Capt. Kernodie Receives Citation

Captain Michael Hoyt Kernodie, U. S. Navy, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kernodie, has received a permanent citation for his Silver Star Medal from Secretary of Navy James Forrestal, for the President.

Captain Kernodie, currently with the U. S. Naval Commission in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, received the award for his outstanding services as Commanding Officer of the USS San Jacinto during operations against enemy forces in the forward Pacific area.

During the war, citations were temporary, or incomplete for security reasons.

Text of the complete citation is as follows:

"For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action as Commanding Officer of the USS San Jacinto, in action against enemy Japanese forces in the forward Pacific area October 25, 1944. During an engagement with a major detachment of the enemy fleet, Capt. Kernodie skillfully and effectively commanded his ship to contribute in a large measure to the decisive defeat of the enemy force. In this action all four of the enemy carriers in the force were sunk and most of the remaining ships were either damaged or destroyed. His inspiring leadership, professional skill, and devotion to duty reflect the highest credit upon Capt. Kernodie and the United States Naval Service."

Gaddy-Ashworth Wedding

The Chapel of the First Baptist church in Durham was the scene of a beautiful candlelight service Saturday, December 21st at 7 o'clock in the evening, when Miss Hazel Chamblee Gaddy, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Gaddy of here, became the bride of E. C. Ashworth, Jr., of Durham.

Rev. J. Winston Pearce heard the vows before an altar arrangement of white chrysanthemums and gladioli, palms and ivy, and white tapets burning in wrought iron candelabra.

The bride and groom entered the church together. Following the ceremony they left for a wedding trip to unannounced points.

Mrs. Ashworth received her education at Graham High School and has been a student nurse for 26 months at Watts Hospital in Durham.

Mr. Ashworth received his education at Durham High School and is now connected with Southern Electric Company in Durham.

Burford-Powell Marriage

Mrs. Nancy Benson Burford and Thomas Victor Powell were married on Saturday afternoon, December 28th, in the parsonage of the First Baptist church in Danville, Va., with Dr. G. M. Turner officiating. Only members of the immediate families were present.

Until recently Mrs. Powell has lived here where she was connected with De-Luxe Dry Cleaners. She is a sister of Mrs. Thomas Strigo here.

The groom, son of T. J. Powell here, served two years with the 106th Infantry in the European Theater of Operations. At present he is employed by Benson Dry Cleaners in Greensboro.
