THE HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

Pleasant Evening Reveries.—A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide

RUDE THOUGHTS FROM THE EDITORIAL PEN

Beauty is a dangerous gift. It is ever so. Like wealth, it has ruined its thousands. Thousands of the most beautiful women are destitute of common sense and common humanity. No gift from heaven is so general as the gift of beauty. In about nine cases in ten it makes her silly, senseless, thoughtless, giddy, vain, proud, frivolous, selfish, low and mean. We think we have seen more girls spoiled by beauty than by any other one thing. "She is beautiful and she knows it," is as much as to say she is spoiled.

Let us stop to think of the aged. For us, too, the evening shadows will close at length, and we shall, perchance, be left at desolate hearthstones. We shall need to be remembered then.

Marrying for money is no worse than marrying for poverty.

He who can suppress a moment's anger may prevent a day of sorrow.

A man will grant his wife any right more cheerfully than the right to be sick when he feels bad himself.

Men frequently lose interest in their homes by their failure to make them interesting and pleasant.

Every temptation resisted, every noble aspiration encouraged, every sinful inclination repressed, every bitter word withheld adds its little item to the impetus of that great movement which is bearing us and all humanity onward toward a richer life, a higher character and a nobler destiny.

WANTED—A BOY.

A jolly boy.
A boy full of vim.
A boy who scorns a lie.
A boy who will never smoke.
A boy with some "stick to it."
A boy who takes to the bath-tub.
A boy who is proud of his big sister.
A boy who thinks hard work is no disgrace.
A boy who does chores without grumbling.
A boy who thinks that an education is worth while.
A boy that plays with all his might—during play hours.
A boy who listens not to unclean stories from any one.
A boy who thinks his mother above all mothers is the model.
A boy who does not know more than all the rest of the house.
A boy who does not think it inconsistent to mix praying and playing.
A boy who does not need to be called a second time in the morning.

CHEERFULNESS AND HEALTH.

People never break down in health so long as they keep a happy, joyous heart. It is the sad and despondent heart that tires, and whatever the load, we should always keep a cheerful spirit within. There are two ways of meeting a hard experience. One is to struggle and resist, refusing to yield. The result of this is the wounding of the soul and intensifying the hardness. The other is quietly to accept the circumstances or restraints and make the best of them by enduring all cheerfully. Those who live in the first way grow old in the middle of life. Those who take the other way down to old age, and often find the last days of an old age the happiest time of life.

Sunshine in the face, sunshine in the heart and sunshine in our homes if we would be healthy and happy. Catch the sunshine in all the living rooms, roll up the shades and let the dowers and the children—those dearer human flowers—bask in the sunshine, the life of the world, that now in the springtime calling the grass, the wild flowers and all vegetation from their damp, cold beds to answer to its greeting. The trailing arbutus, that sweetest flower of the New England springtime, is now peeping out from beneath its covering of green leaves to greet its warm smiles, the sweet song birds thrill forth their sweetest melodies at sunrise. And in winter how we welcome the sunshiny days. It changes our gloom to gladness. Then let us gather in all we can, that when the dark days come we can still have its beams radiate our faces, purify our hearts and glorify our own lives and also the lives of others. Let us daily sing the bright song of sunshine.—Aunt Prue.

INDOLENCE AND HOME.

Indolence is an enemy to home. Some men are too lazy to provide decent conveniences at home. It is a crime against the happiness of the home for a man to neglect to provide the little conveniences that will add to the beauty and comfort of the home. Say, brother, take out that old mildewed pillow and put in a pane of glass it is too painful as it is. Climb up then and put the bricks on the chimney where the storm of last winter blew them off. Put a carpet on the floor and a few pictures on the shelves and give your family a paper or two to read. Study to make yourself useful, and to rob home of its bleakness, by providing things that add to its comfort and brightness. Make the children feel that home is a paradise in which the thrushes of love ever sing high up in the clear blue sky of the humble heart and you will have no fear of turning out thieves and harlots in years to come.

It is now well known that not more than one case of rheumatism requires any internal treatment whatever. All that is needed is a free application of Chamberlain's Liniment and massaging the parts at each application. Try it and see how quickly it will relieve the pain and soreness. Sold by all dealers.
