A Nation's Good

Gentlemen of the Continental Congress, who years ago made some important decisions for us, today deserve a vote of confidence. Will we keep the form of government they outlined and set up for us or do we change to something like that in Britain, France or Russia? Let us make our decision on a basis of results. If we don't make it soon somebody will make it for us.

Selecting our course ourselves, doing so wisely and soon is extremely important. Small items of business can be bungled today and corrected tomorrow; but not this one. If the United States should once go collectivist completely, it would never be a republic again until people who live now are forgotten. There are no practice shots; we make this decision once, and that's how it will be.

A Nation's Brains

In comparing the American system with any socialistic plan, one point must be held in mind constantly; Freedom to think. Nothing is more valuable than good ideas and everybody has them. Nobody has a corner on them. Where any person is free to get ideas and put them to work at his own risk, good ones come to light in a hurry and are put to work in a way that helps everybody; that's democracy.

Under any socialistic system of central planning, only a few are considered worthy to think. They have ideas occasionally, of course, but do not try them out at their own risk. They put them to work on a big scale at the nation's risk. By this system the whole people must suffer for the blunders of a few. That's collectivism, and the differences show up clearly in general prosperity.

A Nation's Income

America is the most prosperous country on earth. At the last check, national income in the United States was equal to that of the six next highest countries; national income being the grand total of what everybody earns. Under the American system, incomes are different; some higher than others but all high. In socialist countries incomes are more alike, uniformly low.

America's national enemies cry out against capitalism in tones that make the word sound like a dread disease. At least, under the American system, accumulated wealth is used rather than hoarded. Savings in America are invested in machinery to help workers produce more and earn more. Where profits are unlawful, dividends are impossible, production and wages both low.

A Nation's Progress

Let me illustrate what the American system is worth to the world: Solomon, King of Israel, and George Washington, the first President of the United States, lived about alike. They rode in horse-drawn vehicles, wore hand-loomed clothes, used animal oil for light and wood for fuel. They lived nearly 3,000 years apart. Think what you have now and remember that Washington died less than 150 years ago.

The system of private enterprise has many critics. Students in modern colleges and high schools are able glibly to point out defects in America's manner of life. Admittedly, it is not perfect because nothing is perfect that is made up of imperfect people. Just the same, when the time comes to choose a successful system, pick one that makes the average man richer.

Egg Economy

Medium eggs—averaging 21 ounces per dozen—are as economical as large eggs—averaging 24 ounces per dozen—of the same grade—if the price is at least one-eighth cheaper. And small eggs—averaging 18 ounces per dozen—are as economical as large eggs if the price is at least one-fourth cheaper. The test of a fresh egg is a high, rounded yolk, and firm, upstanding white. As an egg loses freshness, the yolk is flatter and the white is more watery. The experts say you can't always judge freshness by how recently the egg was laid. If a newly laid egg is not cooled quickly and handled carefully, it may lose its fresh qualities in a day or two. On the other hand, an egg given the right care and storage may keep these qualities even after several months.

Cooked Cheese

Cooked too quickly, cheese gets tough and stringy. By heating slowly, the cheese melts completely and spreads the good cheese flavor through the whole dish. You can speed up the melting and blending of cheese by cutting it into small pieces before you heat it. Break it, grate it, slice it and shave it thin and whenever possible mix the cheese into a sauce before you add it to other ingredients. With a smooth cheese sauce as a starter, you can build many kinds of dishes. For you can easily vary the cheese to make the sauce mild, rich, or in-between.

Franklin Lost State of

Early U. S. History

But for history's quirks, the lost State of Franklin might occupy the approximate position of present-day Tennessee, which observed 150 years of statehood on June 1 of this year. Congress, shortly after the close of the Revolution, turned down the cousin republic's petition for statehood, the National Geographic Society recalls. As a result, Franklin, named for Benjamin Franklin, now is only a small-type footnote in the history books.

Franklin was set up as a commonwealth in 1784 by freedom-loving "mountain men" in what is now northeast Tennessee. The federal government seemed no more anxious than North Carolina to defend from Indian attack the distant settlements along the "western waters." So the Wataugans, as the pioneers were called, placed themselves under the leadership of John Sevier, drew up a constitution, established a legislature and judiciary, and founded the State of Franklin. Their first capital was Jonesboro, oldest town in Tennessee.

