The candidates are becoming more numerous each day.

Dr. Hubert Work has succeeded Will Hayes as Postmaster General.

The Supreme Court has held that the Judges are exempt from income taxes.

The Voters should require all candidates to state plainly their position on every public question.

A Tornado passing through Georgia and South Carolina Tuesday, killed five persons and did much property damage.

Why not organize a ball team for Louisburg this season, and join in forming a league with some of our sister towns?

It is important that the best men in the County should be selected to be sent to Raleigh to represent Franklin County in the coming Legislature.

The Voters of Franklin County should be more than careful this time in selecting the members of the Board of County Commissioners, as the coming two years will bring about the need of more real ability than we have seen in many years.

Among the new names mentioned for public office in Franklin County since our last issue are the following: C. P. Harris for the Senate; R. L. Stokes for the House; J. R. Jones, E. L. Green, J. M. Stallings, A. A. Sheagin, E. N. Williams for Commissioners; W. A. Mullen, A. A. Medlin for Board of Education.

It has been suggested that a Mass Meeting of the voters in each district in Franklin County be held for the purpose of selecting the best man that can be found in the district for a member of the Board of Commissioners. This is a most excellent idea and will, no doubt, bring about more confidence and a better official than any other method.

It has been suggested that a Mass Meeting of voters of Franklin County be held in Louisburg in the near future for the purpose of taking a stand on all public questions, especially as they affect taxes, and to unite on the best men for the Senate, the House and County Commissioners. THE FRANKLIN TIMES will be glad to call such a meeting if the better people of the county will let it know that they desire it.

The Town Commissioners have done the right thing in offering the encouragement to the firemen. Louisburg has always had one of the best fire departments in the State and with the new equipment it is equal to any. Mr. W. N. Fuller, the new Chief, is a most excellent young man, is especially popular among his many friends and will no doubt, prove a most valuable official to the town. Through the interest and efforts of Mr. O. C. Hill, the retiring Chief, quite a number of improvements and a splendid record were made.

Round and round the rugged rocks The stubborn farmer plowed He dragged a bit and seeded it And then "By Jinks" he yowed. "I've done a pile of work round here But now I guess I'll stop; And if the weather holds out good I'll bet I make a crop." And then it rained and then it blew And then dried up a spell The bugs came in and took their share And snout and rust as well. When harvest time came boiling round He put the grain in sacks And found that there was just enough To pay his High School tax. NELLIE GREY MAY.

COLLEGE NOTES

Graduating Recital

Wednesday, March 1st Miss Maude Ashley, graduate in the department of music and expression, gave her graduating recital in the college auditorium. She was assisted by Miss Lucille Olden as accompanist. Acting as Marshals were Miss Frances Ledbetter, Chief, and Misses Willie Pleasant, Rhoda Winstead, Frances Smithwick and Katherine Pleasant. The readings were chosen with such variety as to show the readers skill in depicting every emotion from the profound gravity of James Lane Allen's "The White Cow" to the merry nonsense of Mary Moncure Parker's "Up in the Air." The most difficult reading was Shakespeare's "Macbeth." In this Miss Ashley showed great skill in impersonating the various characters and registering the intense emotions brought out in that great drama. In direct contrast to this was "Bab's Burglar" one of the ever enjoyable escapades of Mary Roberts Rhinehart's lovable Sub-debba.

Almost an equal range of subject and style was displayed in the voice selections. The first, Gaetano Cappuccini's "Angel's Serenade" was sung in the original Italian and showed the singer's skill in rendering the melodious tones of that poetic language. This was followed by a bright little encore from Carpenter called "Nuthin'". The next two Wilson's "Carmena" and Romilly's "La Serenata" were particularly suited to Miss Ashley's voice. Her rendition of "Spring in a Lady" was as bright and refreshing as spring itself.

Miss Lucille Holden's instrumental selection, Godard's "En Route" added a pleasing variety to the program. Miss Ashley has studied both voice and expression at the college for several years. She has a pleasing and attractive personality and the college has cause to feel that she is a credit to herself and her teachers.

