FRIDAY, August 5 1910.

LET the commissioners consider building a new court house at their next meeting.

It's impossible for any man to make the good people of this country believe that the Republicans carry out their promises—or even attempt to.

THERE is one thing that we must commend Mr. Hicks for and that is he openly endorsed either Mr. Adams or Mr. Duncan against Marion Butler and Morehead.

THE thing most needed by Franklin county at present is a new court house, and we do not feel that the commissioners would receive much criticism if they would erect one.

J. G. CARLYLE, ex-Secretary of the U. S. Treasury during Cleveland's administration, died at the Wolcott hotel in New York on Sunday night at 11:05 o'clock of indigestion.

If some of the more substantial citizens of Franklin county would give the County Commissioners a little encouragement we feel that the new court house would be a great deal nearer us.

THE Republicans may attack Grover Cleveland's administration, but, when you read, and everybody else understands the genuine principles which they attack, there is not one of you but what will say that he was right.

SENATOR Aldrich's reported connection with the Rubber Trust and the favoritism shown that organization in the tariff revision brings the great Republican leader down into the mire of personal profit state-manship.—National Magazine.

MR. T. T. HICKS, of Henderson, in his speech here Monday took particular pains not to explain to the farmers why the Republican party placed an additional tax on tobacco. It's up to you gentlemen whether or not you will believe that the tobacco trust will pay you two cents more a pound for your weed.

It was not necessary for Mr. Hicks, who spoke here Monday, to refer to incidents as far back as 1860 and '68, or '72, or even '92. He could easily have referred to conditions existing in North Carolina and Franklin county in 1894 to '98. If he had done this there would have been men present who understood the conditions then, but no, he knew this and knew they were not familiar with the times of which he spoke. Further it is hardly reasonable to suppose that he would like to review those times.

DR. H. H. GRIPPEN and Miss Ethel Claire Leneve, were caught and placed under arrest on board the ship Montrose, by Inspector of the Scotland Yards Dew, at Father Point, Quebec, on Sunday last. The girl when arrested was dressed in boys clothing and they were traveling under the name of "Rev. John Robinson and Son." They were taken back to England yesterday for trial.

WE do not see how a person who heard the speech of Mr. T. T. Hicks here Monday could, in justice to himself, vote the Republican ticket. This may be a little broad, but when you make the contrast that the Republican party has the public at heart and compare it with the absolute fact that they have placed the additional tax of two cents a pound on tobacco, and have attempted to "bull-doze" the cotton exchange for the purpose of keeping cotton down. Then again he says that it makes laws for all the people, may-be so, but the Payne-Aldrich tariff law has been charged with being the cause of the high cost of living which has been very successfully proven. What say you gentlemen?

IN a recent issue of the Greenville Reflector contained this: "The Republicans throughout the State are getting ready to put up tickets just to see them knocked down. But they have to do something to make the government bosses think they are earning their jobs."

THE most charitable construction we can place upon that assertion is that it was made from force of habit, and in the carelessness and recklessness that follows from habit. The percentage of increase in the Republican vote in North Carolina the past few years, the counties added to the Republican column, the increase in members of the general assembly, and the capture of three congressional districts in the last campaign, prove beyond a doubt that there is not a word of truth in the charge that the Republicans are merely putting up tickets to "see them knocked down." The Democrats are trying awful hard to believe the Republicans are not in earnest about the growth of their party in the State.

THE Reflector's charge that the Republicans have to do something to make the government bosses think they are earning their jobs is a shot from a small-bore gun. It sounds like a retort from a "Smart Aleck" street urchin, who is growing up without manners and without parental training. Such ill-mannered performances are more objects of pity than contempt.

THE foregoing came to The Reflector in a letter, with nothing to indicate who sent it, or what paper the clipping was taken. It is evidently taken from a Republican paper that, like the office holders, is trying to "make a show for the money." It is a truth that hits, and what is quoted from The Reflector above went straight to the mark. No, bud, this writer is not in the street urchin class, but has been at it long enough to grow gray headed in the business, if his hair had not been a kind that don't turn gray. And we long ago learned to see through Republican tricks.—Greenville Reflector.

JUST LOOK.

WE take the following from the Raleigh Evening Times, which goes to show what the manufacturing interests think of the situation. Mr. Erwin is one of the largest cotton mill men in the State and his statement will give the black-eye to the Republican claim of prosperity. The article is as follows:

MR. W. A. Erwin, the cotton mill man, says:

"They talk about Cleveland panics, free soup and other things, I want somebody to name this one. I am waiting for it. I do not see how it could possibly be worse, and I see no prospect of an early change."

MR. Erwin, with his cotton mills standing idle or running on short time, evidently doesn't think much of the kind of prosperity that the John Motley Morehead brand of politics is bringing to the South.—Durham Evening Sun.

TO OUR

Friends & Customers

As we stated last week in the TIMES we would open our house for the sale of the new crop of tobacco on

Thursday, August 18th

We feel like that we need no introduction to the tobacco growers of this section, having been in the business for twenty years and during all that time it has been our highest aim and greatest ambition to serve our customers to the best advantage, thereby giving them the benefit of our long experience in selling their tobacco. We flatter ourselves when we say that we know tobacco, as we have been raising, selling and buying it for all these years. Ave from the plant bed to the factory we know it. If you should think that experience don't count come and let us show you our averages for all the time we have been in business. Our force this season will be Mr. B. T. Bailey, Auctioneer, a man who has no superior in selling the weed. Book-keeper—Mr. Walter Faribow, honest and courteous treatment of each and every one. Our assistant book-keeper and weigh master will be Mr. G. C. Harris, who will see that every pile of tobacco is carefully and correctly weighed. We have associated with us Mr. J. Edgar Harris who has had years of experience, as our floor and general manager and who will see that every pile of your tobacco is properly and neatly placed on the floor and who will look out for your interest and comfort in every way. In conclusion we would say that we have the most modern and best lighted house in the whole tobacco belt. We also have nice and well ventilated amp rooms, also a good baggage room so that we can take care of your baggage. We have plenty water in the warehouse for your team, also nice and well littered stalls for them. We are in the business to serve and please you. Thanking you heartily and kindly for your patronage in the past. We hope and believe that the short crop of this year will endeavor us with hard work and untiring efforts to better please you in the future. Don't forget the day, Thursday, August 18th, 1910.
