

1921 FAIR BIG SUCCESS

ARMISTICE DAY BRINGS BIG CROWDS

Saturday Was Especially For Colored People and a Large Number Present

The closing of the 1921 Franklin County Fair on last Saturday night, ran down the curtain on the best and biggest fair that has been given in the history of this section in the history of the Association. Armistice Day was a great success and brought big crowds of people to town and to the fair, there being fully eight thousand people in attendance.

The parade was the best that has been put on in the State and would be a credit for a city of many thousands of population, in fact one spectator who had seen eleven fairs put on including the State fair says it would take the prize over all of them.

Saturday was set apart for the Colored people and the parade made by them was a success and a credit, and quite a large number were present.

Dr. A. H. Fleming, the popular Secretary, has been liberally rewarded in the success of this fair for the great effort he has expended.

The balloon that was lost on Wednesday of last week had not been found on Wednesday.

The list of prize winners were as follows:

To the many who have complained of the unusual drouth which prevailed over the county during the growing season this year the agricultural exhibits at the county fair were a surprise and a revelation for the large number of products exhibited were of a quality beyond what they had supposed could be grown under such adverse weather conditions.

Practically every article exhibited was of such a quality as one would look for in the best years. The most striking feature of the whole exhibit was the display of farm products grown and exhibited by Mr. Henry H. Mullen, of near Bunn.

His exhibit contained no less than sixty different entries upon which he won twenty-two first prizes and two second prizes. The next best exhibit was that of Mr. Geo. Purgerson, of near Franklinton, containing around forty different entries upon which he won a number of first and second premiums.

Had there been no other exhibitors in the agricultural department these two exhibits alone would have abundantly repaid anyone for a visit to the fair, but in addition to these there were a large number of entries from various exhibitors each of which is deserving of special mention had we space for it.

The Howard-Hickory Nursery Company had on display a number of peach tree plantings showing the manner in which young trees should be pruned when planted, aside from exhibiting a healthy lot of plantings this exhibit was especially attractive in its educational value.

While the number of entries in the livestock department was small there were a number of especially good hogs, cows and goats exhibited.

The following is a list of the winners of the products listed below:

- Best five pounds bright tobacco—H. H. Mullen.
Best five pounds mahogany tobacco—H. H. Mullen.
Best five pounds bright cutters—H. H. Mullen.

BURCH WINS

SECOND VERDICT IN SUPERIOR COURT IN SESSION THIS WEEK

J. S. Williams Wins Judgment Against Insurance Co.—R. W. Hudson Fined $100 For Contempt.

With His Honor Judge W. M. Bond presiding Franklin Superior Court convened a two weeks term Monday for Civil Cases, and like most Civil courts is progressing slowly, but is completing some cases.

The first case taken up was that of W. A. Burch vs J. D. Bush & Co., wherein the plaintiffs administrators is seeking to recover pay for cutting timber. This case was tried something over a year ago and won by the plaintiff, the defendants took an appeal and a new trial was granted by the Supreme Court. It was tried over again this week and the verdict again found in favor of the plaintiff. Another appeal was taken.

The contempt proceedings against R. W. Hudson was heard Tuesday afternoon with the result of a fine of $100.00 and costs entered against the defendant.

The case of J. S. Williams vs the Insurance Co., seeking to recover insurance for the damage when his store was burned, was adjested by Counsel and Mr. Williams was given judgment for his claim.

The case of J. R. Pace vs S. H. Scarborough, et als, involving a small strip of land lying between an old abandoned road and a new road was decided in favor of the defendant.

LITTLE GEORGE COBB DEAD.

The deepest sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. George W. Cobb, in the death of their little twenty months old son, George Wilder, which occurred at their home on Sunday morning.

The little fellow had been sick only a short while and until a few hours before his death it was thought, he was improving.

The funeral services were held from the home on Monday morning, conducted by Rev. W. B. Morton, assisted by Rev. G. F. Smith, who spoke in word of tenderest sympathy and comfort, of deepest Christian hope and promise. The choir sang with peculiar beauty and sweetness, several appropriate selections.

