TAR DROPS

Only small crowds were in attendance upon Court this week. Cotton sold in Louisburg yesterday for 17 1-2 cents a pound. The weather the past week has made one think of spring and gardening. It is a fine eight pound boy of the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Saunders. The City Barber Shop has leased the old hardware building next to W. B. White Furniture Store, and will move therein next week. Miss Sue Cheatham returned to her home at Franklinton Wednesday after visiting her sister, Mrs. A. W. Alston for several days. We will call the attention of teachers and others sending in notices of entertainments for the benefit of schools and churches to the necessity of stating for what the proceeds will be used. We will ask that you observe this in the future.

SANDY CREEK ITEMS

Well guess everybody thinks Sandy Creek is dead, but just to prove that we are still alive, we will send in a short item. With everybody could have been at the show Thursday night, Feb. 9. We had a large crowd. The pictures were very good, showing the early settlements of North Carolina, from 1584-1591. On Wednesday Feb. 8, Dr. Savage of the State Board of Health came and treated the teeth of the children between the ages of six and thirteen. There were 26 children's teeth treated. Wednesday evening Feb. 8, Miss Smith met with the women and girls. After the business meeting some very pretty serving trays were made by the girls and women. Wednesday night, Feb. 8, Misses Beatrice and Ruby Aycock accompanied by their mother and some other young people visited Mr. L. L. Gup-ton and family of White Level. They reported a nice time. Mr. G. D. West is very sick. Hope he will soon recover. We are very glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Giles Burnette, who have just moved in our community. On Saturday night Feb. 11, Miss Sarah Davis celebrated her seventeenth birthday. After playing games, and having a good time, some very nice candy was passed around. About ten o'clock the crowd departed all wishing Miss Davis many more happy birthdays. Mr. Victor Joyner, Earlie Burnette and Miss Beulah Nelms were pleasant callers at the home of Miss Lena House Sunday afternoon. Mr. Ennis Lancaster and Miss Annie Mae Gup-ton motored down to Red Oak Sunday afternoon. Mr. Durward Williams and Miss Carrie Overton visited Inez Sunday afternoon. Misses Hallie Joyner, Temple Burnette and Mr. Clyde Leonard, Bunyon Brewer and Caleb Allen took a joy ride over the country Sunday afternoon. How did the snow serve everybody. Guess every one got enough of it. If this escapes the waste basket I will bloom again in spring time. Rose Bud. If you ask us about it, our opinion is that the Unknown Soldier is in the streets hunting a job. And he hasn't found it yet.—New York Call. The United States will save a billion in ten years through the naval plan—provided Congress doesn't spend it.—Indianapolis Star.

SOCIETY

GEORGE WASHINGTON BRIDGE PARTY

Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 22, Mrs. B. B. Perry charmingly entertained her bridge club at a George Washington party. The decorations were of red, white and blue, with appropriate combinations of cherries, hatchets and flags. The score cards were fittingly decorated with hatchets and cherries and tied with red-white and blue ribbon. Even the call bell tapped for the winning couples to progress were a pinky little bow of the national colors. There were three tables of bridge. After the games Misses Elizabeth Clinton, Emma Laurence Joyner, and Annie Willis-Bodde gracefully served refreshments which were in harmony with the spirit of the day. Aspic jelly hatchets on lettuce with mayonnaise, creamed chicken in ramokins, hot rolls and coffee composed the repast. In the center of each table was placed a crocheted red, white and blue basket filled with mints of the same colors, while smaller ones to hatch with a tiny flag attached to the handle of each were presented to the guests as favors.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SOCIAL

The last of the series of social evenings planned by the American Legion Auxiliary was carried out last Wednesday, Feb. 15. The club rooms were decorated in red, white and blue festoons and United States flags to recall the approach of one of our most patriotic holidays, Washington's birthday. Mrs. G. A. Ricks, Mrs. Joe Mann and Miss Lynn Hall, the hostesses in charge of the evening, presented those who played games at the different tables with very attractive little score cards, hatchets and cherries. During the course of the evening Miss Petty sang, Miss Ruth Hall played the piano and Mr. Berkley and Dr. Johnson played the violin. Neapolitan cream and marble cake were served, and cute little George Washington hat favors were distributed. Those present to enjoy the occasion in addition to ones already mentioned were: Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Malone, host and hostess to Miss Kate Williams and Mrs. S. J. Parham; Mr. Joe Mann host to Messrs. G. A. Ricks, Sam Meadows, Bill Spivey, J. E. Thomas and P. S. Allen; Mrs. W. E. White hostess to Misses Petty, Joyner, Waddell, Rentz and Mr. and Mrs. D. F. McKinne; Miss Yow hostess to Misses Stuart, Jackson and Tucker; Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Watson, host and hostess to Mr. and Mrs. K. K. Allen; Mr. and Mrs. Adams host and hostess to Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Harris; Dr. H. G. Perry, Mr. J. L. Palmer, Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Johnson, Mr. Porter and Mr. Dickerson. These social evenings have been so pleasant to those participating that they sincerely hope that these are not to be the last, but that the auxiliary has many such treats planned for the future.

