burner to defrard is the mean commands because he takes the est of chance for detection and punish ment

The fire is always deliberately memoridistical, it destroys a part of the world's weath, while thieves and fighwaymen only transfer it to a new owner. It is the crime most difficult to detect because all the physical evi-dence of it are changed into gases and ashes. It needs no confederate who might betray. It needs no "ience" or go-between to secure the cash. It is produced by crafty, hu-man greed that bides its time and puts at risk the lives of firemen and citizens. It permits the establishing of a perfect ailbl, for the principal car bribe an agent to set the fire in his absence. He, himself, can leave a candle which will fire the place after

The cause of burning to defraud is overinsurance. It is chargeable to the method by which business is secuired. : The agent's only interest is fit have a both mercen best him his contract
