts, there is a way for weak and depleted countries to gain industrial and then financial strength. The dollar will remain good so long as Uncle Sam keeps meeting his obligations promptly, fulfilling promises and paying the interest on his stupendous national debt.

Our debt is so big and America's moral obligations are so exacting that taxes must be high after the war, much higher than they have ever been in peaceful years before. Government has no way to get money except by taxing its citizens. Consequently the citizens must be prosperous. There must be full employment, plenty of jobs at good wages—otherwise not enough taxes.

Holding our Ground
The world is relying on the solvency of America, on the soundness of the dollar, and it all depends on jobs. Mr. Vinson said: "Taxes should be levied in such a way that they have the least harmful effect on the expansion of business investment and the creation of jobs because productive employment is the source of... revenue which the government collects from taxes."

The Secretary's eye was not on taxes alone. In a recently published report he made it clear that productive employment is the foundation of America's living standard (highest in the world), the source of all income and the basis of prosperity for business and agriculture. We may be assured that Vinson will always do his best to prevent ruination of jobs by taxing business to a standstill.

A Rational Economy
Here is a powerful and rational sentence from Vinson's pen: "The sooner uncertainties in the post-war tax structure are removed, the sooner business management will be inclined to make firm commitments for expansion and the faster men can be put back to work following the wholesale cancellation of contracts that will occur with the unconditional surrender of Japan."
Persons who would like to see America in chaos, people who would like to see a dictator climb to power over America's wasted estates, may call the new Treasury head a friend of big business. He apparently is, to whatever extent such a friendship means jobs for workers, prosperity on the farm, customers in the store and food on the table for America's plain people.

Behind Your Bonds
Lies the Might of America

FISH
More than 4 million dollars' worth of water products are taken yearly from inside and outside the barrier reef that extends the length of North Carolina, 3,000 square miles of fresh and salt water. Thousands of fishermen make a livelihood off the 25 kinds of food-fish and 150 million pounds of menhaden yearly included in the catch. Menhaden is converted into fertilizer and oil. This industry—and hundreds more like it—represents the real resources of the nation backing up your War Bonds.

Machine-gunned by the Germans, Pvt. Charles Whittier, 21, Augusta, Me., smiles because War Bond funds have helped his recovery from a fractured tibia and fibula. An infantryman, he was airborne in a glider for the fighting in the Rhine river area. Landing in a field under Nazi mortar and machine gun fire, he was hit instantly and then removed to an overseas hospital and finally to Halloran General Hospital at Staten Island, N. Y. He faced a long fight courageously, but most advanced medical care and equipment are mending his bones better than ever before was possible.

While driving an Army tank at St. Vith, Belgium, Pvt. John Chester, 25, of Geneva, N. Y., suffered a broken leg. Enemy heavy fire knocked over the advancing vehicle and the driver has been under medical care ever since. Pvt. Chester urges investment in Victory Bonds to help provide funds to equip hospitals, supply medicine and proper food for men wounded in action.

Still suffering from multiple fracture of his hands and feet, Cpl. Vincent Jacianes, 29, New York City, says Americans must buy Victory Bonds to assure proper care for the boys that were injured. Healing such wounds as Cpl. Jacianes sustained when struck by a land mine while advancing with the combat engineers in the Ardennes Forest is a slow process.

Tires Stolen From Warren's Station

Automobile tire thieves struck again in the county Monday night when 18 new tires were taken from the storeroom of Warren's Tire Service, Highway 87, between here and Burlington. The theft was not discovered until Tuesday at noon.

Investigating deputies from the sheriff's office said that entrance into the building had been made through a window in the rear of the store, the thief or thieves reaching through a broken glass pane to unlock the window latch.