Louisburg is always interested in the college and the success of its students, but doubly so when that student is also a Louisburg girl as Miss Ashley is. The large attendance and genuine hearty applause of the audience bore ample testimony to this fact.

Lycium

Tuesday evening the Kaufmann Quartette gave the closing number on the Lycium course. This course has been a great educational advantage to the college girls and to the town as well.

Spring holidays commenced Thursday and quite a number of the girls went home.

Mrs. Ewer, who has been visiting Miss Lane returned to her home Tuesday. Saturday night Miss Lane gave a dinner party at the Yarbrough in Raleigh in honor of Mrs. Ewer. The other guests were Miss Mattie Allen, and Messrs. William Jackson and Blair Tucker.

Y. W. C. A.

Miss Clark, traveling secretary for college Y. W. C. A.'s spent several days at the college last week. Her visit was a great help and inspiration to the work of the organization.

Mrs. Betts, who has been visiting her daughter, Miss Sallie Betts, of the faculty, returned to her home in Sanford Monday.

"TWENTY-THIRD PS"

1. My wife is my boss, I shall not deny. 2. She maketh me lie down behind the bed when the swell comp ny comes and she leadeth me behind her up Main street. 3. She restoreth my pocket book after she has spent its contents on hobbie skits and Theatre tickets, and she leadeth me up the main aisle in church for her new hats sake. 4. Yea, though I walk more than half the night through dark rooms with a crying baby, I will get no rest. For she is behind me; her broom stick and hat pin they do everything but comfort me. 5. She prepareth a cold snack for me. She annoieth my head with the rolling pin occasionally. My arms runneth over with bundles before she is half done shopping. 6. Surely her dressmaker's and milliner's bill shall follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house of my wife forever. ZENA BOBBITTE, Louisburg, N. C.

FRANKLIN COUNTY SCHOOL COLUMN

Items of Interest to Teachers, School Committeemen, Betterment Associations and People Interested in Public Schools of Franklin County.

Edward L. Best, Superintendent

The following comes from the Bunn School: "The high school students made a ready response when the call went out for debaters to represent our school in the State Triangular Debate. Interest seems to be growing in this annual contest, and aside from the actual training in debate, the benefits to be derived are many. This year Bunn is in a triangle with Elm City and Lucama. Arrangements have been made with the officials of the schools represented to hold the debate as follows: Negative team from Bunn goes to Elm City; negative team from Elm City goes to Lucama; and the negative team from Lucama goes to Bunn. The affirmative team in each case defends the query at home. The query, Resolved that the United States should enter the League of Nations, is a real live question and all indications point to a successful debate. The affirmative team from Bunn is composed of Miss Ruth Alford, 11th grade, Mr. Willard White, 10th grade, Mr. Edgar Seymour 10th grade, and Mr. Norris Thomas, 9th grade will defend the negative at Elm City.

The Basketball team representing the Bunn High School this year is unusually strong. The same good will and cooperation is manifest in athletics as is shown in other school activities, and what the boys have done is due entirely to their own efforts, since they have had no outside coaching. The Bunn team has been defeated only once this season and that was in the early fall. Since the organization of the County Basketball Association, a number of teams which were members of the association, have failed to appear at the time scheduled for games. Three times we have had crowds assembled for games on the home ground and the visiting teams failed to come. This is an injustice to the people who come to see the games, and it is a serious injustice to our team. We remained out of the State Championship series in order to play out our county schedule, drawn up by the association, and now only two teams in the county, Justice and Louisburg, will play according to schedule. The other schools in the county should remember that benefit No. 1 in school athletics is to cultivate friendly rivalry, and benefit No. 2 is to enjoy victory or withstand defeat, whichever the case may be. It takes a good team to win but it takes a better one to lose. The people of Bunn early last fall, decided to make the effort to have our school rated as an accredited State High School. In order to do this our science department and library had to be considerably strengthened. By public subscription, at a cost of approximately $200 they have bought and installed laboratory equipment for General Science and Biology. With some additions to the library, we can now get the accredited rating, and by another year we hope to go up another notch and be known as a Standard State High School. The laboratory is a wonderful help in the teaching of Science, and the pupils greatly enjoy the work.

