TAR DROPS

Cotton sold in Louisburg yesterday for 22 1-2 cents a pound.

The rains the past week have been quite a help to growing crops.

Work is progressing nicely on the State Highway leading into Louisburg from two sides.

A mass meeting has been announced in the interest of Co-operative Marketing at New Hope School on next Tuesday night.

Misses Annie Harris, Mary Wilson, Katherine Bobbitt and Lucy Andrews are giving quite an enjoyable camping party at Jackson's pond to quite a number of their friends this week.

Lets hope that Kenmore Avenue may be extended in a straight line. The town needs another outlet. There is never no telling when it will become necessary to block Main Street temporarily.

UNCLE HANK

A pair of tight-fitting trousers makes some fellows feel bigger than they really are.

LITTLE MAIDS DRESS UP IN DOTTED SWISS AND LACE

WHEN a little lady, of consequence in the social world, takes her afternoon promenade under the shade of a pink silk parasol with lace on top, we are constrained to study the rest of her apparel with interest. In at least ninety cases out of a hundred she is found to be simply and daintily dressed in clothes made of fine cotton goods, sparingly trimmed with hand-made laces and sewed by hand. Much attention is given to little hand-made tucks on her finer clothes, while simple stitchery is employed on all of them, including the dependable gingham and other sturdy cottons that clothe her for her daily business of living.

White dotted swiss makes the pretty little frock shown in the picture. It hangs straight from the neck down, its fullness taken up by small tucks. An opening part way down the front is fastened with crocheted buttons. The round neck and bottom of the skirt are bordered with a narrow edge of daisy lace, and three wide tucks above the hem give the skirt a sprightly flare.

A little hat to match uses the dotted swiss over a silk-covered frame and the daisy lace edges the brim. Narrow ribbon, which may be in any color, makes a collar and tie for the hat, and a little bow of it adorns the front of the dress. Such transparent fabrics are often worn over colored under-slips. Batiste, voile and crepe de chine are used for frocks of this character and colored linens.

White hose stockings and patent leather slippers are approved in the company of all such finery.

UTILITY COATS FOR SPRING BRING PLEASANT SURPRISES

COATS for spring have brought with them some delightful surprises. They have made their appearance in the new colors and mixtures in a very wide range of styles, and these styles are very smart. They are designed with an eye always looking in the direction of utility, even when the colors are something entirely new in the realms of coats. But the most astonishing thing of all is that they may lay claim to being inexpensive—as costs $8.

All the time-honored, informal, wool fabrics are here, but in new colors and soft weaves. There is a goodly company made up of wool jersey, in plain and checked weaves, tweeds, home-spuns and soft Scotch wools in shawl patterns. They are concurring with more modern coatings that have flourished for the past few seasons and will continue to flourish so one knows how long.

There are many cape-like styles in the spring showings which are classed as coats only because some clever designer has known how to gracefully inroduce a pair of sleeves into a cape. A coat belonging to this group is shown at the left of the picture. It is a handsome affair, following faithfully the dictates of the mode in length, lines and decoration. This last is an effective embroidery of braid and silk on the sleeves and back of the garment.

Whatever the need of its wearer, she will find a friend in the smart coat at the right, with its popular sailor collar, finished with wool fringes and tassels. It is a spirited model and carries off well the metallic grids that serves to hold it in place and, incidentally, to give it a tulle-like finish.

Speaking of girdles, they are worth considering, for they speed up simple frocks and caps, redressing them in some cases, from being commonplace.

HEADQUARTERS DETACHMENT, FIRST BATTALION 117th FIELD ARTILLERY NEWS

Youngsville, July 21.—An officers school was held in the Armory club room Wednesday and Thursday nights of last week, and will be held every Thursday and Friday night until August 4.

The object of this school is to fit the officers for their work by the time they reach camp. It is especially for the non-commissioned officers, most of whom have had very little experience in their work. But regardless of experience these officers are rapidly grasping the instructions which are so well and thoroughly explained by Captain Underwood.
