-TAR DROPS-

Representatives of a foreign glass concern are in town to repair windows in the Methodist, Baptist and Episcopal churches.

All members of Louisburg Lodge No. 413 A. F. & A. M. are requested to be present next Tuesday night, as at that time officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

Misses Mary and Neppie Wilson and Annie Harris are giving a camping party at Jackson's Pond to which a number of the young people from Louisburg have been invited.

Miss Onnie Tucker leaves Monday for an extended trip to California. She will attend the summer school at Berkeley and visit many points of interest in that part of the country on her way to and from the summer school.

Friends of the McKinnes will be so glad to learn that Mrs. Malcolm McKinnis and infant son have returned from Raleigh where the baby has been in the hospital for several weeks. The child's condition was at one time almost desperate but it is much improved now.

Messrs. P. S. and K.-K. Allen have begun the erection of a nice brick store room on their lot near the river bridge. We understand they expect to build three stores on this property in the near future and equipping a filling station for automobiles on the remainder.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Nakamura, of Japan, with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. Nakamura spent Thursday at Mr. F. N. Egerton's. The younger couple have been at school in this country, the young man at A. & E., Raleigh, and his wife at Louisburg College. The old gentleman speaks English fluently and expressed himself as being so well pleased with the kindness shown himself and family in this country and with the progress the young people made that he is contemplating sending a younger daughter, Miss Mayo Nakamura to Louisburg College this fall.

THE BALANCED MIND.

Dante and I were strolling down the road
Close to the border-line where Paradise
And Purgatory join.
The day was sultry;
The asphalt pavement bent beneath
our feet;
We would have sunk knee-deep in Purgatory
But for our snow-shoes of asbestos weave.
"Who is that man?" I asked.
I pointed to a high and narrow wall
Upon the border-line;
Erect he sat astride upon its rim
In neither Hell nor Heaven.
"On earth," said Dante, "he was never sure;
Thus when his land was torn with civil war
This one refused to say

Which cause he stood for. When his dearest friend
Was brought to trial he dared not testtify
Lest he should harm the plaintiff.
Every choice
He put aside for fear he might choose badly."
"Unfairly judged!" the man cried as we passed.
"I suffer punishment for breadth of mind—
I merely saw both sides . . ."
"You see them now!" called Dante.
The wall was very high;
It was surmounted by a row of spikes
Set rather close together.
I wondered as we left him perched aloft
Where all the others were!

-S. R.

There are many farmers who are on top of the high wall that represents the Co-operative movement that promises so much benefit to them. They are willing to use their influence to defeat the efforts of their neighbors to better the conditions of the country just because they have not a sufficient amount of backbone to join hands and make the success of the Co-operative Marketing Associations bigger than it will be if they stay out. Get off of the fence gentlemen. There is room for you on either side. Its better to make a mistake than to never do anything. Don't say you are in favor of it if you don't sign, for your actions betray your real attitude.
