Bomb Exploded Kills 10

BEING EXAMINED
BY THE POLICE

It Had Been Brought To Milwaukee
Central Station by Small Boy—
Found In A Church.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 24.—As the result of the accidental discharge of a huge bomb which had been brought to the central police station in this city by a boy who had discovered it early in the afternoon in an Italian church, the police station was almost completely wrecked at 7:30 this evening and sixteen persons, including detectives and prisoners, were killed outright and some ten to fifteen persons seriously, if not fatally injured.

Roll call had just been called in the station house and some of the city's best detectives and police officers were in attendance for an examination of the bomb, which all thought perfectly harmless, as it had been brought in early in the afternoon and beyond a casual examination had been left for a thorough examination and explanation for the roll call, which occurs each evening at 7:30. The examination had not been under way more than a few minutes when the bomb exploded with fearful concussion that was heard distinctly all over the city.

A small fire ensued in the wreckage of the building, but this was soon extinguished by the fire apparatus, which had been summoned immediately.

The central police station is located at the corner of Broadway and Oneida streets, just opposite the county jail.

The name of the boy bringing the bomb to the station house has not yet been ascertained. Many of the prisoners losing their lives have not as yet been identified, owing to the records having been buried in the wreckage of the station.

The bomb was described as being cylindrical, about eight inches in diameter and ten inches high. It had heavy iron plates bolted to each side so as to make it a formidable weapon even if it exploded in the open.

There was a hole in the center of the top of the bomb in which was inserted a small bottle containing nitro-glycerine.

It was so arranged that the slightest friction would cause it to explode. How it failed to explode in the hands of the youth that brought it to the station is a mystery. Those who saw the bomb said it was constructed something like a large hand grenade.

Unofficial list of dead and injured:
The dead—Detectives Fred Kaiser, Louis Weller, Albert Templin, David O'Brien, Frank M. Caswin; Henry Deckert, station keeper; Edward Spindler, operator; five unidentified men, thought to have been prisoners; Detectives Stephen Stocker, Charles Soehner; unidentified woman; unidentified man.

Stallings-Bartlett.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 23.—Lieutenant William Langdon Stallings and Miss Tessie May Bartlett were married here Friday night, November 23, at the bride's home 1817 Kensington Avenue. Lieutenant Stallings lived at Justice, N. C. He is the son of the late W. H. Stallings. The bride is the daughter of Mr. A. W. Bartlett. Their marriage is the result of a college-war romance that began three years ago, when the young man left the plow at his farm home and came to Kansas City seeking a professional career.

He entered the Kansas City Veterinary College and it was during his school work that he met his future wife. He went to his home during the summer months and returned to the school the next two preceding years. Each year he grew more fond of the Kansas City girl.

Last spring he was graduated from the college and received a degree of Doctor of Veterinary Medicine. He returned to North Carolina and practiced in Louisburg for a few weeks.

But the war came on and he being every inch a patriot, took the examination for a lieutenant's commission in the Veterinary Reserve Corps.

He received it and was stationed at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.

He was given a leave of absence for a few days especially to come here for the wedding. The patriotic spirit that caused him to help the colors was evident at the wedding, as a large silk flag was draped over the mantel above

1—Mrs. Nellie M. McGrath, one of two women letter carriers employed in Washington, delivering her first letter.
2—Wreck of a German concrete shelter after the British guns had found it. 3—New photograph of some of the Russian women of the Battalion of Death, which tried to defend the Winter palace against the attacks of the Maximalist rebels.

the fire place. The young army officer and the bride faced it as they joined hands in matrimony. Other smaller flags hung from the ceiling. As Lieutenant Stallings marched up to the mantel to the sweet strains of "Here Comes the bride," he looked more than handsome dressed in the olive drab of a United States army officer. Standing beside him was his sweet and pretty bride, dressed in a beautiful gown of white satin and georgette crepe. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. She was given in marriage by her father, Mrs. George T. Bartlett who was Miss Bartlett's maid of honor, was gowned in turquoise blue crepe and carried Ophelia roses. Mr. George Thomas Bartlett was man of honor to Lieutenant Stallings. The little ring bearer, Lorene Bartlett carried the ring in a basket of pink roses. The fireplace was banked with ferns and red and white pom-pom chrysanthemums.

After the ceremony a reception was held and brick ice cream and cake and punch was served. Music was furnished by a violinist and pianist. Miss Bartlett received her schooling in Kansas City, a graduate of the Manual Training High School.

Mrs. Stallings will remain in Kansas City and Lieutenant Stallings will return to his work at Fort Oglethorpe. Future plans have not been made on account of the war.

It is easy to see he won much favor here, as he won the hand of Miss Bartlett and he did not win it in vain, for she, like her husband, is kind and loving. That they have much happiness in life was expressed by their many friends. With his traits helped by Mrs. Stallings his success will be many. It is believed by everyone who has had an opportunity to know either the bride or Lieutenant Stallings.

The Red Cross Recital.

The recital given in the College chapel last Friday evening by Mrs. Stanley Robertson, of Long Beach, California, assisted by home talent was a splendid success.

Mrs. Robertson, who has sung priorly in Louisburg and won enthusiastic hearers to her singularly sweet and true voice, drew a large audience out Friday evening. Miss Clapp, who accompanied her is an accomplished pianist and a favorite here. Our talented Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Fleming, accompanied by Miss Williams in their selections, completed a beautiful musical program.

Miss Henninger, Expression teacher at the College, delighted the audience with her selection from "As You Like It," and encore.

The amount of proceeds placed in Red Cross treasury was $63.00.

Thanksgiving Treat for Co. D.

It was the pride and pleasure of the ladies of Louisburg on Thanksgiving to send to the Company D boys of Franklin county in camp at Greenville, S. C. a large barrel containing more than sixty pounds of ham, fried chicken, hens, home made biscuits, and fruit and a box of more than thirty five cakes and pickles. Practically every home in the town contributed to the box. Mapleville was generous in its donations. Mrs. Clyde Harris, Mrs. Julius Timberlake and Mrs. Will Allen added bountifully to the box in the gifts of their splendid home cured hams.

The ladies regretted that they could not reach all the country friends, whose pleasure they know it would have been to contribute largely to the boys. All those informed responded generously.

Everywhere in the county there is manifest interest in her boys, and the wish to serve them as she may.

Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock Miss Fannie Louise Thomas was united in marriage to Mr. George A. Johnston, at the home of the bride's father, Maj. J. B. Thomas, on Kenmoor Avenue, Rev. W. M. Gilmore, officiating.

Owing to a recent bereavement in the home of Mr. Johnston, the marriage was a very quiet one, only members of the immediate families of the contracting parties being present. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party motored over to Henderson to catch a train for Washington and other northern cities, where they will spend their honeymoon.
