Pleasant Evening Reveries.—A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide

RUDE THOUGHTS FROM THE EDITORIAL PEN

When a sick man is able to grumble, growl and wrangle he is able to get up and do his own chores at least.

The average weight of eggs is about eight to a pound, so that a dozen eggs would weigh about one and a half pounds. A pound of eggs contains more nourishment than a pound of meat. There is no flesh food that may be served in so many palatable ways as eggs, nor as easily obtained by farmers. Eggs are a perfect food, obtaining all the constituent elements of nourishment.

A woman must wear No. 2 boots on No. 3 feet and she must manage to dress well on 75 cents a week, and she must be vain; and she must be kind to the poor, and she must go regularly to the sewing society meetings and be ready to dress dolls and make tidies and aprons for church fairs. She must be a good cook, and must be able to "do up" her husband's shirts so that the Chinese washerman would groan with envy.

A story is told of a married lady who compared her husband to a handsome piano lamp that he had presented to her. Her husband felt quite flattered until she mentioned the particulars of the resemblance. "Well," she said, "you know my dear, it has a good deal of brass about it, it is handsome to look at, it is not remarkably brilliant, requires a good deal of attention, liable to explode when half full, flares up occasionally, is always out at bed time and is bound to smoke."

A good neighbor is always the most desirable of possessions, although in some cases their social value is under-estimated. What constitutes a good neighbor is also frequently misconstrued, although the sensible conception of the term is the neighbor who is friendly without being officious, helpful without being superciliously so and finally, one who respects the privacy of others' household affairs by a certain degree of formality of manner.

We believe there would be more frugality in the homes if men would give their wives a reasonable amount of money for household expenses and let them have all they can save out of it for their own use; and men too, would be better off than in the unmethodical and haphazard way in which most homes are run. Women would be more apt to study kitchen economy if they could see a reward ahead. A nation of thrifty men cannot be born of thriftless mothers. Women have need to know more of business, and think more of means to ends than is usual among them.

There is one class of laborers who never strike and seldom complain. They get up at five o'clock in the morning and never get back to bed until ten or eleven o'clock at night; they work without ceasing the whole of that time, and receive no other emolument than food and the plainest kind of clothing; they understand something of every branch of economy and labor, from finance to cooking; though harassed by a hundred responsibilities, though driven and worried, though reproached and looked down upon they never revolt, and they cannot organize for their own protection.

Not even sickness releases them from their posts. No sacrifice is deemed too great for them to make and no incompetency in any branch of their work is excused. No essays, books or poems are written in tribute to their steadfastness. They die in the harness and are supplanted as quickly as may be. These are the housekeeping wives of the laboring men.

THE EDITOR'S ADVANTAGE

Did you ever stop to think of how many more wack the editor gets at his victim than any other business man in town does? With the editor the whacking process lasts from the cradle to the grave. When a person is born, even before the preacher gets a chance to baptize him, the editor has congratulated the happy parents and has specified in extravagant phrases the weight sex and pedigree of the new arrival. At the christening the editor often manages to squeeze out a personal item of interest to his readers, which is far better than the preacher can do for he has to charge up his labors to the Lord, who is far harder to get cash out of even than a subscriber. When the victim graduates from the town High school the editor generally expects to reap about a column of good reading matter and often prints a picture. Then if the victim gets married, the preacher gets five dollars and the editor gets twenty-five dollars worth of surprise for his readers. When Mr. Victim gets sick the doctor gets a faint chance of some day collecting a bill against him, but the editor has some cash news every day, telling his patient's "many friends" how he is getting along. And then if he dies, the editor gets the most valuable news of all. Not that he is ever glad of the misfortune, but the news is worth money to him just the same. Maybe the undertaker gets a little more than the editor, but it is the only chance he has had at the victim during his whole career, while the editor has been pulling something out of him all along the line.

Home is a place where a man can do as he pleases—if he is married to the right woman.
