LOCALS.

—Are you ready for Christmas?
 —Mr. A. S. Powell came in from Richmond, Va., Friday with a nice lot of horses.
 —His friends will be glad to learn that Mr. T. L. Joyner, who is sick with typhoid fever is improving.
 —Rumor has it that quite a number of marriages are on programme for the Christmas holidays, in town.
 —The Graded School will observe Carolina day again this year and quite an interesting programme has been arranged.
 —We are requested to ask all "Juniors" who can do so to come Monday night as important business will be attended to. Also an election of officers will be held.
 —Ira Woodlief, an escaped convict from the Vance County roads, was arrested by chief of police A. B. Cooke Wednesday. Woodlief's people moved here to work in the Cotton Mill about three weeks ago and he was probably on a visit to them here. He was carried back to Vance County Thursday.
 —The following have changed their residence since last issue. Mr. C. W. Conway has moved to Mrs. I. G. Stantons, Mr. H. C. Ray having moved to his new home, Mr. A. L. Allen has moved to the house vacated by C. W. Conway and H. F. Fuller to the one vacated by A. L. Allen.