Thus over a happy home the shadow of a little grave has fallen, and as mother has said, it is wonderful how long a shadow a little grave can throw.

This beautiful baby life was so precious, so fraught with blessings to his parents that he seemed a flower of paradise permitted to bloom for a brief season by their side, then recalled to its native sky, leaving the earth a road for them lonely and dark indeed.

And when the messenger came from the unseen lands to claim the dainty darling as his own?

He only crossed his little hands. He only looked more meek and fair. We parted back his silver hair. We wove the roses round his brow. White buds, the Summers drifted snow.

Wrap him from head to foot in flowers And thus he went out of this world of ours.

The remains were tenderly laid to rest in Oaklawn cemetery in the presence of a large number of friends of the family who gathered to pay a last sad tribute, under a huge bank of the most beautiful flowers.

The pallbearers were Dr. S. P. Burt, Mr. P. R. White, Mr. W. N. Fuller, Mr. W. H. Yarborough.

The Disarmament Conference will be the biggest thing we have pulled off in America since our gigantic Preparedness Day parades.—Nashville Southern Lumberman.

- Best carrots—G. H. Purgerson.
Best pumpkins—R. L. Aycoyne.
Best lima beans—H. F. Mitchell.
Best cucumbers—H. H. Mullen.
Best red pepper—G. H. Purgerson.
Best Kerahaw—G. H. Purgerson.
Best sugar beet—H. H. Mullen.
Best peck red onions—R. L. Aycoyne.
Best basket fresh vegetables—H. H. Mullen.
Best peck white onions—H. H. Mullen.
Best sugar cane—J. J. Holden.
Best peck tomatoes—Mrs. J. M. Allen.
Best collards—J. J. Holden.
Best variety fresh vegetables—H. H. Mullen.
Best peck crimson clover seed—H. F. Mitchell.

For the best individual display of Field and Garden, Horticulture and Home products.

First premium—H. H. Mullen.
Second premium—G. H. Purgerson.
Third premium—Roberts Betterment Club.

The poultry exhibits this time were probably the best that have been entered before at any fair in the county there being some birds displayed that were fully the equal of any at the state fair.

HUGHES PRESENTS U. S. PROPOSALS AT THE VERY START OF FIRST SESSION

Proposes That All Capital Ships Building or Projected Be Abandoned; Under Plans the United States, Great Britain and Japan Would Send Number of Powerful Fighting Craft to The Junk Pile; No New Warships Would Be Built For the Next 10 Years.

Washington, Nov. 12.—America's concrete proposal for limitation of naval armaments—the crux of the arms conference—was presented today by Secretary Hughes at the very opening of the first session.

The Proposals Briefly it is as follows: (1) That all capital ships building program, either actual or projected, should be abandoned.

(2) That further reductions should be had to the existing naval strength of the older ships.

(3) That in general, regard should be had to the existing naval strength of the powers concerned.

(4) That the capital ship tonnage should be used as the measurements of strength for navies and a proportionate allowance of auxiliary combatant craft prescribed.

For the United States, the program would scrap all capital ships under construction, fifteen in number and fifteen of the older battleships.

Great Britain would stop construction on her four new ships of the type and scrap all her second and first line battleships up to the King George V class.

Japan would abandon plans for two battleships and four battle cruisers not yet laid down and in addition would scrap three capital ships and four battle cruisers in process of construction and all ten of the pre-war dreadnaughts and battleships of the second line.

As a replacement program the American Government proposed that no more ships be laid down for the next ten years and that a maximum replacement tonnage figure be fixed providing eventually for 500,000 tons for Great Britain and 300,000 tons for Japan.

A proviso also would be included permitting replacements of capital ships when they were twenty years old and prohibiting construction of ship built in replacement with a tonnage of more than 35,000 tons.

The text of the proposal as in details concern the three leading naval powers as follows:

United States The United States is now completing its program of 1915 calling for ten new battleships and six battle cruisers. One battleship has been completed. The others are in various stages of construction.

