Local News

Mr. and Mrs. W. Junius Boswell were called to Candor Monday because of the illness and death of Mrs. Boswell's father. Mr. Sam T. Ewin, Mr. Ewin was a prominent farmer and peach grower of Candor. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Frances Jesnak left the first of last week for Philadelphia to visit her daughter, Miss Anne Jesnak, who is completing her year's work at State College as recreational instructor. They went on together to New York to visit the former's sister, Mrs. J. T. Dillehay.

Formal Opening of Graham Cafe

The Graham Cafe is having its formal opening today on West Hardin street. The cafe is "spick and span." Everything has been done over in red and green, and is very attractive.

For the opening, the management has received many gorgeous bouquets of flowers and potted plants, which add a touch of beauty to the place.

This is one of the things Graham has long been in need of.

In The Second Primary.

In the run-off, the Democratic second primary election in Alamance county, to nominate candidates for the general election to be held in November, the present sheriff, E. Loy Ivey, defeated Monford M. Gerring for the nomination for sheriff by a small margin of 270 votes; while the present congressman, Representative Carl T. Durham, defeated his opponent, Judge E. Earle Rives, for the nomination to the House of Representatives for the Sixth district by a margin of 1163 votes.

Kiwanis Club Meeting

The local Kiwanis club held its annual Family Night meeting Monday evening at Alamance Camp, Inc., the former V.F.W. lake. Club members, their wives and children enjoyed swimming, boating and dancing during the outing.

Carl Crabtree was initiated into the membership of the organization.

Needham G. Bryan and Gene Holt were declared horseshoe champs of the evening, eliminating Morris Burke and Bill Horne in the finals.

The supper was served from picnic baskets prepared by Kiwanian wives.

After a wedding breakfast given by the bride's sister, Mrs. Willie A. Andrews and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Tom Andrews, at their home on Route 1, Burlington, the couple left for a short wedding trip. They are now at home with the bride's parents.

Rotary Club Meeting

Plans for an outdoor meeting and supper, to be held sometime during July, were discussed last Thursday night during the regular meeting of the local Rotary club, which was held at the Green Gables Inn. President Grutsch presided.

A report on the Rotary International convention held recently at Atlantic City, N. J., was made to the group by Murphy Neese, who attended the three-day session as a delegate from here.

Special guests at Thursday night's meeting were W. E. Hill, Marion, Va., and Vance Baize, employee of the Western Electric plant.

FCX Patrons Meeting For Alamance County

On Wednesday afternoon, July 10th at 4:30, the patrons of Alamance and Mebane FCX will hold their annual meeting at Alexander Wilson High School, four miles east of Graham, on Highway No. 54.

Each patron is entitled to two tickets, there will only be enough barbecue for those holding tickets.

Thicken Soup

One of the secrets of good chowders and thick soups is to let the vegetables do the thickening. Potatoes and other vegetables will cook down so that they will thicken the soup themselves, without the addition of flour and fat. If flour is added to thicken a soup, don't use too much and be sure to cook it enough to give it a distinctive flavor. Unless flour is used carefully, the cream soups come out stodgy and tasteless.

The tuberculosis death rate among unskilled workers is seven times as great as that among professional men. An educational campaign on the control of tuberculosis is supported by your local Tuberculosis Association.

Body Makes Quick Use Of Iron for Hemoglobin

New information about iron metabolism has been reported by University of California researchers who have completed animal tracer experiments with a superior radioactive type of iron produced in the atom-smashing cyclotron. The researchers found that the bone marrow, which is a factory for the manufacture of the red blood pigment hemoglobin, is able to use the iron much faster than had been previously supposed.

They also found that the liver acts as a storage depot for iron. When needed, this liver iron is transferred to the bone marrow to be used in the production of hemoglobin, thus staving off anemia and other effects of hemoglobin shortage. The researchers found, however, that when manufacture of hemoglobin is stimulated by iron deficiency, by the action of small amounts of copper or cobalt, there is little iron storage in the liver because the metal is being so rapidly used by the bone marrow.

Iron appears in the red blood cells with amazing rapidity. Considerable amounts are found in these cells within 3 hours, and within 24 hours one-third to one-half of all the absorbed radioactive iron has been transferred to them.

Rendering Fat

To render, place finely chopped fat in the top of a double boiler and add one-half cup of sweet milk, buttermilk or sour milk for each pound of fat. When the fat has melted, strain it through several thicknesses of cheesecloth. Rendering may be done without milk, but the texture and flavor are usually improved when milk is used. After the fat has hardened, it can be clarified. Scrape away the sediment at the bottom, and melt the fat again by pouring hot water over the cake. Boil this mixture and again strain through cheesecloth. Set away to cool, and when hard, lift the fat from the liquid. This procedure may be repeated until a pure cake of fat is obtained. That's all there is to it—and you've helped save food for those who need it overseas, as well as saving yourself the expense of buying new shortening when you have the potentials right in your own kitchen.

Used Fats

The number 1 use for used fats is in gravy. Use saved fat also in sauces for scalloped dishes or add it to soups. Flavor vegetables with it. Add to plain boiled vegetables, mash with potatoes, mix with a little vinegar and use as the dressing for wilted lettuce, top off a baked potato with it, use for pan-frying cabbage, squash and other vegetables. Add during cooking to meat that hasn't enough fat of its own. Make it the fat in meat pie-crust, cake gingerbread, waffles, muffins, biscuits, stuffing for poultry or meat, macaroni and other cereal dishes. "Butter" bread crumbs with it. To mask the flavor of lamb, mutton and other such fats, combine with onions or mixed vegetables in soup, or use as the shortening in crust for meat pie or in spice cake, gingerbread or orange cakes or cookies.

Luxury Expenditures

Last year the American people spent approximately two billion dollars for soda pop; over one billion dollars worth of ice cream; three-quarters of a billion dollars worth of coffee—counted not on what they spent per cup in restaurants, but on actual sales of coffee; a half-billion dollars worth of candy. Within the 31 billions spent for food—the 19 per cent of the national income—must be counted over four billions spent on soft drinks, coffee, commercial ice cream and candy, or 13 per cent of the total cost of their food. Seven and three-tenths billion dollars was also spent on alcoholic beverages, of which by far the largest amount was whisky.