MRS. E. H. MALONE ENTERTAINS

The Edwin Fuller Club and other guests were graciously entertained Feb. 16, by Mrs. E. H. Malone. The program for the afternoon was one of unusual interest to all southern women. The subject was "The Old South and the Confederacy." Four women who were prominent in the life of that day were taken up for study; Sarah Agnes Fryer, Margaret Preston, Mrs. Clay Clopton, and Mrs. Bayard Clarke. Mrs. Mann read interesting sketches of the first two and Miss Ruth Allen wrote a very fine paper on the life of Mrs. Clay Clopton, "The Belle of the Fifties," as she was called by her contemporaries. To add a little variety to the program she selected one of Mrs. Bayard Clark's poem's "The Two Pictures" to be read instead of a sketch of her life. Miss Anna Fuller Parham gave an animated rendition of Leybach's "Fifth Nocturne." A very realistic picture of home life in the old south, taken from Thomas Nelson Page, was read by Mrs. Ben Holden. The contrast between that day and this was forcefully brought out in Mrs. Hodges current topic, "The New Freedom." Mrs. J. E. Malone then favored the gathering with a medley of the old tunes which were so popular in the days of the old south, winding up with that one which never grows too old to send new thrills through southern hearts, "Dixie." After the program most appetizing chicken salad on lettuce was served with mayonnaise, pickle, hot buttered rolls, coffee and salted pecans. The desert course consisted of delicious, velvety Roman Sponges and cake. Club adjourned to meet next time with Mrs. Wm. Barrow. Mrs. F. W. Hicks and Mrs. J. A. Hodges are next on the list to write to the soldier at Oteen who is the protégé of this club.

COLLEGE NOTES

The spring holidays begin Thursday March 9, and continue until the following Tuesday. Most of the girls who live near enough to do so will spend the holidays at their homes. Easter is the time usually chosen for the spring intermission, but owing to the lateness of the Easter season it was decided to give the holiday earlier this year. Domestic Science Class Saturday evening, Feb. 23, the Domestic Science Class, under the direction of Miss Wilson, the head of that department, entertained the Senior Class. Misses Katherine Melvin, Nellie New born and Mrs. Aki Nakamura were the hostesses. Little Miss Anna Gray Watson, cunningly costumed as a valentine presented the guests with numbered hearts and arrows. By matching the number on an arrow with the corresponding number on a heart partners were chosen for a "Famous Mothers" contest. Misses Ellis Credle and Francis Led better were the winners of the prize which was a large heart shaped box of homemade candy. Other games were played and Miss Anna Gray Watson gave several Valentine readings, some comic and others sentimental. That the girls thoroughly enjoyed these readings was evidenced by the hearty applause with which they were received. Dainty fruit salad was served in artistic apple cups on lettuce with cheese balls, tomato and pimento sandwiches and hot chocolate. Dramatic Club On Monday evening the Dramatic Club will present two one act plays, "Food" and "Happy Days." The college plays always give great pleasure to the audience and these will prove no exception to the rule. Bass Trio The Bass Trio of the Lyceum course brought out an interested crowd Thursday night in spite of the bitter cold and disagreeable weather. New Students Another new pupil joined the student body last week, making a total of seven new names enrolled since the spring term began. Mission Study Class The Mission Study class held an interesting meeting Sunday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. room. This class is under the wise leadership of Miss Josie Foy, of the Faculty. The membership of the class is made up largely of student volunteers, both for home and foreign work. They are at present studying Africa and using as a basis of their study "Wembo-myama Land." Student Volunteer Union Misses Julia Wyche Allen, Oma Bliss Lewis and Margaret Morgan of the student body with Miss Josie Foy of the faculty will attend the annual Student Volunteer Union Conference which convene at the North Carolina College for Women at Greensboro, March the third, fourth and fifth. Went to Centerville Miss Joyner of the faculty and Miss Rhoda Winstead, one of the students,

MR. FARMER OR OWNER OF FARM BUILDINGS

Spring and Summer fires with their enormous destruction and financial losses will soon be here. Burning plant beds, new grounds, forest, etc. are the causes of many fires and many farmers lose their dwellings and other outbuildings directly from this cause. Should your home be burned and you have insurance with us the FARMERS MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY will furnish you the money to replace it. Our rate is lower than other companies because we insure only farm property. Compare our premiums to the value of your home and you will see that you cannot afford to be without insurance in PUBLIC HEARING. Notice is hereby given that on Monday morning at eleven o'clock, March the 6th, 1922, the Franklin County Board of Education will hold a public hearing upon the question of creating a high school district comprising all the territory within the Social Plains, Pearce, Pilot, Pine Ridge, Bunn and Rock Springs school districts. At this meeting any tax payer or other interested person may appear and be heard. After this hearing, the Board of Education will decide whether or not it will submit to the vote of the people in this territory the question of creating a high school district within the territory of Social Plains, Pearce, Pilot, Pine Ridge, Bunn and Rock Springs school districts and a tax to take care of the building and maintenance fund. This does not mean the consolidation of the above school but merely the consolidation of the High School interests. There will be a permanent building erected with adequate equipment at Pilot, Pine Ridge, Pearce and Rock Springs to take care of the first 6 or 7 grades and a Central High School department at Bunn to which the children in the above Districts will be transported when they have finished the required grades. The elementary school at Social Plains will be transported to Pilot and any of its high school pupils to Bunn. According to this plan every boy and girl in Dunn Township and in the Rock Springs school district would have the advantage of a modern well equipped elementary school and a State Standard High School.
