

Don't Find Fault.

'In speaking of a person's faults
Pray don't forget your own;
Remember, those with homes of glass
Should seldom throw a stone;
If we have nothing else to do
But talk of those that sin,
'Tis better that we commence at home,
And from that point begin.
● have no right to judge a man
until he's fairly tried,
Should we not like his company,
We know the world is wide;
Some may have faults—and who has not?
The old as well as young—
Perhaps we may, for aught we know,
Have fifty to their one.
I'll tell you a better plan,
And find it works full well—
To try my own defects to cure;
Before of others tell
And though I sometimes hope to be
No more than some I know,
My own short-comings bids me let
The faults of others go.
Then let us all when we commence
To slander friend or foe
Think of the harm one word would do
to those we little know,
Remember curses sometimes like
Our chickens, "roosts at home,"
Don't speak of others faults until
We have none of our own."

BROWN EYES.

A Tribute From a Friend to the Memory of Mrs. Othelia Johnson Eaton.

The earthly life of Mrs. Eaton ended at her home five miles east of Louisburg, on the afternoon of February 3rd, 1911, in the eightieth year of her age. Her health had been poor for years, but just a few days before her death she was taken suddenly worse, the summoned skill was of no avail, for it pleased Almighty God in his wisdom to call this ready soul to its reward. Othelia Johnson Eaton was the daughter of Dr. W. T. and Josie Outerbridge Johnson, of Granville county, and was born August 10th, 1831. She was educated in Raleigh at St. Mary's, a school long famous for the excellent women it has sent out. At an early age she joined the Episcopal church and remained a consistent member, there doing her part always and doing it well. October 22, 1861, she was married to Mr. W. A. Eaton, of Franklin county, he being a representative of one of the old aristocratic families of North Carolina, an exemplary type of noble manhood, was prominent in affairs of state and county. In 1869, her husband died, leaving her with three children, all of which she raised. One daughter, Susie who is Mrs. Willie Hayes, now living at the old home, and two sons, Mr. Wood Eaton, of Mapleville, N. C., and Mr. John Eaton, of Atlanta, Ga. Her children all survive her; they with the grand-children, other loved ones and friends remain to mourn the loss of this true Christian woman. Mrs. Eaton was truly a lady of the old school. Her ancestors were people of refinement, culture and wealth, she being reared in the lap of luxury, and at a time when "highly" played a part far more conspicuous than it does now, naturally her environments were such as to be conducive to the growth of the graces that adorn true womanhood. She was possessed of quick perceptions, sound judgment, a taste accurate and delicate. Her manners were dignified and prepossessing, and at once spoke the purity of her mind and the benevolence of her disposition. With these advantages it would be useless to add that she was esteemed and admired by all who came in contact with her. She was an exceptionally gracious hostess, dispensing her hospitality as naturally as a flower does its fragrance. After the war when reverses of fortune came, she met them bravely and mastered the situation as only this type of true southern womanhood could have done. Ever a true and devoted mother, kind and generous to her neighbor; wherever the path of duty led, she followed cheerfully. Time and again the writer has heard her say, "I am ready and willing to go, there is so much on the other side." We have every reason to believe she landed on the banks of deliverance, where the tender hand of Jesus wiped all tears away, and that now she is beholding the glory scenes which will never end. The interment took place at the family cemetery, the old Johnson place. Those acting as pall-bearers were: Messrs. W. H. Ruffin, Frank Ballard, R. H. Davis, J. H. Ussle, N. M. and Hugh Perry. To those who are bereaved by this death let me say, "Shed no tears of sorrow for her, but rather tears of hope and gratitude, think of her heavenly home, with loved ones gone before, and pray that you too may triumph and be as ready to meet the grim furyman, and pass over the dark river that separates us from eternity."

"Tho' soon or late they reach the coast
On life's rough ocean driven,
They may rejoice, no wanderer lost,
A family in Heaven."

CURED TO STAY CURED.

How Louisburg Citizens Can Find Complete Freedom From Kidney Troubles

If you suffer from backache—
From urinary disorders—
From any disease of the kidneys,
Be cured to stay cured.
Doan's Kidney Pills make lasting cures.
So grateful people testify.
Here is one case of it:
E. W. Harper, College St., Oxford, N. C., says: "My back troubled me greatly and there was a constant, dull pain across my kidneys and loins. When I passed the kidney secretions, they pained me and it was plain to be seen that my kidneys were at fault. When Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me, I got a box and used them as directed. They drove away my aches and pains and helped me in every way. I willingly give this public account of my experience." (Statement given in February 1908.)

THE TEST OF TIME.

On December 9, 1910, Mr. Harper said: "I have not had any need of a kidney medicine since I used and recommended Doan's Kidney Pills in 1908. It gives me pleasure to again tell of the merits of this preparation."
