

WE WISH TO STATE

For the Benefit of our Customers who were here during the early days of our sale, and were unable to get waited on, that we are now prepared to look after you better, in as much as we have gotten more help. We are sorry that we could not wait on everybody when they came but we have never during the ten years that we have been in business had such crowds of anxious buyers in our store. It has never been necessary before to close the doors in order to keep the store from running over.

There Must Be Some Reason for this, and we are sure that any person who has been in our store since the big sale began, and noticed the prices on goods will bear us out in the statement, that never before has first class merchandise, in such a large quantity, been offered at such surprisingly low prices. Every article of our enormous stock is being offered at a sacrifice price and some things even lower than on the opening days.

Remember There is Plenty of good for every body, and that this sale will continue until the 26th of July, as advertised, and if you have not already been it will pay you to come as soon as you can. $1.00 now will go as far as $2.00 goes at other times. Thanking you for your patronage, we beg to remain, Yours truly,

P. S. & K. K. ALLEN

Bunn News.

On last Friday, July 4, the people of our town gladly greeted an immense crowd that thronged our streets from early morning until late in the afternoon.

We were glad to see wagons, buggies and automobiles coming in from several of the surrounding counties. The crowd began to arrive about 8 o'clock and continued pouring in until more than two thousand marched up to the new school building to witness the last of the twenty fat pigs so generously given by Mr. R. L. Huffines, of Rocky Mount, which was nicely divided among the large crowd. In addition to the barbecue, the people of the community very generously contributed an abundant supply of bread, cakes, and such dainties as was readily found to be pleasing to the palate.

During the time that the crowd thronged around the building the Women's Betterment Association had several boys busy selling cool drinks while they were busy with their elegant Bazaar exhibit which not only turned out a nice sum of money for them, but they gave a splendid example of what can be done by the united effort of the good women of a community.

After the crowd was well fed we witnessed one of the hardest fought games of baseball that has been played here for years. It seemed at first that Justice was no match for New Hope, but they tied in the seventh inning, and played through the thirteenth without breaking the tie, which satisfied both sides that either team was fully equal to the other, so both were willing to stop with a score of seven runs for each team.

At evening, commencing at 8 o'clock, the crowd that remained was pleasantly entertained by a play given in the school auditorium by the Betterment Association entitled "A Box of Monkeys." The main features of the evening was a paper by Miss Rebecca Hollingsworth and a Recitation by Miss Nolia Wright. Both are splendid young ladies, and they acted their part with credit to themselves. The play was also made more attractive by the elegant string band from Justice.

After the play the Women's Betterment Association reported that they had taken in during the day and from the results of the play the neat sum of $121.41, which will be used to equip the new school building with pictures and such things as are necessary.

We are especially proud of the efforts of the Betterment Association, for we feel that their untiring zeal will terminate in something good for our town.

At the close we were pleased at the ovation given Prof. J. M. Broughton, Jr., who is our former principal of the school. Mr. Broughton is a young man of unusual talent and we feel very much indebted to him for what our school stands for, and while we no longer can have him with us, we extend our appreciation of his work in the past and wish him much success in his practice in law.
