LOCALS.

—It's a fine boy and Maj. C. L. McGhee is all smiles.

—Mr. B. F. Cooke, who has been right ill, is able to be out again.

—Citizens of Franklinton how about arranging some way for fighting fire?

—O. F. Best moved his family, in his new residence on Winston Heights Monday.

—P. C. Carroll has taken the position as operator for the Seaboard recently vacated by Jasper Weathers.

—The regular evening services at both churches during the remainder of the Spring and Summer will be held at 8 o'clock instead of 7:30.

—W. R. Kearney, of near town, received a telegram Sunday stating that his brother near Kittrell was dead. He has the sympathy of this community.

—W. S. Pruitt has been appointed Census enumerator for the east side of the township, the Seaboard Railroad being the line, except the town. The man that gets the west side will get all the town.

—C. E. Long, of Youngsville, but formerly of Franklinton, announced his marriage to Miss Lottie Long, of Mt. Olive, N. C., last week. He says they were married last September secretly and her folks have just learned of it too.

—It is rumored on the street that McGhee-Joyner Co. is about to install an electric light plant and was putting the gasoline engine in its place this week. However, the rumor could not be confirmed by our correspondent.

—The Orphan Concert given in the Graded School Auditorium Wednesday night by the Oxford Orphan Asylum singing class was enjoyed to the fullest by the large crowd that came to hear them, as was evidenced by the frequent and prolonged applause given the children. The class is always welcome in our town and well patronized. The concert was one of the best ever given here and those who did not hear them missed a grand treat. About $62.00 was received from the entertainment.

—Mr. J. C. Harris died at the home of his brother Mr. W. M. Harris last Tuesday afternoon about four o'clock. Mr. Harris has been in bad health for the past 8 or 10 years and was taken worse about ten days ago and has been getting steadily worse until the end came Tuesday. He was 58 years old, was a nephew of Dr. H. H. Harris, recently deceased, of Wake county. He was buried at the old Crenshaw place near Wake Forest Wednesday afternoon. Quite a large number of our people accompanied the remains to Wake Forest.

—The remains of Mr. W. H. Moore, of Montgomery, Ala., were brought here Saturday night from Abbeville, Ala., where he died last Wednesday. Mr. Moore was 51 years old, was a son of Mrs. E. B. Thomas, a Mrs. Moore before her last union, and a brother of Mrs. B. F. Cooke. The funeral services were conducted from the residence of Mr. Cooke Sunday afternoon by Rev. W. W. Rose, of the Methodist church, at 8 o'clock. The interment was made at the cemetery. The following gentlemen acted as pall-bearers: H. C. Pearce, A. S. Joyner, J. F. Moss, E. J. Cheatham, C. S. Williams, I. H. Kearney, A. O. Perry, A. H. Vann, B. W. Ballard, B. J. Blackley, J. C. Feigeman, A. R. Winston, B. A. White, G. L. Whitefield and J. S. Morris. The floral offering was profuse.

—Last Tuesday exactly at 12 o'clock the whistle of the Sterling Cotton Mills sounded the fire alarm and looking toward the mill from the business part of town it was seen that the top of Mr. Turner Coopers home was completely enveloped in flame. Mr. Cooper lives in one of the houses belonging to the mill about three hundred yards from the mill. Every thing was taken from the house before the arrival of the mill fire company with the hose which was just nine minutes after the alarm was given (most of this time being consumed in collecting the hose about the mill) and in six minutes after their arrival, although the top was almost ready to collapse, the fire was all out. Mr. Coopers household goods were damaged a good deal in taking them from the house and almost all the top of the house was burned but this would amount to nothing compared to what would have been the consequence if the mill had not had some way to handle fire. No doubt several houses would have been burned as a very strong wind was blowing.

Persons.

A. W. Person, of Louisburg, was on our streets yesterday, buying cotton.
