Make ration applications by mail—save time and effort.

Housewives are advised by the Office of Price Administration to retain in their possession War Ration Book 4, now used only to obtain sugar.

Although the currently valid stamp 39 is the last stamp in War Ration Book 4, that is specifically labeled for purchases of sugar, spare stamps in that book will be designated as sugar stamps from time to time. For this reason, War Ration Book 4 should be retained even after Sugar Stamp 39 has been used, OPA emphasized.

HINTS ON CARE OF THE DOG IN COLD WEATHER

There is no surer way to court disaster for your dog than to keep him part of the time indoors and part of the time outdoors during the cold weather months, states the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York City.

Keep him in your heated home or in his own unheated house, but if you value his health, do not keep shifting him from one to the other, it says.

Virtually every rough-coated or long-coated dog can be kept outdoors all the year round, providing certain precautions are observed. Be sure his house is free from dampness and draft, but has ample ventilation—preferably from the top. A strip of old carpeting across the doorway and the right sort of bedding—straw, cedar shavings or a blanket that can be cleaned occasionally—will contribute mightily to his comfort. You can obtain without cost a working plan for building a substantial dog house out of a barrel with the Gaines Dog Research Center, 250 Park Avenue, New York 17, N. Y.

Dogs and certain very short-haired breeds. Instead, they recommend that the dog be given every chance to run freely when taken out, to offset the sudden exposure to the lower outdoor temperature. Dogs kept outdoors should be provided with long chains to give them the opportunity of getting exercise without risk of their wandering away. Dogs taken out in rain and snow require immediate and thorough drying on their return to the house.

Cold weather calls for an increase in the dog's food intake, though the basic feeding should continue the same as in any other season. A serving of cod-liver oil every other day is excellent practice, if you are so inclined. The outdoor drinking pan must be watched and the water renewed if it should freeze. Neither hot nor frozen water is suitable for drinking by a dog.

Finally, there is the matter of bathing the dog in cold weather. Here it is better to err on the side of underdoing rather than overdoing. A bath once in two weeks is sufficient. Be sure you dry the dog down to his skin after his bath. In the case of some long-haired dogs it may require two hours of warmth to thoroughly complete the drying job. In bathing a white dog, incidentally, a bit of bluing in the rinsing water enhances the whiteness of the coat. Daily brushing reduces the need for bathing, which not all dogs relish, and is very beneficial in keeping the coat glistening, the skin free from dandruff, the dead hair out of the coat, and the dog less liable to skin ailments.
