Items of Interest Gathered From and Near Our Sister Town Each Week

CLOSES ON WEDNESDAY

The Cherokee Indian baseball team spent Sunday in town.

Edward McGehee has a broad smile on now—its a bright little girl.

Franklinton can boast of one thing but few towns can—a woman painter.

The Standard Oil Co's new delivery wagon has arrived and made its first trip on the street this week.

Alfred Winston a highly respected colored man who lived three miles from town, died Tuesday morning.

His many friends will be glad to learn that on Tuesday the reports were to the effect that Mrs. Willis Harris was improving.

The lightning during the storm on Friday night struck the barn of W. J. Foster, col., and killed a very valuable milch cow.

A report here Tuesday gave the intelligence of the breaking of the arm of one of Mr. W. A. Fuller's little girls. Further information has not been received.

One case in Police court Monday—"a family scrap" between Jim Debnam and Geo. Wright. They submitted and contributed to the town treasury $3.65 each.

Little Elma, infant daughter of Ira May died Tuesday at 11:30 and will be buried Wednesday at the family burying place in Granville county.

A mysterious character on our streets Monday caused some little excitement among those who saw him. He would not talk any except say "I don't know" to everything that was asked him.

The entertainment at the Graded School on last Friday night was greatly enjoyed by a large audience, in spite of the storm. It was pronounced as being one of the best entertainments ever given here. This concludes the Lyceum course.

A packed house greatly enjoyed the moving pictures at the Graded School Monday night by the Student's Entertainment Co. of Wake Forest College. This kind of entertainment is always well patronized here.

Mr and Mrs. J. V. Finlayson returned Monday from Princeton where they went to attend the funeral of Mrs. P. A. Finlayson, mother of Mr. J. V. Finlayson, who died at her home in Princeton Saturday at 3:30 a. m. She was held in high esteem by all who knew her and was a devoted Christian lady, was 61 years old. She was buried Sunday afternoon. The family have the sympathy of the entire community.

MR. FARMER

I Have Just Received
One Car Load of McCormick

Mowers

One Car Load of McCormick Rakes. One Car Load of Columbus Wagons

I sell everything that is made by the International Harvesting Co. I also carry a stock of burries, surries, carriages and a full and complete stock of Harness harness fitting, robes, whips, horse medicine.

Don't come to Louisburg unless you take a look at the complete stock of Farm Machinery I carry.

Improved machinery saves labor and makes money for you. In this day and time if you don't farm with improved machinery you will find yourself next fall with a light crop to harvest, which means little money to you, and the other fellows will call no "near" or "farmeries". I sell on good easy time.