I wish to call attention to the Poultry Club work that is being done in the county under the supervision and direction of the Home Demonstration Agent. The teachers can easily use this as an agency to provide motives on the part of the pupils especially in their study of language and arithmetic. A safe way to arouse the interest of a child in any subject is to have him associate the subject with an interesting experience that he has had. To my mind a just criticism of our schools has been that the work is not practical. It is possible and often a reality that a child masters the text but cannot apply the principle in life out of school. We often hear it said, "My child secures good grades on his arithmetic but has trouble in working the simplest sums out of school. My child receives good grades on his language but he cannot write an intelligent letter." The trouble lies in the fact that the teacher does not help the child to associate the subject matter with his own experiences. Make it possible for the child to use the knowledge he secures in school by making the school work practical. The Poultry club work will be of great assistance to you along this line.

The School Extension picture on Central Africa which is being used during program for class-room work is splendid for the purpose and interesting to all. The following plan of study is suggested. The children will study the continent from the text books the day before the picture. For that day the teacher will assign a lesson, working upon the important points learned from the picture. The pupils will be expected to make written reports the following day on what they have learned from the combined study of the text and screen. In this way we correlate the Moving Pictures with the class work, making the Geography of the "Dark Continent" real and vital to the child and giving him something wholesome. The regular program for the night meetings is varied, interesting and instructive.

SUGGESTED RECIPES:

Batter Milk Biscuit: 1. 4 cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, 5 tablespoons fat, about 2 cups buttermilk. Sift the flour, soda and salt thoroughly, cut in the fat, then add nearly all of the milk at one time, and mix with a spoon just enough to hold together. When all is mixed, turn on a floured board or cloth and toss until smooth. Roll, cut and bake in a quick oven.

2. 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, one-half to two-thirds cup of butter milk, one-fourth teaspoon soda, 3 tablespoons fat, 1 teaspoon baking powder. Mix as in recipe for biscuit below.

Baking Powder Biscuit: 1. 2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons fat (lard or other shortening) three-fourths cup sweet milk or water. Mix dry ingredients and sift twice. Work in lard with tips of fingers or knife and spoon, add gradually the liquid, mixing with knife or spoon to soft dough. Place on the floured board, pat and roll lightly to one-half inch in thickness, roll out and bake in hot oven.

2. 4 cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 5 teaspoons baking powder, 5 tablespoons fat, one and one-half to one and three-fourths cups sweet milk or water. Mix as in first recipe for butter-milk biscuit. These biscuits are very soft.

3. Kneaded Baking Powder Biscuit: 4 cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 4 tablespoons fat, three-fourths cup milk or enough to make a stiff dough (water can be used). Make a stiff dough and knead thoroughly. After the kneading is begun, do not leave it until the biscuits are put in the oven.

Rolls: 1. 4 cups flour, teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon fat, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 cake Fleischman's Yeast, one and one-half cups liquid, either luke warm milk or luke warm water. Dissolve the yeast in 1 cup of luke warm liquid. Mix the salt, sugar and fat with the flour and add the yeast and the remaining liquid. This should be a very soft dough. Knead until smooth grease over the top, and keep in a moderate warm place until light. When light and fluffy pinch off medium size biscuits and make into roll shape. Do not knead. Grease the rolls over the top and keep in a warm place until light and puffy. Bake in a moderately hot oven.

Plain Bread: 1. 4 cups flour, 1 cup sweet milk or water, one-half cake or one-half cup liquid yeast, 1 tablespoon fat, 1 teaspoon salt. Mix as in rolls. When light knead thoroughly, brush over the top with lard or oil. Allow to stand in a warm place until double its size. Brush the top with grease and bake in a moderate oven in an increasing heat until brown, then bake more slowly.

Liquid yeast recipe may be obtained from the County Home Demonstration Agent. All measurements in the above recipes are level.
