

FORESAW RAPACITY OF HUNS

Many Years Ago Charles Dickens Looked Into the Future With Vision Remarkably Prophetic.

There is something almost uncanny about the accuracy with which Charles Dickens foresaw the Hun and his aims as we know them today. Not long ago there was quoted part of Dickens' reply to an invitation to become a member of a peace society that a number of his friends were bringing to form in 1851. The words written then by the great English novelist are worth repeating:

"Look out toward America, but toward Germany," he exclaimed. "You see nothing there?"
 "I tell you that it is there that the evil hosts of the future will be because I could not be a soldier. Nor have you the means to be a soldier. But I have the means to be a soldier of war, that I am not for the sake of England, nor for the sake of your peace society."
 "I am a member of 'H.M. Lang' will remember the language of the 'Break of the Day' of 1851. This is the character of the man who is a prophetic ring. Here they are.

"And I tell you this my friend... That there are people whom it is necessary to detest without compromise. That there are people who must be dealt with as enemies of the human race. That there are people who have no human heart, and who must be crushed like savage beasts, and cleared out of the way."

CLAIMS CENTURY-OLD FUND

Chilean Government Asks Return of Unexpended Portion of Indemnity Paid in 1821.

The full bench of the Massachusetts supreme court has been called upon to determine the ownership of a fund nearly a century old, which is claimed by the commonwealth of Massachusetts on one hand and the Chilean government on the other.

In 1821 an American ship returning from China to Boston was seized by Chilean revolutionists and its cargo confiscated. When normal conditions prevailed in Chile the United States demanded indemnity and Chile paid $70,400.

William H. Gardiner of Brookline, Mass., was selected to distribute the money among those entitled to it. He executed the trust except as to two Chinese—known only as Paqua and Moqua, merchants—and Thomas Furber of Boston. Mr. Gardiner failed to locate these persons or their representatives. When he died the trust was transmitted to his son, and upon the latter's death to the grandson and great-grandson, Robert H. Gardiner and Robert H. Gardiner, Jr., who are now its custodians.

The present holders of the fund have searched through the records of the state department, through the American consular service at Canton, China, and through various other sources, for the heirs of Paqua, Moqua and Thomas Furber, without success.

"Cleans" Crowd of Cash.

Vacuum gleaming money from street crowds was the striking scheme employed in one of the large cities some weeks ago for the benefit of the Red Cross, says Popular Science Magazine. A suction pipe was held over the heads of persons congregated on the sidewalk, and contributions solicited by a leather-lunged seaman who shouted through a megaphone. Crisp dollar bills and worn greenbacks, it mattered not which, were drawn in by strong suction force when inserted in the nozzle of the tube.

The novelty of the plan attracted passers-by and drew forth many donations.

Bandages Now Made Quickly.

A recent invention which has not been marketed as yet, but is reported to be a great success, is an electric roller for use in making the much-needed five-yard rolls of bandages. This new device is not only a great time and labor-saver, but requires little practice to learn to operate. The rollers operated by hand, as they have been heretofore, require skill and training to operate them successfully, and the work is strenuous. By rolling electrically the operator is able to keep both hands on the bandage, while, in hand operation one hand guides the roll or bandage and the other operates the roller.

Swamp a War Garden.

Too old to be taken into the service, George Hoy, a Japanese resident of Juneau, Alaska, has turned a mosquito swamp into a patriotic garden that has become the admiration of the city.

Radishes in this unique garden send their green tops upward to form the word "Liberty," and pear by its formed a bell.

To one side a cross blooms in red sweet peas, while tiny walks, wiggly fences and rocks with flowers wandering over them add to the attractions of the place.

Cost of Infectious Diseases.

Scarlet fever, measles and diphtheria cost the people of Chicago $7,562,442 during the course of the year. This huge bill represents so much paid out as the price of carelessness and indifference, for much if not all of this disease might have been prevented by precautions, moralized the Journal of the American Medical Association, urging the dollars and cents value of disease prevention.
