

RIVERSIDE

INDEPENDENT WAREHOUSE

Farmers from Missouri have been shown and are now convinced that the Riverside is the place to sell tobacco. Our purpose and determination throughout the entire season has been to give each and every farmer an honest deal, correct weights, courteous treatment and the highest prices the market could afford. As to whether or not we have done this you are the judges and your verdict has been evidenced by the liberal patronage we have received for which we are duly grateful. Wishing for each and everyone who has sold tobacco on the floor of the Big Riverside a Merry Christmas, a jolly good time during the Holidays and a prosperous New Year, and hoping that you will come back to see us next season for we are in the warehouse business to stay. We are yours to serve

Farmers Mutual Tobacco Co.

FORD & HARRIS, Managers

P. S. Those of you who have tobacco still unsold bring us a load and give us a trial and we feel confident that you will be our regular customer next season. Your protection and not our gain is what we are in the business for

From Cedar Rock.

There is a quicker step among the young and old on the rock these days as the holidays are drawing near.

Miss Myrtle and Mr. W. A. Stallings, who have been teaching in Nash county, returned home this week.

Rev. G. M. Duke filled his regular appointment Sunday and his discourse was enjoyed very much, as he discussed the practical and daily affairs of life, putting stress that we should not worry over same.

In the items from Cedar Rock of last week, the very successful box party held at the Academy was mentioned. The writer is very sorry that the willing minds and helping hands of the Cedar Rock boys were over looked, as the items read, "The success is due to the visiting young men as only a few of our boys bought boxes." I wish to state in behalf of the Cedar Rock boys that every one present, and the most of them were there, bought boxes at a helping price, one ranging as high as $9.00 and none lower than $1.00, and at the same time made the visiting boys pay dear for their's.

But it is likely that the writer of the items was one of our young girls escorted by a visiting boy, if so we will excuse her, for the fascination must have been great, otherwise she would have recognized the old Cedar Rock boys as usual acting well their part.

Good wishes and a merry Christmas.

JAY.

GOOD TIMES FOR 1910

Prepare yourself to buy mules and horses because there never was a time when a man could make more out of farming. Old hens are still living, who laid eggs that brought only 10 cts a dozen, now 25 to 40. Hens fore-fathers have brought 10 cts a pound now 18 to 20. Dogs, until recently, no market at all, now 10 to 15. Will Allen how much, as they are just like cotton--high advance, looked for any time with a steady market of all foods keep advancing, farmers are in clover, intelligence, improved machinery and fertilize are the difficulties. Now buy a pair of young mules, wagons and harness from me on time if you haven't got the Christmas and try one year of steady efforts and self-sacrifice and you will find yourself a land owner, a gallows cracker boy renter. A prosperous farmer owning his own home is the happiest person on earth. My body gives you the glad hand, merchants and doctors, lawyers and yes, insurance agents will take your life on a credit. Conditions have changed, even the climate. It don't take much money to buy a try your luck next year with a fine pair of mules, a fine horse or buggy and remember a farmer can bust his neighbors will think none the less of him provided he pays back all the meat, meal, flour &c that he goes to Sunday School, pays his preacher and just sings. It makes no difference with me how this year's business with Messrs. Parham Bros. of Henderson or Berry and Patterson of old Pacific Youngville now ) I'll excuse some of Mr. Holden's customers, I might "Wade" in too deep, but if you and fodder, I don't mean somebody's gwine to let you have it, but if you have it, but if you have the real can buy a horse from me on a credit to make some 15 cent cotton next year on good easy terms. Just tell cows, the number, color and sex of your hogs, you don't trade with the landlord how much rent you pay and well. I will have 100 head of horses and mules in Louisburg January 15th. Come before they are put early in January.

BIG MORTGAGE SALE

The last big mortgage Sale December 23rd and if finished December 24th at my stables, sale commencing at 10:30, no stop for dinner.

50 head of horses and mules, 25 second hand buggies and harness, 25 brand new buggies, 8 or 10 irage, slightly used, cost $150, 25 wagons, one and two horse harness, cows hogs. I expect to sell $500 of personal property of this sale. In fact I am going to try to sell every horse, mule, buggy and wagon and new and put the monney in my pocket so I can be counting Christmas when you are showing your neighbors buggies, horses, wagons, etc you bought at this sale for less than their value. Be wise, come, remember last opportunity to buy mortgage property this year. If you'll come to this sale and bid and buy I'll give you happy christmas and a prosperous year for 1910.