In some cases from 60 to 89 per cent of the construction has been done. Of these fifteen capital ships now being built, over $330,000,000 have been spent. Still the United States is within in the interest of immediate limitation of naval armaments to scrap all these vessels.

The United States proposes, if its plan is accepted: (1) To scrap all capital ships now under construction. This includes six battle cruisers and seven battleships on the ways and in the course of building, and two battleships launched.

one to loiter there, and yellow chrysanthemums gave the coffee room a glow of welcome. But one felt rather than observed there details, for, like the various pieces in an orchestra they were after all only parts of the symphony.

The wholehearted cordiality of the host and hostess, the beauty and winsomeness of the bride, the poise and dignity of the groom, beautiful gowns, fair women, gallant men, these, too, played their part in the symphony.

A GREAT CELEBRATION

IN LOUISBURG ON LAST FRIDAY

When Many Thousands Took Part In Celebrating The Signing Of The Armistice.

Armistice Day was celebrated in Louisburg on last Friday in most elaborate style. With fully eight thousand people in town, including around fifteen hundred school children in parade which was one of the longest, most touching and beautiful parades ever attempted in Louisburg was staged under the direction of Captain Hugh W. Perry. The parade was fully a mile and a half long and included many floats that were truly reproductions of Art.

It was an occasion marked by the personal interest each performer and spectator manifested, showing the deep gratitude of the acts that made the day possible and the appreciations of the many sacrifices made by the "boys over there." Each individual seemed to accept the challenge of John R. McRae in his beautiful poem "In Flanders Fields" and were rallying to the front with the torch that was so sacredly left to them to defend:

In Flanders' fields, the poppies blow Between the crosses, row on row. That mark our place, and in the sky The larks, still bravely singing fly, Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the dead. Short days ago We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow, Loved and were loved and now we lie In Flanders' fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe! To you, from failing hands we throw The torch—Be yours to lift it high! If ye break faith with us who die We shall not sleep, though poppies blow In Flanders' fields.

The parade which was the greatest ever seen in Louisburg, was formed around Court square, and marched to the College Campus around the campus and back to the street where the units were disbanded. The school children gathered in front of the home of Mr. F. N. Egerton and the Military floats, etc. formed on Kenmore Avenue. The line of march was made up Main street to the Court square, then up Court street, the school children joining at the intersection of Main and Court streets, thence around the square by Market and Nassi streets to Main street then up Main street in the following order:

First came a number of lady and gentlemen riders preceded by Capt. Hugh W. Perry and Miss Sallie Taylor the Carnival Band; James Post float representing Liberty in a most beautiful setting; Woman's Auxiliary American Legion float. Ex-service men, white and then colored; Combat train of Youngville, in charge of Lieut. Timberlake; Battery B., in charge of Capt. R. E. Underwood; float; the Red Cross float; The Old Soldiers float the United Daughters of the Confederacy float; Louisburg College float followed by a number of the College pupils in regular march, members of the Board of Education; School Extension float; Louisburg Graded School Cedar Rock school followed with three trucks the first being a float representing Cedar Rock by a Cedar tree with a number of rocks placed about the base, which was awarded the prize. Next came the schools in the following order, Wilders on trucks, Pine Ridge on trucks, Bunn with Red Cross, Moulton on wagons, Riley with a float and pupils marching, Katesville, Laurel, Mt. Grove, Popes, Seven Paths Bunn, Centerville, New Hope, White Level, Wood, Royal. Following these came the individual floats as follows: F. A. Roth Co., County Commissioners, F. W. Wheelus, W. E. White Furniture Co., F. R. Pleasants, Youngville High School, Becks Garage, Riverside Warehouse, Louisburg Motor Co., Fordson Tractor. Following these came another corps of riders.

After the parade had been disbanded the multitudes made a rush for the Fair grounds and for hours the gate keepers were kept busy passing them in.

As a celebration of Armistice Day the occasion was a grand and glorious success, the public having taken the suggestion seriously that the grown folks and children, too should all come, take a day off and show to the boys and the world that the spark of patriotism in their breast was still aglow.