After four years of opposition from North Carolina and the federal congress, the State of Franklin died in a clash of personalities within itself. North Carolina took back her western lands and held them until 1790. After six years as a federal territory, the area was admitted to the Union as Tennessee—the 16th state.

Preserve Specimens

The world's most populous area for insects—some 400,000 specimens at the last inventory—is a room containing only 250 square feet in the entomology department of Ward's Natural Science establishment, for more than 83 years suppliers of natural science specimens for schools, museums and collectors. Butterflies, moths, caterpillars, flies, beetles and thousands of other insect species are "filed" neatly in drawers and cases in this room, in readiness for the requests received daily from schools, research scientists and collectors for anything from a rare beetle measuring 7 inches long to complete collections of insect pests.

Brazil Extensive

Brazil was discovered by the Portuguese 120 years before the Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock. It is larger than the United States, without Alaska, is three times larger than Argentina and 63 times the size of England. Summer is from December to February, and the winter months are June, July and August. The mouth of the Amazon river is 180 miles wide and ocean liners navigate 1,000 miles up the Amazon river. There is sufficient land in Brazil to accommodate nearly half of the world's population.

The cost of tuberculosis among veterans of World War II, in terms of compensation, vocational training, insurance and hospitalization, has reached a billion dollars.

Most Head Vegetables

Need Extra Preparation

Too close a trim of head vegetables such as cabbage, lettuce, broccoli, cauliflower and celery means a loss of the part that is generally richest in vitamins and minerals. Making these outside parts appetizing calls for a little extra care. They need careful washing. Then, because they are less tender than the inside, they may be cut in small pieces and put in the kettle a little ahead of the rest of the vegetable.

The outside leaves of cabbage may be chopped and cooked, and the more tender inside served raw in salad. Outside leaves may also be used in making cabbage rolls, an economical meat dish.

To make cabbage rolls, wash the leaves and wilt them in hot, lightly salted water until they are limp enough to roll. Mix chopped cooked meat with chopped onion, crumbs or boiled rice, a little melted fat, pepper and salt, and moisten with gravy, milk, chili sauce, or catsup. Put some of this mixture on each leaf and roll it up. Place rolls in a baking dish, add hot gravy or a little hot water, cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) about three-fourths of an hour, or until the cabbage is tender.

AN ORDINANCE AUTHORIZING $300,000 WATER BONDS

BE IT ORDAINED by the Board of Commissioners of the Town of Graham:

Section 1. That the Town of Graham issue its bonds pursuant to The Municipal Finance Act, 1921, as amended, in an amount not exceeding $300,000 for the purpose of enlarging the existing waterworks system of the Town by constructing a dam and filter plant for a new source of supply, laying new mains and installing necessary equipment.

Section 2. That a tax sufficient to pay the principal and interest of said bonds shall be annually levied and collected.

Section 3. That a statement of the debt of the Town has been filed with the clerk and is open to public inspection.

Section 4. That this ordinance shall take effect when approved by the voters of the Town at an election as provided by law.

The foregoing ordinance was passed on the 3rd day of September, 1946, and was first published on the 5th day of September, 1946.

Any action or proceeding questioning the validity of said ordinance must be commenced within thirty (30) days after its first publication.

FRANCE U. BARRETT, Town Clerk and Treasurer.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL BOND ELECTION AND SUPPLEMENTAL REGISTRATION IN THE TOWN OF GRAHAM, NORTH CAROLINA

A special bond election will be held between 6:30 A. M. and 6:30 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, Tuesday, October 8, 1946, at which there will be submitted to the qualified voters of the Town of Graham the following question:

Shall an ordinance passed September 3, 1946, authorizing not exceeding $300,000 bonds of the Town of Graham for the purpose of enlarging the existing waterworks system of the Town by constructing a dam and filter plant for a new source of supply, laying new mains and installing necessary equipment, and a tax for said bonds, be approved?

The question hereinabove set forth contains a statement of the purpose for which the bonds are authorized by the ordinance referred to in such question.

If said bonds are issued, a tax will be levied for the payment of the principal and interest thereof on all taxable property in the Town of Graham.

For said election the regular registration books for elections in said Town shall be used and such books shall be open for the registration of voters, not theretofore registered, from 9 A.
