Attend the elections next Tuesday.
 Don't fail to go out and vote Tuesday.

Let the Germans know you are behind the President by casting your ballot Tuesday.

President E. K. Graham, of the North Carolina University, died the past week of pneumonia following influenza.

The death of the Hon. J. B. O'Neary, of the Third Congressional District, without a word from the State in the interest of United Democracy.

Food Administrator Pleasant informs us that several of our merchants have been caused to make contributions to the Red Cross recently for profiteering.

It seems impossible for North Carolina to hold an election without Marlon Butler figuring in it. He ought to be chained to the Kaiser and both be taken care of.

We notice that the Anti-Saloon League is seeking to find out how all the nominees stand on the question of prohibition, for the influence it may have on the election. If the way the whiskey question is being discussed in the State is any indication the voters will also be glad to get the same advance information. But we think it would be for the opposite purpose.

About the most useless thing we have seen in some time is the discussion of whiskey by the State Board of Health and others. The majority of the physicians, from a practical standpoint, say whiskey is necessary in the treatment of many sicknesses, and the general public in their minds are sure it is a great help. Since there is so much benefit to be derived from confidence in the treatment, even though it had no real beneficial results, why not give it a trial. Really the more the question is stirred at this time the worse it will be for the cause of prohibition.

In the death of Mr. Joe O. Green, of near Franklinton, the County and the State loses one of its best citizens. He was one of the most progressive and successful farmers of this section and always took great interest in any movement tending to improve farm conditions. He was a leader in the Farmers Union in the County, as well as in his community in all matters that came up for good. His worth to his country can best be attested by his neighbors who thought there were none better than "Joe Green." We lament his passing realizing that in his going we have lost one of the strongest advocates of the progressive advancement of the county.

With $75,000.00 in sight and no telling how much covered up the Republicans are coming into North Carolina with a purchase proposition for the voters of the State. Mr. Voter if you have any manhood left for Heaven's sake exert it now. Show your contempt for such a suggestion of rottenness, by casting your ballot for the Democratic ticket, which has proven itself worthy of your support, and does not ask for your vote on the basis of a money value transaction. You know what you think of a man who will sell his vote, they think the same of the voters of North Carolina or they would not try to buy their vote. Let your answer to the dirty insinuations be the biggest Democratic majority the State has ever cast.

The Local Board wishes to express great appreciation of the unflinching and fearless service of the clerical force, both regularly employed and volunteer, all of whom came constantly in contact with persons with influenza. There has been under orders from the War Department no let up in the drive to complete the classification of the man power of the country. Dr. Malone, untiring in his efforts to check the plague as County Health officer, has had more than the usual number of men to examine, and but for the volunteer aid of Mr. Alex A. Clifton, who has been at his post always notwithstanding the great exposure, could never have kept the work going. Mrs. M. E. Williams and Miss Annabelle King, volunteer workers, have been constantly at work in the Board rooms also. Mrs. Garland Ricks and Mrs. Dr. Swindell have rendered valuable assistance during the trying time also.

U. S. Role in the Battle.

GEN. MARCH'S FRANK STATEMENT

Washington, Friday.
 General Peyton C. March, Chief of Staff, has made some interesting statements concerning the advance of the Allied armies, especially the part taken by the Americans in the battle in Flanders. It was the 30th Division, comprising men from Tennessee and North and South Carolina, which contributed to the success at Mont Kemmel. The 32nd Division—Michigan and Wisconsin troops—commanded by General Haan, took Juvigny and Terny-sorny, near the Hindenburg Line—Radio.

A Card of Thanks.
 I desire to thank my friends for their kindnesses to me and my family in our recent distress. And to assure them that I shall always remember with gratitude their tender words or sympathy and their beautiful acts of sympathy and their beautiful acts of kindness.
