LOUISBURG, N. C., MARCH 14, 1921

$150,000 FIRE MONDAY MORNING

Caught In Williams Furniture Store

SPREADS TO HICKS, McBRAYER AND KLINE'S.

Was Discovered About 4:00 O'clock—Firemen Responded With Heroic Work—Estimated Losses With Insurance.

Following the sounding of the fire alarm at about four o'clock Monday morning Louisburg suffered a fire loss safely estimated at one hundred and fifty thousands of dollars, but fairly well covered with insurance. The fire was discovered in the rear and up stairs of Mr. J. S. Williams' furniture store and spread rapidly over the building, the plate glass front to from the front to escape the falling glass. From the windows in the rear the flames quickly spread to the building formerly occupied by the McBrayer Clothing Co., owned by Mr. F. N. Egerton, and in which the stock which was in the hands of a receiver, still remained. From here it spread to the roof of L. Kline & Co., the building also being owned by Mr. F. N. Egerton. In the meantime the flames spread through the roof of L. P. Hicks big corner store and for a while it looked as if the entire block was doomed, but owing to the heroic work of the firemen and many outsiders who rendered valuable assistance the flames were gotten under caused from water and removing the stocks.

Too much praise cannot be given the firemen and the citizens who joined them in their heroic work on fighting the flames, as it is due to their untiring and undaunted efforts that the entire block and possibly the larger portion of Louisburg's business districts are not at this time smoldering in ashes.

The estimated losses as best we could get them at the time of this writing were as follows:

J. S. Williams, stock of furniture estimated value $26,000.00 total loss, insurance $17,000.00.

L. Kline & Co., damage by water in main store and by fire in annex, estimated $50,000; insurance $35,000.

L. P. Hicks, damage to stock and to building by fire and water (damage to stock being mostly a water damage) estimated $40,000; insurance $26,000.00.

The McBrayer Clothing Co., damage by fire and water estimated
